

TO DEFEND HAVANA.

General Campos is Collecting His Troops Around Him to Defend the Capital.

The Insurgents Have the Popular Sympathy, and Are Avoiding Battles.

Havana, Jan. 8.—The Spanish officials assert that there is no probability of a fight in the near future between the Spanish troops and the insurgents now around Havana. The captain general is engaged in bringing westward all the troops available, and if this movement is completed it is not thought that the attack will be commenced. The insurgents, according to advices received from the outlying districts of Havana, are now moving westward in the province of Pinar del Rio, although a number of hopes and are crowding upon the quays watching with blanched and eager faces for the steamers to take them from the island. All sorts of craft are being utilized by the refugees who offer their last paces so long as the owners are willing to keep them from shore. The steamers which have cleared to-day are crowded to their utmost capacity with fleeing passengers. All the plans in the vicinity of Havana have been abandoned, grinding, with the exception of the Toledo canefields. This and the advance of the insurgents has caused an alarming exodus of families to Mariano and the larger sea ports.

A special to the World from Havana says: General Martinez de Campos said to-day that the principal reason why Gomez has been able to continue his raid successfully was that the country people get no information whatever to the Spanish generals. The Cuban patriots sympathize with the insurgents, and the Spaniards in the interior are afraid to give information of rebel movements. Another reason is that the insurgents never show fight. They avoid contact with my troops," General De Campos declared. The Journal this morning says: Mails from Cuba just received contain an interview with General Gomez, in which he said it was not his intention to capture Havana. He intends to make a demonstration and convince the world that the insurgents were complete masters of the island, and thus claim recognition by the powers. When Senor Tomas Estrada Palma was told of the report that Havana might be in the hands of the insurgents, he said: "It is delightful, but not surprising. I have known for some weeks that the intention of General Gomez was to mass his forces on Havana, and I am sure he has done so and won. Though I have heard nothing official in regard to the patriot occupation of Havana, I am sure the report is true. General Gomez has long contemplated the plan of shutting off the water supply of Havana and then attacking the city. He has probably destroyed the reservoir at Vento, and then charged upon the city. Senor Balsano, the Spanish consul, said he believed the whole story to be false. "How could a gang of half-dressed ruffians overcome the great army of Spain?" he said. "Campos is a soldier to allow his water supply to be cut off."

Detroit, Jan. 8.—Don M. Dickinson stated to-night that he had received a dispatch to the effect that the insurgents were practically entering the city of Havana. Mr. Dickinson, however, declines to state the sender's name, or the precise nature of the message. Commenting upon the fact that the Cubans are about to achieve their independence, Dickinson said: "Every member in the congress should be ashamed in shame that no steps were taken toward recognizing the state of war that has existed. The government of free Cuba must be recognized in form. It is impossible in the light of the refusal of congress to act, to say exactly why will be the relation of the United States to the new government. They owe us nothing; we have done them no service."

TERRORS OF AN ENGAGEMENT. Before Making the Announcement Study These Things.

The daughter of a wealthy household in close neighborhood to Central Park, is engaged to be married and the news of the engagement has been published. "We all wish it hadn't," says her father, "because since it has got out it has looked as though we would not be able to enjoy life or even stay in town. The mail we receive and the people who try to get in to see my wife or myself are such as to cause consternation. Both the letters and the visitors come from tradesmen who would like to furnish wedding supper (whether we want to have one or not), or to supply the china, ware or the cabs. They are from stationers who desire to print the cards, from engravers and jewelers, from dress makers and tailors and milliners, from caterers who will furnish waiters, napery, china, glass, plate—even a bridegroom if we run short, I imagine. The letters pile up beside my wife's plate every morning, and the most stylish engraved cards, bearing the names of men and women of whom we have never heard, are sent up to the distracted woman from the front door all day long. Interesting? Yes, very; especially the suggestion by a jeweler or two, that if we desire to swell the display of wedding presents of gold or silver or jewels, they can be had on hire."—New York Sun.

"Old, yet ever new, and simple and beautiful," says the poet, "is the word which might well apply to Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the most efficient and scientific blood-purifier ever offered to suffering humanity. Nothing but superior merit keeps it so long at the front."

Consumption. Valuable medicine and two bottles of medicine sent Free by Mail. Write to J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

Madrid, Jan. 6.—An official dispatch received here from Havana says that the march westward of the insurgents who has defeated General Navarro, who has arrested them. The Havana news recently received here has caused much excitement, and it is believed that further reinforcements will be dispatched to Cuba. The military authorities severely criticize Capt. Gen. Martinez de Campos for his conduct of the campaign, but the government appears determined to maintain him in command of the Spanish forces in Cuba.

New York, Jan. 8.—A special to the Journal from Havana says: The insurgent army is within sight of Havana, and the firing of musketry and cannon is plainly heard in the eastern suburbs. The trains that can be gotten into the city, on the few railroads that have not yet been destroyed by the patriots are loaded with refugees from the surrounding cities and villages. Hundreds of field hands have also arrived in Havana with their families. Some business men say they could see the insurgents blow up a railroad bridge immediately after the train had crossed, within a few miles of the city. Hundreds of families in the suburbs are still in flight, and have abandoned their homes and are crowding upon the quays watching with blanched and eager faces for the steamers to take them from the island. All sorts of craft are being utilized by the refugees who offer their last paces so long as the owners are willing to keep them from shore. The steamers which have cleared to-day are crowded to their utmost capacity with fleeing passengers. All the plans in the vicinity of Havana have been abandoned, grinding, with the exception of the Toledo canefields. This and the advance of the insurgents has caused an alarming exodus of families to Mariano and the larger sea ports.

A special to the World from Havana says: General Martinez de Campos said to-day that the principal reason why Gomez has been able to continue his raid successfully was that the country people get no information whatever to the Spanish generals. The Cuban patriots sympathize with the insurgents, and the Spaniards in the interior are afraid to give information of rebel movements. Another reason is that the insurgents never show fight. They avoid contact with my troops," General De Campos declared. The Journal this morning says: Mails from Cuba just received contain an interview with General Gomez, in which he said it was not his intention to capture Havana. He intends to make a demonstration and convince the world that the insurgents were complete masters of the island, and thus claim recognition by the powers. When Senor Tomas Estrada Palma was told of the report that Havana might be in the hands of the insurgents, he said: "It is delightful, but not surprising. I have known for some weeks that the intention of General Gomez was to mass his forces on Havana, and I am sure he has done so and won. Though I have heard nothing official in regard to the patriot occupation of Havana, I am sure the report is true. General Gomez has long contemplated the plan of shutting off the water supply of Havana and then attacking the city. He has probably destroyed the reservoir at Vento, and then charged upon the city. Senor Balsano, the Spanish consul, said he believed the whole story to be false. "How could a gang of half-dressed ruffians overcome the great army of Spain?" he said. "Campos is a soldier to allow his water supply to be cut off."

Detroit, Jan. 8.—Don M. Dickinson stated to-night that he had received a dispatch to the effect that the insurgents were practically entering the city of Havana. Mr. Dickinson, however, declines to state the sender's name, or the precise nature of the message. Commenting upon the fact that the Cubans are about to achieve their independence, Dickinson said: "Every member in the congress should be ashamed in shame that no steps were taken toward recognizing the state of war that has existed. The government of free Cuba must be recognized in form. It is impossible in the light of the refusal of congress to act, to say exactly why will be the relation of the United States to the new government. They owe us nothing; we have done them no service."

TERRORS OF AN ENGAGEMENT. Before Making the Announcement Study These Things.

The daughter of a wealthy household in close neighborhood to Central Park, is engaged to be married and the news of the engagement has been published. "We all wish it hadn't," says her father, "because since it has got out it has looked as though we would not be able to enjoy life or even stay in town. The mail we receive and the people who try to get in to see my wife or myself are such as to cause consternation. Both the letters and the visitors come from tradesmen who would like to furnish wedding supper (whether we want to have one or not), or to supply the china, ware or the cabs. They are from stationers who desire to print the cards, from engravers and jewelers, from dress makers and tailors and milliners, from caterers who will furnish waiters, napery, china, glass, plate—even a bridegroom if we run short, I imagine. The letters pile up beside my wife's plate every morning, and the most stylish engraved cards, bearing the names of men and women of whom we have never heard, are sent up to the distracted woman from the front door all day long. Interesting? Yes, very; especially the suggestion by a jeweler or two, that if we desire to swell the display of wedding presents of gold or silver or jewels, they can be had on hire."—New York Sun.

"Old, yet ever new, and simple and beautiful," says the poet, "is the word which might well apply to Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the most efficient and scientific blood-purifier ever offered to suffering humanity. Nothing but superior merit keeps it so long at the front."

Consumption. Valuable medicine and two bottles of medicine sent Free by Mail. Write to J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

DR. JAMESON TO BE SHOT

Report That the Famous Physician-Soldier Has Been Sentenced to be Shot.

The Incensed Boers Tried to Lynch Him When He Was First Arrested.

Evidence That Emperor William's Action Was Result of a Long Laid Plan.

London, Jan. 8.—It is reported here this afternoon that Dr. Jameson has been sentenced by the judges at Pretoria to be shot. A similar report was circulated on Saturday last.

A dispatch received here from Krugersdorp, Transvaal, dated Jan. 8th, says Dr. Jameson narrowly escaped being shot in the market place by incensed Boers, and he was only saved by the commandant, who threatened to shoot the first man who raised a rifle. The gravity of the political crisis here is increasing, instead of diminishing. The attitude of Emperor William towards Great Britain in the matter of the Transvaal, upon closer study, seems to have been deliberate and long and carefully planned. The Transvaal incident, it would appear, was only a pretext seized upon by the Emperor in order to enter the field as an active opponent of Great Britain's policy of aggrandizement in Africa. Her little misunderstanding with King Prempeh of Ashanti, together with Italy's warfare against Abyssinia, are believed to have been the instigating features which finally induced his majesty to show his hand. Of course this is only one of the many similar rumors in circulation here, but it shows the drift of the wind, and has served to increase the British to a degree not witnessed since the war with Russia threatened some years ago. To make matters worse it is now reported that the Transvaal republic will demand an indemnity of $500,000 from Great Britain, in the event of the Dr. Jameson's invasion of the little Dutch republic. If this turns out to be the case, no doubt will be entertained by the Emperor William, in his recent interviews with Dr. W. J. Leyds, secretary of state for the Transvaal, prompted this demand. Under these circumstances, and in view of war preparations by land and by sea, now being vigorously pushed by Great Britain, it is not astonishing that the Boers, on ominous drop in consols, which, as much as anything, is a clear indication of the gravity of the political situation.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION. Proposal to Refer all Disputes to a Permanent Board of Arbitrators. London, Jan. 8.—A movement is on foot among a number of prominent Americans and Britons, of this city, to bring about the formation of a permanent court of arbitration, to settle all disputes between the two nations, as proposed by Justice Harlan in 1883.

RICHES WHICH HAVE WINGS. Three Sons Who Got Through Their Fortunes in a Very Quick Time. Decatur, Ill., Jan. 8.—Twenty years ago John K. Evans, a man of considerable wealth, died here. In his will he bequeathed his three infant sons $10,000 each, with interest when they should become 21 years old. Seven years ago the eldest son, John, received his fortune, which had doubled itself, but spent it in six months. David followed three years later, and in the same manner, taking but two months to dispose of his portion. Three weeks ago, Samuel, the youngest, received a cheque for his fortune. He immediately began a career of wild dissipation, and in a total wreck financially, his diamonds and fine clothes gone, a fortune of $25,000 has been spent in precisely fifteen days, and he is now under arrest for forging the name of the president of the Adams County Bank to a note for $200.

THERE'S FROTH ON THE BEER. A Few of the Milwaukee Beer Brewers Talk of War. Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 8.—The statement of the Kaiser that he will not recognize the suzerainty of England in the Transvaal has aroused the war spirit of local Germans. They were cool and phlegmatic until this news came, but they now think it means either war or the abrogation of the treaty of London. Nothing is talked of here but the prospects of war between England and Germany. Members of the Kriegerbund and other societies of veterans of 1871 gathered at the clubs and meeting places and discussed the situation. All are convinced that Germany will have no trouble maintaining her position. The martial spirit which fired them against their ancient enemy, the French, has reasserted itself, but is now directed against the English, whom they say they can crush as easily as they did the French. In case of war there is no doubt that a large number of volunteers will go from this city. German papers, noted for the Conservative views, will sound the note of alarm to-morrow.

Backingham's dye for the whiskers does its work thoroughly, coloring a uniform brown or black, which, when washed, will neither rub, wash off nor soil linen.

Some people talk incessantly. They never think of pause. But, speaking of the dentist, he works other persons' jaws.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please. Try them.

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 8.—The Duke and Duchess of Marlborough have arrived at Port Said, and are expected to reach here this afternoon. London, Jan. 8.—Sir Julian G. Smith, M. P. for the South Division of St. Pancras, died this morning at Brighton, where he has been seriously ill for several weeks. He was 58 years old and one of the wealthiest, most charitable and best known Jews in England.

Sir Julian Goldsmid, M. P., eldest son of the late Frederick Goldsmid, was born in October, 1838. He was educated at University College, London, and was called to the bar at Lincoln's Inn in January, 1864, when he chose the Oxford Circuit. He was a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant for Kent, and a Fellow of and also treasurer of the University College, London. He sat as a Justice for Hoxton from March, 1866, till his disfranchisement in 1868, when he was an unsuccessful candidate for Mid-Surrey. He was returned for Rochester in July, 1870, and sat for that constituency until 1880, between which date and November, 1885, he more than once unsuccessfully sought re-election. He was returned for South St. Pancras in 1885, and again as a Liberal Unionist in 1887.

HAVANA IS CIRCLED.

Cut Off Completely From Every Means of Communication With the Outside.

Every Indication That the Insurgents Are Making It Warm for Spain.

Havana, Jan. 7.—This city has not fallen, but is surrounded so completely that all means of communication are cut off. The inhabitants are feeling the uneasiness and apprehension of rats in a cage. Even so slight an incident as the explosion of a torpedo in front of the Corona cigar factory last night, and the trifling fire which it kindled, were sufficient to throw the people into a fit of consternation. The terror was greatly added to by the infusion of refugees from the south, who are fleeing to Havana for safety from the incensed plantations, burning dwellings. These incomers bring tales of vast forces of insurgents ravaging the provinces, of pitiless cruelty to non-sympathizers with their cause, which are sufficient to heighten the terror of the Havana. One of the most alarming of these messages was that the water works at Venta which supply this city are threatened by the insurgents dynamite, and are likely to meet the same fate as the water works at Cabanas, a seaport town of considerable importance on the northern coast. Many attempts have been made during the past twenty-four hours to re-open communication by wire with ports and stations on the Havana coast, but the rebels successfully interrupted all mediums. General Valdez and Col. Arizon have withdrawn their forces from the outlying territory to a position near the city of Pinar del Rio. Major Masia, moving his forces from Colon into the province of Havana. This marks the concentration here of the Spanish forces for a final struggle. The arrival of reinforcements from Spain is anxiously awaited. It is stated that General De Campos hopes to re-open communication with Batavia and reinforce the strategic line between that port and this, lately broken by the incursion of Gomez's army into the western province of Pinar del Rio. By strengthening this line Campos now helps to pen Gomez in the west, break his communication, cutting him off from reinforcements and supplies, and eventually defeat him. Gomez, however, apparently oblivious to the ambulance prepared for him, continues to advance further west, moving along the line of the British railway connecting Havana with Pinar del Rio, and the water stations, burning telegraph offices, tearing up tracks, blowing up bridges and surprising small government garrisons along the line of march. Despite the proclaimed plan of De Campos for an offensive campaign, the strengthening of the fortifications about Havana goes steadily on, and in addition some ambulances are being placed in the outskirts of the city of Havana.

Madrid, Jan. 7.—An official dispatch received here from Havana says that the march westward of the insurgents has been arrested by Gen. Navarro, who has defeated them. The Cuban news recently received here has caused much excitement, and it is believed that further reinforcements will be dispatched to Cuba. Key West, Fla., Jan. 7.—Jesus Petuna, a well known Cuban patriot, received a cipher dispatch from General De Campos this morning declaring that the Spaniards were summed in on all sides and that before nightfall Havana would be in possession of patriot troops. Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—Senor Estrada Palma, minister plenipotentiary the doctors approve of Scott's Emulsion. For whom? For men and women who are weak, when they should be strong; for babies and children who are thin, when they should be fat; for all who get no nourishment from their food. Poor blood is starved blood. Consumption and Scrofula never come without this starvation. And nothing is better for starved blood than cod-liver oil. Scott's Emulsion is cod-liver oil with the fish-fat taste taken out.

Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, Belleville, Ont.

SEARCHES OUT THE CAUSE OF DISEASE. The New Remedy. KOOTENAY POSITIVE CURE. CURES RHEUMATISM & LAME BACK. Pamphlet of SWORN EVIDENCE by addressing S. S. RYCKMAN MEDICINE CO., HAMILTON.

SMALL DEBITS COURT. Reopened This Morning by Police Magistrate Macrae.

Magistrate Macrae this morning resumed the sitting of the Small Debts Court, which has been adjourned from time to time owing to the judgment of Mr. Justice Currie that the magistrate had no jurisdiction to sit, as the act was ultra vires. Judge Macrae, of the County Court of Nanaimo, has declared that the jurisdiction is in view of the diversity of opinion in the above judgments, his honor pronounced the court open to transact the duties imposed upon it. There is no doubt that the matter will be taken to the Full Court to argue and there to be thoroughly gone into. An important case came on for hearing being that of Dr. Currie v. the city, which was still in issue when going to press.

William Arthur, of Ladner's Landing, has been brought here for treatment, he having seriously injured himself on Friday last by slipping on his doorstep.

Do You Get Them? If You Do Not You Are Deceived.

When you ask for Diamond Dyes and your dealer offers you a substitute, you are being deceived, and trouble and loss of money and goods will be the result. Diamond Dyes are the simplest, strongest, and fastest colors for home dyeing. Every package of each color is warranted to do the best work when the directions are followed. The manufacturers of Diamond Dyes prepare special dyes for wool, silk, cotton and mixed goods, that give the most brilliant and lasting colors. Ask for the Diamond; refuse all others.

American News. New York, Jan. 8.—The Press this morning says that Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt told her representative that her marriage to O. H. P. Belmont takes place January 28th. On the following day she and her husband will sail for Europe on the steamship Teutonic.

HONEST HELP. Thousands of men are suffering because they lack the courage to make known their errors and to endeavor to remedy them. Nervous weakness, loss of manhood and the many ills due to early indiscretions, excesses or overwork can be quickly, successfully and permanently cured, if you will only let the right people know what ails you. Write to me in confidence and I will tell you, free of charge, how to get cured. I have nothing to sell, but an abundance of honest helping hands. Personal secrecy assured. Describe your case and address with stamp—L. A. Edwards, P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

SYMMETRICAL FACES RARE. Phil. Morris' experiences have led him to the conclusion that symmetrical faces are very few and far between. The sides of the average face declares, are unequal and one eye frequently goes up while the other is half closed. Often the nose is not straight, and many people have the habit of looking as if they were asleep. The distinguished Royal Academy associates have known their own faces, and have painted them. There is a touch of disappointment, he says, when folks see their own portraits or those of their friends on canvas for the first time. Once he was engaged in painting a lady who had just become a grandmother, and he had treated very delicately the ravages that time had made. The lady's husband had been painted twenty-five years before, and having expressed some slight surprise at the new picture, pointed to the old one and said "That was how you and his wife." Nearly all ladies declare they don't want to be flattered, but the artist who takes them at their word does so at his peril.

According to Mr. Morris, artists who devote themselves to portrait painting are influenced not by mere vision, but by a certain preconceived idea as to how they may treat a face. The late Mr. Frank Hall, he says, had a book—"Landscape Physiognomy"—containing pictures of human types like hawks, foxes and other creatures, and when he was about to paint a portrait he used to try and find out which one of these animals or birds the sitter resembled. For instance, he would enlarge the ears of a fox hunter, and by accentuating the features, paint a most remarkable likeness. It is advisable, in Mr. Morris' opinion, to let a sitter watch the progress of his portrait. If this is done the artist can tell by the look of disappointment on the sitter's face when, in his estimation, there is anything wrong. Moreover, by this means, more interest is lent to the task of sitting. It appears that one of the reasons the Queen allows herself to be painted so often by Herr Angold is that she can see the work in progress. Some artists, unlike the Australian painter, are martyrs to nervousness, and decline to allow the sitter to see the portrait before it is completed.—London Daily News.

ROYAL Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—U. S. Government Report.

THE RHIVANO. Rothschilds' Attributed to the Disturbance in the East. These Must Be Remedies in the Event of a Crisis. All Will Be Done.

New York, Jan. 6.—The World, in answer to your telegram, says that we would like to have your opinion on a question which is under consideration by the government and we are always ready to receive any information you can give us on any subject.

As you have now taken up the question of the financial crisis in the United States, and are always ready to receive any information you can give us on any subject, we are always ready to receive any information you can give us on any subject.

Until this boundary is reached, we do not see how the European public can be expected to do more than to wait and see what the result will be.

Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.

THE NEW HORTICULTURE. Retarding Instead of Development of Flow. During the past has been undergoing a process of development. Its revolution, fancy, but has had a tendency to retard the progress of the world.