New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13.—Today at Yale field was witnessed by 35,000 spectators, perhaps the most specta- cular exhibition of pure football of the up-to-date style ever seen in the meet- ing of the old rivals, Yale and Prince- ton, Yale winning 17 to 0. Its dram- atic quality was the more impressed as the game was essentially one-sided, Yale's goal never being in peril, and she failed of two additional goals only by small margins. Once she actually had taken the ball over the Princeton goal only to be called back for off- side plays and again with the ball only five yards from the coveted goal she failed to take it over, the linesman being summoned to measure the distance made on the rush which failed, and which gave Princeton the credit of holding for downs. But in spite of the fact that the ball was almost con- stantly in Princeton's territory the great number of open plays, the end runs, forward passes, on-side kicks, and constant punting, particularly in the second half with the attendant risks of accidents and fukes kept the game and the interest of the grand- stands constantly on edge.

Pictureless and Perilous.
It was a style of football at once pictureless and perilous to both sides. And nothing but the skill of the backs in taking punts kept the clean score of Yale for 1909 from disfigurement. In the last quarter hour of the game Yale's evident policy of protecting her score and saving her players for next Saturday's struggle with Harvard took somewhat away from the element of rivalry in the game, but the punting duel between Coy and McCormick continued and still made the struggle attractive. The game had intense cli- maxes. Yale almost at the outset of play, amid an exclamation of cheering from the blue leathers, using in the main her old-fashioned pile driver when within striking distance of Princeton's goal. Following this came two of Philbin's characteristics zig-zags through a broken field, netting Yale some forty-five yards. Coy, too, a lit- tle later, worked his familiar end run for seventeen yards. Princeton's check of Yale's advance a little afterwards, when a gain of a fraction of a foot meant a first down and sure goal, was another dramatic incident in which Yale's disappointment and Princeton's hopes blended on equal terms. But the two great exciting crises of the first half, came when the blocked punt of McCormick's moun- ted high behind the goal posts and after a series of spectacular fumbles, set- tled under a Princeton player, scoring a safety for Yale, and also close to a goal post of Princeton, who this time, less fortunate, lost the ball to Lilly, and with the goal kicked an added six went up to Yale's score board.

The second half had its intense mo- ments. One came when after an ex- change of punts and a forward pass the Princeton goal, took the ball over in a series of plunges through the line. It looked like a touchdown and the Yale teachers broke loose, only to subside into a pathetic stillness when the team was called back for off- side playing. It was in this mid-time of the second half that Princeton's cheerers were electrified by a series of brilliant runs by Parke and it looked for a few brilliant instants, as though the Nassau tiger had caught the Yale team. But a field goal by Coy chilled Princeton's hope and when a few minutes after, at Prince- ton's south goal, a series of missed play took the ball behind her final line in the first half, both sides settled down for grim work in the second period and Harvard twice drove over all ob- stacles to the Dartmouth goal line. A Dartmouth blank seemed inevitable, but the wearers of the green carried off one of their numerous successful on-side kicks in the last three min- utes of the game and standing on Harvard's 24 yard line, Capt. Tobin saved a shutout by a beautiful goal from placement.

Throughout the contest Harvard, without showing much more than straight football made steady gains through the Dartmouth line, but re- served her highest energies until the Dartmouth goal line loomed in sight and the green lines showed weakness. Dartmouth was unable to make any impression against the fierce charging of the Harvard forwards and through- out the game scored but one first down in straight rushing.

It was a game in which distance was gained chiefly through line plunges with end runs smothered by the players could make the turn toward the goal. Open play was the exception, although Harvard's second score came on a beautifully executed forward pass on Dartmouth's seven- teen yard line.

No Tossing.
There was scarcely any tossing of the ball about the field, but the same drive and "help the rush" game was the feature of the Harvard game.

Miss Campbell To Reside In Canada

Miss Dorothy Campbell, who has announced her decision to live in Canada. Boston, Nov. 14.—After long consid- eration of an offer to remain on this side of the Atlantic, to become the secretary of a club in Toronto, Can- ada, Miss Dorothy Campbell has decided to do so. This means that she will be on hand to defend next year the title of United States golf champion which she won on the Merion links, Philadelphia, in October.

Miss Campbell has had a great record since she crossed the Atlantic, for not only did she win the women's championship, but she has not lost a match in all of the events in which the British party has participated in travelling about the country. She has met the leaders of the New York, Philadelphia and Metropolitan dis- tricts, and each time has been the winner. The closest call which she has had in any match was that yes- terday with Miss Julia R. Mix, the Metropolitan champion, in a team match on the Englewood links, when an extra hole was necessary to decide the contest. Among those who have been victims of her superior skill and steadiness are Miss Margaret Curtis, Miss F. C. Osgood and Miss Harriet S. Curtis of the Boston district; Mrs. C. T. Stout and Miss Mix of the Metro- politan district and Mrs. H. H. Barlow of Philadelphia.

AGAIN TIE

Another tie game without a score was played in the junior football league Saturday afternoon when the High school met the Y. M. C. A. in a struggle of fought contest. If the High school had won a play-off with Rothesay next Saturday's game between the same teams results again in a draw battle, the college boys win the cup. High school forced the play from the start and should have won, but the splendid defence work of the Y. M. C. A. held the more aggressive without a score.

Serims were called again and again on the yellow and black line, but the High school halves failed to secure particularly well, while Donnelly and Bender often made gains.

Climo and Cunningham were in the game all the time for Y. M. C. A. and one man was not considered enough and the High school men were literally buried when they made a dash for the line. Y. M. C. A. were obliged to touch for safety once in the first half and several times in the last half.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Toronto Varsity suffered its first defeat this season on Saturday afternoon, the McGill men doing the trick after a long- drawn-out struggle, by a score of 11 to 9. The first half made it look as if the Queen city men were to go through the season unscathed, ending in their favor by 6 to 1. In the second half Toronto started off with a rouse. Then McGill came to life and Gilmore got the ball across the goal, Lee falling to connect. Toronto caught the ball, another rouse, making the score 8 to 6, and followed with another. Then Gilmore got across, but failed to connect. The game was won, however, for Toronto was held down for the remainder of her playing time, the game finishing amidst a whirlwind of enthusiasm from the McGill men.

20 MILES

New York, N. Y., Nov. 14.—All American amateur track records from ten and a half to twenty miles were broken today at Celtic Park, in the twenty-mile run which was the main event in the annual games of the Shamrock A. C. James Clark of the Xavier A. C. won in 1:58:27.55, a record of 2:07:11 made by James Crowley of the Gage American A. C. last January.

The leader at ten and a half miles was Crowley, his time for that distance being 58:02, almost one minute better than the record, which has stood since 1889. Crowley led up to the 17th mile, breaking all intermed- iate records. Then he stopped almost to a walk, and Clark took the lead, which he held to the tape, making new marks for every mile. He finished more than half a mile ahead of Barry J. Jensen, Pastime A. C., who was second, ten yards in front of William Frank of the Irish-American A. C. All three were instant the old record, Edwin H. White of the Holy Cross Lyseum was fourth with Crowley fifth, half a lap behind. Forty-five started but only five finished.
