

As an initial step toward applying performance indicators, Australia proposes that the guidelines for preparation of Annex I countries' national communications be amended to encourage countries undertaking work on performance indicators to report on their experiences.

Building on this approach, Australia proposes that SBSTA should consider development of a set of common performance indicators for application by Annex I Parties.