REDMOND'S HOT WORDS.

He Turned His Oratorical Guns First on Mr. Gladstone.

SAYS THE G. O. M. BETRAYED IRELAND.

First General Convention of the Irish Independent League.

Cheers Given for the Stars and Stripes—John Redmond Was Vigorous Enough in His Language but William Redmond Grew Furious—Called England a Bully, a Pirate and a Savage—Her "Bloody Flag" Has Been Advanced by "Plundering and Destroying Poor People"—Anti-Tax Riots of a Serious Nature in Rome—Cable News.

London, Oct. 11.—The first general national convention of the Irish Independent League, organized by Mr. John Redmond, M.P., the Parnellite leader, opened this afternoon in the Ancient concert rooms here. Eight hundred enthusiastic delegates packed the hall and actively participated in cheering vociferously every point in the speeches. Mr. Redmond characterized Mr. Gladstone as "The Englishman who betrayed Ireland."

All the speeches paid tribute to the patriotism of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, and warm cheers greeted the entrance of the Redmonds, John Parnell and Patrick O'Brien into the hall. Every possible effort was made to organize a thoroughly representative convention. Invitations were issued to all corporations, town commissioners, poor law guardians, foresters, members of the Gaelic athletic clubs, literary societies, amnesty associations, national bands, trades and trades councils, registration associations, Young Ireland associations and national and workingmen's clubs.

Cheers for Stars and Stripes.

Alderman John Reilly read a telegram from the Independent Irishmen of Boston, Mass., which said: "We stand by Parnell's policy, and urge the Government to disgorge its plunder in the face of the distress existing, and we send $100 as evidence of our good faith."

The reading of this message was followed by three cheers for the Stars and Stripes.

Mr. John Redmond in a long speech denounced the Liberals for abandoning Home Rule, and declared that the only hope of Ireland was in independent action, without any alliance with the English parties. Mr. Redmond said there could be no reconciliation with the Dillonites unless the latter and their Liberal allies reinstated Home Rule as the first plank in their platform, and promised to appeal to the country if the House of Lords defeated Home Rule.

Resolutions Passed.

Resolutions were adopted reaffirming that the Irish question can only be settled by the concession of national self-government, and calling upon all members of Parliament who "for the last few years have pursued a mistaken policy" to "rejoin the Independent party, unite upon the principles of Charles Stewart Parnell, and demand the release of the political prisoners, as an act of simple justice and humanity."

Resolutions were also adopted, urging the Irish everywhere to commemorate the centenary of 1798, denouncing the Government for repudiating the report of the Royal Commission on the financial relations between Great Britain and Ireland, expressing regret at the necessity of raising a Parnellite fund, and calling upon Irishmen generally to respond to the appeal and "thereby remove from Ireland the stigma of ingratitude for the priceless services and devotion" of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, and "calling upon Messrs. Dillon, Davitt and Harrington to repay, out of the portion of the Paris fund allocated for that purpose, the £5000 due to the Parnell estate."

Mr. Louis Stuyvesant Chanler made a speech, asserting that the Irish would never achieve Home Rule until they were united, and expressed the opinion that they should not ally themselves with the Tories or Liberals, "because both the English Government and Englishmen are never just and never do a generous act unless forced to do it by fear."

Hot Words Against England.

The climax of the convention was reached during the speech delivered by William Redmond, M. P. Incidentally he said that when the Dillonites rejected Parnell they "alienated the United States, thus killing the goose which laid the golden egg." Mr. Redmond said he would never walk into any room to be controlled by Dillon and Healy, though he was for unity, adding: "With all the royal processions through our streets it is time for Irishmen to say something. The great mass of the Irish people are to-day, and will be until liberty is given them, the enemies of England. England is a bully, a pirate and a savage. Whether in India or in Africa, the bloody flag of the British Empire has been advanced by plundering and destroying poor people. Our sympathy goes out to these poor people. God bless them and give success to their efforts. Three cheers for the men in India who are fighting England."

"Down With Britain!"

The delegates thereupon climbed upon their seats and shouted: "Down with Britain!"

There was much denunciation of Great Britain's proposal to give Ireland a Catholic university. The participation of the priests in politics was also denounced and the Healyites were denounced as the "assassins of Parnell."

There was no discord whatever, the resolutions were all adopted with enthusiasm, and the reading of a telegram from the Irish Independent League of New York was heartily cheered.

The proceedings of the convention were finished this evening and the predictions made of a revolt against the leadership of John Redmond proved entirely unfounded. The delegates cheered him enthusiastically and on the adjournment they warmly praised his speech, pronouncing it to be a most able outline of the policy of the Irish Independent League.

Japan and the Conference.

London, Oct. 11.—An official telegram received here from Yokohama says that Japan accepted the invitation to send a representative to the sealing conferences, shortly to be held in Washington, on the understanding that the whole sealing question is to be discussed and not simply the questions which are covered by the Paris award, Japan having no interest in the Pribyloff Islands.

Blanco's Intentions.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—General Ramon Blanco, the new Captain-General of Cuba, announces that he will act with great energy against the insurgents, and will employ all political means to restore equality of treatment in the various sections of the community. The Captain-General adds that he has the greatest desire to end the horrors of war and to establish peace by the system which he adopted in 1879.

The inhabitants of Palma, the birthplace of General Weyler, are preparing to give him an ovation on his return to his home.

WILL CALL EVERYBODY OUT.

Four Hundred Thousand Workmen Will Quit Work in England.

London, Oct. 11.—The secretary of the Federated Trades, comprising 30 important industries, announces that the Executive Committee has definitely decided to call out all its members, in sympathy with the struggle of the engineers against their employers, on Friday next, when it is estimated that a total of four hundred thousand will be out of work on account of the great labor dispute.

The Executive Committee of the Amalgamated Engineers' Society threaten to withdraw the engineers in the ocean mail service in the event of a continuance of the present dispute.

Marlborough Heir's Christening.

London, Oct. 11.—The heir to the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, born on Sept. 18, will be baptized on Saturday next at the Chapel Royal, St. James' Palace. The Prince of Wales will act as sponsor and the Princess of Wales will attend the ceremony if she is in London at the time.

ANTI-TAX RIOT IN ROME.

Angry Shouts Followed by a Raid of Police and a Serious Fight.

Rome, Oct. 11.—A large procession of tradesmen, headed by the pro-syndic of Rome and the President of the Chamber of Commerce, marched to the office of the Minister of the Interior this afternoon, to protest against, and confer with the Government regarding, the increased taxation. Premier Rudini, who is also Minister of the Interior, received a committee representing the tradesmen and promised that all possible would be done to promote friendly relations and greater equity between the tax collectors and tax payers.

In the meanwhile a large crowd of people had collected around the Ministry, angry shouts were heard and some of those present tore up paving stones and otherwise assumed a very threatening attitude. This caused the police to make an attempt to disperse the violent portion of the crowd, and in the conflict which followed six policemen were injured and one rioter was killed.

The mob raised revolutionary cries while the fighting was in progress, revolvers were freely used, many persons in the crowd were injured and twenty of the leaders of the disturbance were arrested. The condition of three of the wounded policemen is serious.

MRS. NACK WEAKENS.

Willing to Tell All She Knows About the Murder if Allowed to Plead Guilty of Manslaughter.

New York, Oct. 11.—The World to-morrow will say: Through her counsel, Lawyer Emanuel M. Friend, Mrs. Augusta Nack has sent word to District Attorney Youngs of Queen's County that she is ready to tell all she knows about the murder of William Guldensuppe. Mrs. Nack asks in return that the authorities allow her to plead guilty to manslaughter in the first degree. The maximum sentence for this offence, if accepted, will be imprisonment in State Prison at hard labor for 20 years.

District Attorney Youngs has thus far refused to consider the proposition made by the woman. He is willing, however, to accept a plea of murder in the second degree, which would carry with it a sentence of life imprisonment.

DEATH OF REV. CANON CHANCE.

He Was a Church of England Missionary Among the Indians of Bruce County and a Most Useful Man.

Paisley, Ont., Oct. 11.—This morning early saw the close of a most useful life in the death of Rev. Canon Chance, father-in-law of Dr. McArton. He was born in Amblecote, on the banks of the Stour, Worcestershire, England, educated at the Endowed school of Red Hill and at the College of Cheltenham, but before graduating he received an urgent call to undertake missionary work among the Indians on the north shores of Lakes Huron and Superior. Accepting this call he left England in 1853, under the auspices of the S.P.G., with the promise of ordination in Canada, and was subsequently ordained by the first Bishop of Toronto, Right Rev. John Strachan, making his home at Garden River. He was the only missionary of the Church of England in that vast country other than Dr. O'Meara, Government chaplain to the Indians of Manitoulin Islands.

He declined the offer, in 1870, of Georgetown, Ont., Church, also the mission of Kanyungch among the Six Nations, by Bishop Cronyn of Huron diocese, not feeling justified in then leaving the Indians. In 1871 he was again requested by Bishop Cronyn, and seconded by Hon. Mr. Botsford, to accept their offered charge. This time he yielded, leaving Garden River. Upon his removal from Toronto to Huron diocese he and his wife were tendered a hearty vote of thanks by the synod for valuable services to the Indians. He labored most successfully in his new mission from 1871 to 1879, when he was appointed by Bishop Hellmuth to the parish of Paisley and Pinkerton.

In 1890 he was made, by Right Rev. M. S. Baldwin, Lord Bishop of Huron, a Canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, London. On Sept. 29 he was stricken with paralysis of the left side, remaining conscious until Oct. 9, after which he was unable to speak. He has been most dear to many Paisley people, and had done great good here for his Master's cause. The funeral will leave here Wednesday morning via G.T.R. for Tryconnel.

DYING FROM AN ABSCESS.

The Excitement of a Fire Caused it to Break and Now the Old Man is Improving—Winnipeg Notes.

Winnipeg, Oct. 11. — (Special.) — George Gooderham of Toronto, who has been visiting the city for some time, left for the west to-day.

Old man Frederick Huggins, aged 77 years, was in the burned-out section near Beausejour, and was not expected to live for days before the fire. When the fire came he was carried out on the river bank, where he remained without shelter 24 hours, the excitement broke an abscess, from which he was suffering, and brought relief. In carrying him out he was burned about the foot and back. He is now in the General Hospital here and much improved. This makes nine sufferers under treatment in the city.

WHERE IS THE MONEY?

Strange Story About Unsigned Notes at North Bay.

WHO WERE THE THREE MYSTERIOUS MEN?

Detectives Claim There's Nothing In It, but It May Be a Clue.

How Did Some of the Stolen Money Get to Montreal?—A Point Worth Investigation by the Authorities—The Preliminary Trial of Young Ponton Will be Continued at Napanee To-Day—Mrs. Blewett, it is Said, Will Corroborate Mrs. McGreer—What Were the Figures on the Slip of Paper in Ponton's Handwriting?—What Card Have the Detectives Still Got?

A man, whose name is withheld for the present but whose reputation for veracity has been vouched for by a gentleman known to The World, called at this office yesterday afternoon and communicated some information which may be of the greatest use in tracing the thieves who robbed the vault of the Dominion Bank's branch at Napanee. The man in question, who has just come to Toronto from North Bay, says he has no interest in W. H. Ponton, the young teller who has been arrested by the authorities in Napanee.

Who Were They?

One day last week, it appears from the story told The World, three young men wearing sweaters, which ill became them owing to their genteel appearance, arrived at North Bay. They registered at the Queen's Hotel in that town as coming from Belleville. They said they had been employed at Gilmour's at Canoe Lake, and had gone to Scotia Junction, on the Parry Sound Railway, where they had taken the train for North Bay. They pretended that they wanted to go to British Columbia, and asked if anyone in North Bay was employing men to work on the Crow's Nest Pass road. The men were directed to an ex-hotelkeeper, who was taking on men for this work. The agent told them that all that could be guaranteed was $1.50 per day, while their board in British Columbia would cost them $4.50 per week. They replied that they did not care what wages were paid, and said they would go West.

A $10 Bill Unsigned.

Now comes the interesting end of the story. One of the party was buying drinks at the bar of the Queen's Hotel, and in payment therefor produced a wad of brand new bank bills about two or three inches thick when laid out that and tendered a $10 Dominion Bank bill in payment. The newness of the bill and the size of it attracted the attention of Jim White, the barkeeper, and on looking at it he noticed that the usual signature was not on it. He declined to take the bill, in the belief that it was not good legal tender. Other money was paid for the drinks.

White's Suspicions Arose.

At this time the bar-keeper, who is not a reader of newspapers, hadn't heard of the big bank robbery at Napanee, and he did not know of it till a day or two after, when the three men had departed for the West. It was only afterwards, when told about the unsigned bills, that the circumstance struck Barkeeper White as strange, and also when he considered the size of the wad the man had. White related this circumstance to George Ayers, a Canadian Express Company messenger; A. E. Williamson, a merchant from Midland, and The World's informant, who happened to be together in the Queen's Hotel in North Bay a day or two ago.

The World's informant also stated that it was reported in North Bay that one of these unsigned bills was offered to another hotel man in North Bay and refused. In the second case the bank authorities in Toronto were notified, but they said there was nothing in it, as these fellows were not the men who robbed the bank.

Was It Investigated?

The foregoing story is given for just what it is worth. It may mean a great deal in untangling this complicated case and it may not. Detective Greer, who is in Toronto, says there is nothing in it, but he did not say that the story had been investigated. The World telegraphed to its North Bay correspondent, but up till a late hour no confirmation of the story could be had. Our reporter in Napanee was also instructed to interview the Pinkertons, and Wilkes of the Pinkerton force replied that there was nothing in it. Lawyer Porter, for the defence, knows nothing of it. But The World would like to know if, when the prosecution heard of this strange circumstance, did they investigate it? Now, it appears that two of the unsigned bills of the numbers stolen from Napanee turned up at Banks in Montreal. If this is true this lends color to the story from North Bay, because North Bay is in direct line with Montreal on the C. P. R., and the bills may have been accepted by people en route to Montreal and there put into circulation.

AT NAPANEE.

What Were the Figures on That Slip of Paper?

Napanee, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The small piece of paper containing figures, which was produced in evidence against Ponton on Saturday, is looked upon by the detectives as important, inasmuch as by it they may be able to trace a packet of the missing bills. The explanation by the defence that Ponton made up the deposit slip as a specification of a certain packet of bills is quite plausible, but there is a possibility that it might have been one of the stolen packages. Whether any one package of stolen money contained an amount that would agree with the figures is known only to the authorities, and they are still very reticent regarding giving information.

Ponton Has an Alibi.

It is stated that the defence, in the event of the prisoner's commitment for trial, can account for Ponton's whereabouts on the night of the robbery very easily, and that, although it will be unpleasant evidence for Ponton to have to produce, he will be able to do it.

Detective Dougherty, one of the Pinkerton men who is working on the case, is of opinion that a most valuable witness for the defence would be any man who was able to open the combination of a safe when he did not know what the combination was. The detective does not seem to think that there is such a man, although he is not absolutely positive. Even if a man is most expert in the safe business, the officer thinks it hardly likely that he could open a safe when he knew nothing whatever about the combination.

Mrs. Blewett's Evidence.

Mrs. Blewett, the witness on account of whose illness the prosecution asked the remand, has been unwell for some time, but will, it is expected, be able to attend and give her evidence to-morrow. If not, Lawyer Deroche said that the magistrate would in all probability wait upon the witness at her residence, which is directly over the Dominion Bank, and take her evidence. In conversation with The World, Mr. Deroche acquiesced that Mrs. Blewett's evidence will be to some extent in corroboration of that of Mrs. McGreer, given on Saturday. On the night of the robbery Mrs. Blewett heard a sort of crashing noise similar to that which awoke Mrs. McGreer. It was probably the same noise that disturbed Mrs. McGreer, for it occurred at about the same time, and was apparently in the bank.

A Mysterious Visit.

There is a story afloat around town which, if true, will explain Detective Wilkes' visit to the neighborhood of Orillia last week. It appears that when Ponton's effects were searched a photograph of a mulatto was found, and it was looked upon as a clue. Some of Ponton's friends said the original of the photograph was a clever boxer, with whom the accused, who was an all-round athlete, had sometimes sparred when up north. Detective Wilkes says there is nothing in the story and that his visit was of another nature altogether.

Money for the Defence.

Mrs. Ponton, mother of the accused, is still the guest of Judge Wilkinson here, and is said to have to-day received a letter from a very wealthy Belleville lady, containing a most generous offer regarding funds for the defence of Ponton, should the case go to trial.

W. H. Green, who testified on Saturday, has gone back to Guelph.

A number of townspeople offered to pay the expenses of two constables and to furnish most substantial bail sureties if the prisoner would be allowed to stay at the Paisley House until the investigation was resumed.

Much Supposition.

Detective Wilkes went away this morning and returned this evening. According to supposition, and suppositions are floating around in carload lots, he was in Belleville, but such was not the case. He was in Kingston. The Belleville rumor was in connection with a $50 bill which Mr. Porter had changed last Tuesday at Thompson's Express Office in Belleville. The bill was on the Dominion Bank, and Mr. Porter was informed that inquiries were being made regarding it. The World asked Mr. Porter last night if there was anything in the matter, and he replied that he had changed the bill, which he had received from a lady client outside of the Ponton case, and that he had been told since that enquiries were being made about it.

To Go On To-Day.

Lawyers, detectives, witnesses and others engaged in the bank robbery case are arriving back in town to-night, prepared to continue the preliminary investigation. The community still refuse to entertain any idea of the guilt of the accused and some of his friends are to-night talking of arrangements to give him a great reception if he is acquitted. The prosecution are just as positive of a committal.

There seems to be no doubt that the detectives have a big card they have not yet played.
