AROUND THE CITY

Still Alarm.
About four o'clock yesterday afternoon Chemical No. 1 and Hose 2 responded to a still alarm for a chimney on fire in Mr. French's house on Brussels street.

Disturbance Quelled.
The police were called into a Brussels street residence yesterday afternoon to quell a disturbance that a man was creating.

Drunk and Disorderly.
Yesterday afternoon Ernest Flewelling was not satisfied with having developed a comfortable fog but persisted in stopping persons on Charlotte street. He was finally gathered in by Policeman McNamee and charged with being drunk and interfering with pedestrians.

A Happy Surprise.
A very pleasant surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cosman at their home, 36 Cliff street, last evening on the occasion of the 30th anniversary of their wedding day. In the midst of an enjoyable evening singing and recitations their pastor, Rev. W. Camp, B. D., called the bride and groom together and in a happy speech on behalf of the company presented Mrs. Cosman with a beautiful sash and on behalf of Mr. L. L. Sharpe, a handsome ring with pearls. Mr. Cosman very feelingly expressed the appreciation of Mrs. Cosman and himself and family, and thanked the donors for their kind remembrance. After refreshments were served the company dispersed wishing the happy couple many returns of the day.

KIERMAN KELTY LEAVES TODAY

Popular Opera House Manager to take up Important Theatrical Duties in New York.

Kierman Kelty, who for the past few months has been manager of the Opera House, leaves tonight, accompanied by Mrs. Kelty, for New York, where he is to take up his new duties with the Boston Opera Company.

Mr. Kelty has not been here very long, but the short time that he has been connected with the Opera House has been sufficient to give patrons an idea of his capability. With the stagecraft he has become popular. In the few months he has been connected with the house, patrons saw a number of changes effected for their greater convenience and comfort. These have been appreciated by the public. In the fulfillment of his managerial duties, his courteous treatment of patrons won for him a host of friends. Mr. Kelty has been one of the most optimistic citizens to come amongst us during the past year. His faith in St. John was great, and so he endeavored to give the people of the city such productions as a city of St. John's importance merits. During his brief tenure of office, a number of the best known productions have been presented here, with success and staged on the same elaborate scale as is followed in the large theatrical centres. The Pink Lady, The Chocolate Soldier, The Boston Opera Company, Officer 666, were some of the list, and an ambitious one it was for the city. But such was Mr. Kelty's faith in St. John.

His departure will be regretted by his friends and by patrons of the Opera House, but at an time should he return, he may be assured of a cordial welcome. In his new sphere of endeavor he has the best wishes of his friends for unqualified success.

In Bond's last night, Mr. Kelty acted the role of "mine host" at an informal dinner to a number of his friends among newspapermen, with whom he has been a great favorite. "An revoir, friend Kelty, and bon success."

REPORTS SHOW BIG CHANGES FOR BAPTISTS

Treasurer's Statement Submitted Yesterday, Cause of Much Satisfaction—Committees Elected

The second day's sessions of the United Baptist Association of New Brunswick were attended by a large number of visiting and local delegates and a number of important business matters were disposed of. The religious exercises were of an interesting character and eloquent and illuminating addresses were given at the different sessions.

At the morning session Rev. Wellington Camp was elected moderator of the association for the ensuing year, and other officers and committees were selected. Reports of the Home Mission Board, Advisory Committee and Committee on Ministers' List were submitted during the day.

The fourth session of the convention opened at half past nine o'clock yesterday morning.

After prayers by different delegates, the 17th hymn was chanted by the assembly.

The Rev. H. D. Cousins, of Newcastle, Moderator of the convention, then opened the business of the session.

After the reading of the minutes of the preceding session, the report of the committee on arrangements came before the session.

A motion to the effect that the minutes of the United Baptist Woman's Missionary Union be included in the minutes of the convention of the United Baptists was negatived.

The Moderator then put a motion to accept the minutes of the preceding sessions after amendment to include reference and summary of the address delivered on Tuesday evening.

Delegate Collins advocated that all the members present be permitted to vote, because it was more expedient for the progress of the work.

The amendment was carried by unanimous consent.

The election of a Moderator for the ensuing year was next proceeded with. Rev. W. Camp, Rev. J. E. Wilson, Rev. Miles McCutcheon, Rev. Mr. Lawson, Rev. Mr. Jenner and Rev. Mr. Newcomb were nominated from the floor of the convention. Rev. Mr. Lawson requested that his name be withdrawn. Messrs. Camp, Wilson and McCutcheon were very close, and a second balloting was held and Rev. Wellington Camp was elected Moderator.

Rev. J. E. Wilson, of Fredericton, was elected Assistant Moderator.

Nominations for secretary were opened. C. E. Weyman was the only person nominated, and was declared elected forthwith.

James Patterson, St. John, was elected treasurer.

Rev. J. G. A. Belyea was elected corresponding secretary.

While the balloting for the officers was in progress, Rev. Mr. Colpitts read the report on the ministers' lists. This report showed the losses in the ranks of the clergy owing to death, changes and immigration. The report was brief, and was not discussed.

At 11:40 the devotional closing exercises of the session were begun by the Rev. Mr. Campbell. The preacher chose for his text, "By little and little I will drive them out from the court." The reverend preacher referred to the immeasurable eternity of God and the sublime dignity with which the Almighty governs earthly things, preaching a very able sermon.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Milton Addison. The Home Mission report was then read and discussed. It was moved by Rev. A. C. Berris and seconded by Rev. J. Archibald to adopt the report. The report was tabled, however, until this morning, when it will again be discussed.

The report shows advance in every field, and the past twelve months have been marked by encouraging progress. Because of economy on the part of the board, and on account of an increased interest in the home mission work, the financial condition at the close of the last year. Six thousand dollars are required to meet the needs of this province. During the year valuable assistance has been rendered by the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union, for which the board is grateful.

As regards minimum salaries for ministers the report says:

"According to resolutions passed in convention last year, the board has undertaken to establish this plan on a working basis. At the March meeting of the board a committee was appointed to introduce the work, and circulars and envelopes distributed, asking for an offering for this object. Later application forms were sent to those asking for them. On account of getting to work late in the year, only one offering was asked for. Thirty churches have sent in contributions but the response has not as yet been adequate to the need or importance of the work."

"Several churches have advanced the salaries of pastors to the standard, showing the educational value of the plan. This plan bids fair to add great strength to our whole cause."

RESIDENTS OF COBURG STREET

See Strange Sight—Robert Gooderich Badly Burned.

That the city authorities have the best of intentions was proven yesterday morning when the street paving force on Coburg street gave a demonstration of what may be expected at the end of the road paved with good intentions. A huge and grotesque demon breathing fire and smoke, and rolling in a sea of flames, like Milton's Satan straggling out of the subterranean surge of the bottomless pit was the awesome spectacle which the peaceful residents of Coburg street witnessed through their windows yesterday. At first they thought the commission form of government was joy-riding in a chariot of fire, but closer inspection after the first moment of panic, showed a steam roller dragging a huge oil sprinkler with its tail on fire, scorching the street to flame behind it. With blistered face and smouldering clothes Fred, the Icarus of the burning chariot, staggered out of the flames, and for a moment it looked as if the world would be set on fire. But Robert Gooderich, the foreman in charge, made a dash through the flames and managed to shut off the jets of oil that were feeding the fire, though not before he was badly burned about the face and hands.

It appears the live coal dropping from the steam roller was the cause of the conflagration. As the steam roller went on dragging the oil sprinkler behind it, the live coal set fire to the jets of oil and in a moment the portion of the street which had been covered with oil burst into flames. Fortunately only a small stretch of the street had been sprinkled when the fire occurred. Mr. Gooderich's promptness in shutting off the jets prevented any serious damage to the street plant, though he sustained some bad burns himself, as did the man in charge of the oil sprinkler.

City Road Engineer Hatfield said yesterday that an engineer in Pawtucket some time ago tried the experiment of setting fire to a street sprinkler with asphalt oil. In order to burn the light oil and give the asphalt a chance to set. But the engineer evidently miscalculated the combustibility of the oil for the flames ran through the streets like lightning and leaping across a dry grass set fire to a passing car of gasoline. But the fiery treatment put an excellent surface on the street.
