Your Headache. May perhaps be relieved by lying down and sleeping it off because the eyes are thus rested. But this does not effect a cure. When you remember that about ninety per cent of all headaches are a direct result of eye-strain, you will readily understand how a few hours complete rest such as the eyes receive when you are asleep will relieve that strain, and the resulting headache. If you are subject to headaches, come in and find out whether the trouble is in your eyes or not. Our careful examination will determine that for you definitely.

WOMAN SAW THIEVES GET AWAY WITH GEMS VALUED AT $300,000

New York, March 17--The cracksmen who tunneled their way through heavy brick and concrete walls, avoiding a network of burglar alarm wires, and stole $300,000 worth of diamonds from the safe of Martin Simons & Son's pawn shop in the east side were seen in flight with their booty by a woman. This the police announced today. This woman lives in the tenement adjoining the pawnshop. She told the detectives that she was coming down stairs about 10 o'clock yesterday morning when a stranger came up from the cellar. He carried an acetylene lamp. She followed him to street and saw another man drive up in a light wagon. Into the wagon the first man placed the lamp. He then went back to the cellar and returned in a few moments with another lamp and a parcel. He placed these in the wagon and both men drove away. The parcel, the police believe, contained the fortune in gems taken from the safe.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, March 17--For the first time 500 rounds of ball cartridges have been fired successfully from a machine gun on the upper deck of Zepplin airship. The gun was handled with ease and precision, although the wind was blowing at the rate of forty-five miles an hour. MODERN SLAVE MARKETS

Places Where Human Beings Are Sold by Auction. A great deal of indignation was caused the other day when a relieving officer in Wales said that a man had told him that he intended to make an application to the board of trade for permission to sell his children. According to the relieving officer, this man said that "he was selling his children at present, and he believed that his children would also sell well if put up to auction." Such callousness on the part of a father is almost unbelievable in civilized Britain, says the Times, and it will no doubt astonish people to hear that in many parts of the world the selling of human beings as in the days of slavery is still going on. A former woman police assistant in Germany created a big sensation last year when she alleged that hundreds of children are sold annually in the Fatherland. The children are sold at prices varying from £15 to £200, most of them being sent to Russia. In Germany, so it was ascertained, the sale of boys and girls is not confined to parents who are occasionally sold, the prices varying from £250 to £500. Apparently the police do nothing to stop this scandalous state of things.

TO YOUNG WIVES

"An old married woman" offers the following advice to young wives:--"One of the greatest mistakes a young wife makes is to try to live after marriage in accordance with some programme drawn up by herself before the wedding. The attempt is nearly always disastrous for the man who appears so pliant and so accommodating before marriage is very apt afterwards to show that he has a will of his own and often some small, stubborn prejudices. The result is that the wife's little plan is rudely upset. All this might be avoided if the wife were wise enough to ask the opinion of her husband on all matters relating to the home. Often he will have no knowledge of the matters on which his advice is asked; but the mere fact that he has been consulted will cause him to agree with his wife, and she will get her own way, which, in nine cases out of ten, she would not do by acting without reference to her husband's views. And this is not due merely to some people's dislike to quarrel and obstinacy on the man's part. It is rather because, with his practical masculine logic, he sees that in a partnership of any kind one partner should not act in any matter that concerns both without consulting the other."

IS POSTPONED

The meeting of the commissioners with representatives from the different manufacturers at Fairville in regard to the division of lost along the Gypsy Settlement road for workmen's homes, which was to take place tomorrow, has been postponed for a few days to await the reports from labor organizations who are interested in the matter. MARRIED YOUNG. An amusing story happened some time ago in one of the Paris courts of justice. A vain, haughty, woman was called as a witness, when the magistrate inquired her age. "Twenty-five last August," promptly replied the lady. The next witness was a young man, who at once acknowledged that he was twenty-seven years of age. "Are you related to the last witness?" queried the magistrate. "Yes," I am her son," he replied. "Ah!" mused the magistrate, "your mother must have married very young."

GOVERNMENT PRESTIGE IS BADLY SHATTERED

Whether or not consideration of the naval bill will be resumed today depends upon the length of time given to the Corriere charges. The case of the opposition party is somewhat weakened by the fact that a couple of their witnesses against the minister have left the country. It is understood that the disposition of the government is to dispose of the matter in the house and not refer it to a committee. There is no disposition of either side to think that the fight on the naval bill is by any means over. The Liberals say that it will never be allowed to go through if the tactics adopted by the government on Saturday are persisted in, and that more serious scenes are liable to result if the chair rules to stop discussion. The Conservatives say the bill must go through, even if it is necessary to introduce a closure rule. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was questioned this morning in regard to a cable despatch to the effect that he would resign from the leadership of the Liberal party if he failed to force an election. He characterized the cable as ridiculous. Win or lose he proposed to stay with the light.

MOUNTAIN THREATENS TO FALL ON VILLAGE

Neuchâtel, Switzerland, March 17--A panic has broken out among the inhabitants of the village of Fleurier near Lake Neuchâtel in the shadow of Mount Caroline, the top of which is sliding slowly downward and threatening to overwhelm the place. The mass is moving at the rate of eight inches an hour. FREDERICTON NEWS. Fredericton, N. B., March 17--As a result of the heavy rains of the last few days the snow has nearly disappeared and wheels are again in use. The water in the Nashwauk has risen two feet, rather unusual so early in the season. Conservative temperance men of the city are backing Doctor B. C. Foster, principal of the High School, for the third position on the police commission. E. O'Brien late of F. B. Edgewood's establishment is to leave on Wednesday for Saskatoon to accept a situation. Frederick Dunn of this city, a veteran of the American civil war died in Pewama, Michigan, a short time ago. He left here in 1857. MUST TELL THEIR AGES. And German Actresses Ask Exemption From The Law. Actors and actresses in Germany have been placed in the awkward dilemma of being compelled to give their ages under the new imperial insurance act, and they have petitioned the Federal Council, through the German State Secretary, to release them from their predicament by amending the measure. The players pray the authorities to permit them to guard the dates of their births as professional secrets, declaring that it is not a mere question of vanity, but one of bread and butter, especially for the women, many of whom obtain engagements by reason of their talent being combined with a youthful appearance. The stage society first pleaded with the State Insurance Department, but the officials were obstinate, and the matter has now gone to the highest authority in the empire--New York Sun.
