FATE OF SULTAN STILL HANGS IN THE BALANCE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 22.—The Young Turks have won another victory over Sultan Abdul Hamid, but whether the Sultan will remain as sovereign of the empire is yet to be decided although he has offered to place the affairs of the government entirely in the hands of the ministers responsible to parliament.

One Way to Save Work

As every woman knows who has to take care of even one room, dust is the worst workman of all for the housewife. Most people know, too, that floor dust is a vehicle of disease. But it has not been an easy matter heretofore to prevent dust from having its own way with floors, even with the gradual banding of carpets and the substitution of rugs and hardwood floors for not very many can afford such floors, even if they were easy to keep clean or new-looking, as they certainly are not.

Even to soft-wood floors Floorglaze gives a beautiful, glossy surface that will show no signs of wear after years of severe service, and that can be quickly washed clean and brilliant with soap and water. The use of Floorglaze is an insurance against dust, and against the disease as well; it saves a vast amount of time and labor in cleaning, and it is good for outdoor use, on porches and verandas floors and steps.

WIDOW OFFERS $200 TO CHURCH FOR HUSBAND

Makes Matrimonial Proposition Through Methodist City Missionary.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Any Methodist church of Chicago which desires for human companionship having brought him the emnity of the very ones whose company he sought, and his talents having made him a common foe among trolley men of this section, Satan, a tramp dog of the cur variety, has himself declared war upon trolley companies, trolley men and all their ways. So successful has this warfare been that, in sheer desperation, a reward has been placed upon Satan's head, and trolley conductors are almost to a man committed to the project of capturing him dead or alive.

There was a time when Satan gave his allegiance to a trolley conductor. In some way the dog discovered that when the trolley came off the wire the car stopped. This seemed simple, Satan, besides desiring to be with his self-selected master, developed a taste for travelling. He would, as the occasion offered, run up behind his master's car, give a leap, grab the master's leg rope and saving the trolley from the wire. When the car stopped, Satan, with wagging tail, would climb on the car with the bearing of one who had done well and expected to be told so.

The only man who would stand for Satan's tactics, quit his job as a conductor, Satan for a month or so attempted to cultivate an acquaintance with other conductors by stopping their cars, but was rewarded with sticks, stones, kicks and curses. He disappeared for several weeks, but a few days ago appeared upon the scene with a settled policy of revenge. His play was to wait until opportunity offered, make a rush, throw a trolley and then make a getaway, stopping at a safe distance to give a yelp or two of decision. When not busy stopping cars Satan spent his time in hiding and, it is supposed, brooding darkling over fresh deviltry.

So annoying have become the exploits of Satan, the lone dog blithely who stops trolley cars, that conductors have resolved to end his days. Satan, evidently realizing the danger, has nevertheless accepted the challenge and, like a true sportsman, fakes the most of his fighting chances and attempts to make his car-stopping dashes and his triumphant retreats.

Dr. Thomas A. Hoyt, the Philadelphia pastor, entertained President Patton of Princeton and other eminent men at dinner. The guests were speaking in praise of a sermon the minister had preached.

Dr. Hoyt's young son was at the table, and President Patton said, "My boy, what did you think of your father's sermon?"

"I guess it was very good," said the lad, "but there were three mighty fine places where he could have stopped."

Representatives of the movement in favor of the exemption of small incomes and members of the bills and by-laws committee of the common council met last evening in the office of L. R. Ross, I. C. R. terminal agent and decided that the exemption clauses in the new act should go into force at once and that the remainder of the act should become operative on Oct. 1st of this year.

Those present were Ald. Pickett, Baxter, Kelley and McGoldrick; A. W. Storer, chairman of the assessors, and Collector A. T. Dunn and L. R. Ross. Instructions were telephoned to the Recorder at Frederickton.

What the Grocers say.

ABOUT
Lea & Perrins' Sauce

Fraser, Viger & Co. Limited, of Montreal, have the reputation throughout Canada, of catering to the highest class of trade. This well known house also believes in telling their patrons about their best goods.

In an advertisement, which appeared in "The Montreal Daily Star" of February 13th, Fraser, Viger & Co. Limited thus call attention to the merits of "The Original and Genuine Worcestershire."

Among all the various Sauces that flood the market, Lea & Perrins' "The Genuine Worcestershire," is still in the lead by a big margin. Its flavor is unique and most appetizing, different from all others. We sell Lea & Perrins' Genuine Worcestershire Sauce in three different sizes.

Large bottles . . . $1.00 each
Medium bottles . . . .60 each
Small bottles . . . .35 each

This advertisement was unsolicited by us, and is a striking instance of the esteem in which Lea & Perrins' Sauce is held by the grocers, as well as by the consumers.
