

La Charité est bienfaisante.—(1 Cor. 13, 4.)

ANSWER TO SOME DIFFICULTIES.

We are asked perhaps how, in the midst of this general enthusiasm and eagerness to receive and propagate the Holy Childhood, there are still some generous hearts who have not adopted this liberal work. It is because they are hindered by pretended difficulties which are in reality but phantoms. We are not rich they say; we have other works; we are afraid to do harm to the Propagation of the Faith; we have no time; we find difficulties; we receive no encouragement; we do not like to assist strange missionaries we do not find constancy enough. A word in answer to these objections, and we will see them disappear of themselves.
