THREE HUNDRED AT BANQUET TABLES AS ST. PETER'S Y. M. A. CELEBRATES

Enjoy Reminiscences by Founder; Urged to Keep Up Work.

A banquet held last evening by St. Peter's Y. M. A. in honor of its founder, Rev. Joseph Borgmann, C. S. R., who for eighteen years was also their spiritual advisor, was one of the most elaborate and successful ever held in the history of the association. It was held in the basement of St. Peter's church and was attended by more than 300 past and present members. The members marched from their rooms to the banquet hall, where a tempting repast prepared by ladies of the parish awaited them.

At the head table Father Borgmann occupied the seat of honor, while sitting with him were Rev. Father Hogan, rector of St. Peter's church and the present spiritual advisor of the association, and Rev. Fathers Hill, McElrath, McCullough, O'Hara, McCormick and Wojciechowski, also Brother Norbert and Brother Eugene, the latter recently appointed to St. Peter's parish from St. Patrick's church in Quebec.

Former presidents sat at the heads of the tables. The hymn "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name" was sung, and then the corps of fair waitresses, comprising mothers, daughters and sisters of members served the tempting meal. Between courses old-time songs were sung with a zest that denoted the spirit of good fellowship that prevailed.

The hall was artistically decorated, the society's colors, green and white, predominating. The frosting on the cake, the ice cream and even the side dishes were arranged with an artistic touch setting forth the association colors.

President A. Codrè, after a hearty welcome to all, named John G. Burke, the first president of the Y. M. A., as toast master. The latter, proposing a toast to the church, coupled with it the name of Rev. Father Hogan, who spoke briefly but feelingly, and eloquently brought home to all the important part the church plays in their lives.

"Our Distinguished Guest" was spoken to by William J. Shea, who briefly dealt with the work of the founder of the Y. M. A.

Father Borgmann arose amid prolonged applause and humorous manner characterized his remarks as being, "Another speech from the throne." He prefaced his remarks with "Twenty-five steps with silver lining lead to the throne of glory," and then carried his audience back to the days of the Christian Brothers through whose efforts the St. Joseph's F. M. A. and St. Aloysius societies were formed. He told facts, unknown to many present, and with his gift of oratory held his audience deeply interested. He said the societies around the body, mind and soul of the youths and he eulogized the endeavors of the Christian Brothers in this regard. He portrayed the effects of this training on the members; some following their early teachings developing into leading lights in various spheres of life, while others, lured on by ambition, lost sight of the training and eventually drifted to the sea of infidelity and through the loss of religious principles became a menace to society.

The speaker then told of the founding of St. Aloysius Society and in 1898 the organization and the changing of the name to St. Peter's. He traced the growth, recounted occasions when storm clouds had arisen, and said difficulties had been overcome. He said the members should thank God for all the graces He had showered down on them and he congratulated them on the success accomplished.

THREE NEW MARKS SET. Fly and Bait Casters Set World's Records at National Tourney.

Denver, Col., Aug. 22.—Three world records were broken by fly and bait casters competing in the national tournament being held by the National Association of Scientific Angling Clubs in the pool of the sunken gardens here.

G. G. Chett of Chicago established a world record in the accuracy fly contest when he made a perfect score of 100. The previous record was 99.14-15.

William Stanley of Chicago won the one-half ounce accuracy bait competition, setting a new record of 99.8.

Fred Arbogast of Akron, Ohio, with an average cast of 237.4-5 feet with the one-half ounce distance bait, shattered the record of 220 feet 10 inches, made by him last year at Cleveland.

His longest cast of 284 feet was the greatest ever made in a tournament, according to officials.

THE PRICE OF GASOLINE. (Ottawa Journal.) Gasoline has been selling as low as five cents per gallon in the United States, as the result of wholly extraordinary and more or less local conditions.

The Governor of South Dakota bought 160,000 gallons, and put it on the home market at 16 cents per gallon. This led to a price war between big interests and small throughout the western and southwestern States, and at some points in Oklahoma the nickel rate was reached.

Back of this episode lies the fact that a tremendous surplus of crude petroleum has been accumulated. During a single week in July, that accumulation proceeded at the rate of over half a million barrels per day. At the same time a 15 per cent. saving has been developed in the cost of manufacture.

The price of gasoline in Canada has not changed. In making a comparison, however, it should be remembered that our standard gallon is about 25 per cent. larger than the American one, as we are dependent on the United States for the bulk of our supply, the cost of transportation comes in as an important factor. Viewing the matter from all angles, however, the hope seems warranted that motor fuel will be cheaper. The 380,000,000 gallons of surplus across the line cannot be kept off the market indefinitely.

To Be Sure. Shopper: "What color have you in window blinds?" Clerk: "Window blinds are all shades ma'am."—Lemon Punch.

which is a Summer resort for campers and in the Winter a habitat of cures of the companies which annually cut ice on the lake. The house, the sheriff said upon reaching Nyack, has not been used for several years and is in a state of disrepair.

No Alexander P. Achimore was to be found in the latest issue of the New York City Directory. The telephone number found on the check book proved to be that of the United Electric Light & Power Company, with offices at 180 East Fifth street.

WHERE SALMON IS KING. Kwakiutl Indians Depend on It for Prosperity.

What the "cricket on the hearth" is to the English housewife, so is the salmon to the Kwakiutl Indians of British Columbia, an oasis of prosperity, happiness and content.

Sir J. Fraser, the noted ethnologist, who has lived among this tribe for many years, says that "a failure of the salmon for a single season means famine and desolation, silence in the village and sad hearts about the fire."

Several nights later, according to the sheriff, the notes were repeated. Then returning to their camp one afternoon the campers found that some of their food supplies had disappeared. They uttered loud voiced complaints about this, they told the sheriff.

The following day one of the camping party, going to the house where the body was discovered found a check for $2 lying on a table. A note beside the check read as follows:

"I have heard your complaints about the missing food. Here is a check in payment for same."

The check, Sheriff Brown said, was signed Alexander P. Achimore. It was said last night, has been missing from his Brooklyn home for several months. The sheriff said that when this check was presented at a Nyack bank for cancellation it was found to be a forgery.

Soon after the check had been received by the bank in Brooklyn the sheriff said, an effort was made by relatives of the "Alexander P. Achimore," who signed the check, to find the man. A letter was forwarded to the campers, asking for information as to the whereabouts of Achimore, but since the campers were receiving the letter knew nothing of their mysterious visitor, they were unable to furnish the desired information.

Sheriff Brown said tonight that neither of the families whose names he declined to reveal, were able to remember the address of the supposed Brooklyn relatives of "Achimore" as the letter had been torn up and scattered soon after its receipt.

When the body was found today the sheriff and the County Physician went to the Interstate Park Reservation and examined the body. One of the pockets of the dead man's coat they discovered a letter addressed to Alexander P. Achimore from the Seventh Regiment. The letter, the sheriff said, did not indicate whether Achimore was a member of the regiment, but it was assumed he was.

The sheriff also found a checkbook of the Title Guaranty and Trust Company with one blank missing, the check stub relating to the $2 blank check that $2 had been drawn. On this stub had been written the telephone number "Stuyvesant 4980."

It was learned that the two families living on the premises went there the first part of June, but went away over a period of two weeks beginning a fortnight ago. In their stead there lived in the place a family of ten persons, including a woman 84 years old.

They left last week, saying they could no longer live in the place because of stagnant odors.

The Seventh Regiment is in camp at Peekskill. Sheriff Brown, who communicated with officers of the regiment last night, was unable to learn whether an Alexander P. Achimore was a member of the regiment. It was explained that the regiment rolls were not available and that the information probably would not be obtained for the sheriff until some time today.

Rockland lake is eight miles from Nyack. The house where the body was found is in a secluded section, apart from the town of Rockland Lake.

FREDERICTONS WIN AND LOSE

Defeat Vets, But are Easily Defeated by the St. Peters Nines.

Two games were played in the Two I League here yesterday, one in the afternoon between Fredericton and the G. W. V. A. nine and the other in the evening between St. Peter's and the Capital nine. The former was won by Fredericton 4 to 2 and the latter by St. Peter's 9 to 0.

In the afternoon a good brand of ball was played despite the fact that weather conditions were more ideal for football than baseball. Paynter for the Capital boys, while touched for nine hits kept them pretty well scattered. Tippetts allowed only six hits, but walked six men and this and costly errors were responsible for his defeat. Owing to the late arrival of the Fredericton boys from Moncton and some dispute between the managers, the game did not start until after 4 o'clock.

In the evening the game went only six and a half innings and developed into a listless and uninteresting contest. St. Peter's played well, but Fredericton's was humdrum. The box score and summaries of the games follow:
