anxiety, how little we dreamed when we cast out of this calamity.

I know a Christmas
card does not call for a note unless one
particularly wishes to write one. So you see I have given myself
away.

When asking Mrs Wendie for your address, she said to add her most kind recollections. She is looking very well,

& very charming, only she is sad & lonely with no other husband. I hope we will meet some time before long again, & with the best of good wishes for 1915 in which Mr Smith lives.

I am
Yours sincerely Mrs
Mary S. Shady Smith.
