

ners, do in this our great distress cry unto Thee for help: save, Lord, or else we perish. We confess that when we have been safe, and seen all things quiet and plentiful about us, we have forgotten Thee our God, and refused to hear the still voice of Thy word, and to obey Thy commandments: but now we see how terrible Thou art in all Thy works of wonder, and the great God to be feared above all: and therefore we adore Thy divine majesty, acknowledging Thy power, and imploring Thy goodness. We are a little flock, far removed from the habitations of our fellow-men; and very dependent are we on Thy fatherly hand, O our God. Help us then, Lord, in this our hour of need, and save us for Thy mercy's sake in Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord. Amen.

THE following extract is from the Church Newspaper—

“On the 29th of January, at a place nine or ten miles from Melbourne village, upon the borders of Ely, a congregation, to the number of about fifty persons, met in a decent frame house, the dwelling of an Irish farmer of the name of Armstrong, which afforded a convenience from its unfinished state; for although they were in three different rooms, and the staircase was occupied besides, the bishop was audible to all,
