Grain and Milling.

J. A. Breckon has commenced to buy grain at Whitewood, Assa.

Macaulay, Higginbottom & Co., are erecting a grain warehouse, at Whitewood, Assa.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange has now ninety members. When the membership reaches one hundred the entrance fee will likely be raised to $100.

Another treat is in store for the trade, as we see it announced that the Northwestern Miller is preparing for the publication of its annual holiday number.

The big flour mill at Keowatin is said to be improving the prospects of the place. The milling company has lately erected cottages for employes, and a large elevator is also in course of erection. The barrel factory in connection with the mill will be in operation in a few days.

Port Arthur Sentinel: Greey, of Greey Bros., Toronto, who has been here for some time past looking into the advantages of the town as a site for the establishment of a flouring mill, has left for the east. He was well pleased with what he saw and especially with the water power, which could be used to advantage. Instead of making a proposition at the present time, Mr. Greey preferred to go home and consult his partner and if they decide to erect a mill here, they will have the plans prepared and will then submit a formal proposition to the council with a view to a bonus.

Territorial Legislature.

The Territorial Assembly met at Regina on Wednesday last. In the Governor's address, reference was made to the progress of legislation toward full provincial government, and to the work of revising the ordinances. Among other things the Governor said:—Reports have reached me, leading me to infer that the existing legislation regarding prairie fires is not sufficient for the suppression of the evil, and I therefore earnestly hope that, when all the facts have been ascertained, our united efforts may result in the passing of some measure which will prove as complete and effective as experience and mature deliberation can make it.

A bill respecting vital statistics will be submitted to you, which, it is hoped will prove the forerunner of a simple and effective system of general statistics.

I would now point out to you the desirability of devising means, by which the cause of temperance may be most effectually served, consistently with your rights and duties as British subjects and free men. It is to be borne in mind that legislation cannot be expected to make men honest, sober and wise. Sobriety is a virtue, the practice of which is taught and inculcated by religion, the law addressing itself to the prevention or the punishment of crime or vice in so far as public order is attacked or threatened. Whether exceptional legislation is to be continued or not is a matter upon which you, as representatives of the people, have the sole right to speak with any degree of authority. I shall be happy to transmit to the Honorable the Privy Council at Ottawa any resolution or representation with respect to the temperance question, that you may think fit to pass, and which will, I have no doubt, receive at the hands of the Dominion Government all due consideration.
