

PATRICK HENRY'S GREAT SPEECH

The Orator electrifies his audience by boldly declaring that the Colonists would not endure the oppression of the Home Government and boldly declares for Independence.