The Secretary laid before the House returns relating to the St. Stephen Bank.

At 12 o'clock Gough rose and went on to deliver a speech on our financial position. In showing how certain savings might be made he got into a dispute with Kelly. who stated that the chairman of the Committee at present investigating the reports of the Chief Commissioner of Public Works and the Crown Lands report (namely, Gough) went into the Reporters' Gallery before that committee had got through with one evidence, and stated that the committee were finding damaging revelations, and Kelly further stated that the statements in the Tribune and Globe relating to this matter were false.
