Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive Kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and Urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment, and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home, and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription, in October of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

After an action a chaplain was visiting the wounded men lying in the field hospital. Among them was a soldier who had been kicked very severely by a mule, and, being in excruciating agony, was disturbing the general quiet of the ward by his incessant groaning.

"Come, come, my poor chap," said the chaplain, kindly, as he went to his bedside, "you must try and bear the pain like a man. It's no use, you know, kicking against fate."

"Bedad, sorr, you're right," said the soldier, opening his eyes and looking up at the speaker, "especially when it's the 'fate' of an army mule."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

REARRANGING LIFE INSURANCE.

My husband took out an insurance policy about ten years ago in favor of his heirs. We have been married now over one year.

- 1. Would I be his legal heir now?
2. Would he have to take out a new policy?
SUBSCRIBER.

Ontario.
Ans.—1. No.
2. No; but the present policy could, and ought to, be adapted to meet the change of the insured's circumstances and responsibilities.

COAL SCREENINGS FOR HOGS.

Is there any benefit or harm in giving hogs the screenings of hard coal, as all hogs are very fond of it, and will eat it greedily? We get it at the coal-yards for hauling away. J. J. S.

Ans.—We think that no harm and probably some good may result from placing coal screenings where the hogs may take them at will, as their system seems to crave grit of some sort. Charcoal or wood ashes would probably be more helpful, if available, and sods, stored in the fall in a cellar to be thrown into the hogpen occasionally, have a good effect when partaken of.

CRIBBER.

Have a fine two-year-old colt that is a cribber. Is there anything I can do to stop her? Would it hurt her for breeding purposes? Will she be better or worse to run in pasture in summer? F. P. Y.

Ans.—In most cases, the vice can be checked by bucking a strap around the throat, not so tight as to interfere with breathing or swallowing, but tight enough to prevent expansion of the throat, which occurs while cribbing. Keeping loose in a box stall, without manger or rack, is recommended. If she takes hold of the wall, it may be prevented by daubing it with some foul-tasting material, as a solution of aloes. We do not think it will hurt her for breeding purposes. She will certainly be better in pasture.

CURE.

Mare got curbed last fall. Is quite lame now, especially when driven a long distance. What treatment would you advise? SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—Give mare rest, and apply hot water for two or three days to allay inflammation. Follow by blistering with the following: Bichloride of mercury and cantharides, of each two drams; vaseline, two ounces. Clip the hair off the part, and rub the blister with smart friction. Tie so she cannot bite the part. In twenty-four hours, rub well again with the blister, and in twenty-four hours wash off, and turn her in a box stall. Apply vaseline every day until the scale comes off. Then tie her up and blister again as at first. It may be necessary to repeat the blistering once a month for some time.

TENANT AND TIMBER.

Three years ago, I rented a farm for a term of five years. As an extra privilege, I had the following clause added to the lease: "The said lessee to have such down timber for wood as lessor may see fit to let him have, but for his own use only, not to sell, provided lessee is willing to go in with lessor and work together in getting out and get out any down timber for himself that he might choose. For some reason he did not get any out. About the middle of February, his wood was getting very low. He came to me, and, as the snow was very deep, I gave him permission to take a load or so of some wood I was reserving for my own use to keep him going until the snow should settle enough to get at the down timber. He took another man in with him, and they slashed down a pile of wood, and were still cutting when I stopped them. Although it was wood I did not intend to have, I did not prevent him drawing it home. I should judge, by his pile, he will have enough to do him a year. Can I refuse to give him any more wood off my farm while he remains my tenant? SUBSCRIBER.

Ontario.
Ans.—We think not.

4 YEAR OLD BOY COULDN'T STAND! Limbs Weakened by La Grippe Made Strong by Zam-Buk. Mrs. T. Brixton, of 5 Woodworth Ave., St. Thomas, Ont., says: "I had had some experience as to the efficacy of Zam-Buk in healing sores, cuts, etc., and had heard good reports from friends who also tried this balm, so when a year ago my little lad, four years of age, was left weak in the limbs as the result of a severe attack of influenza, I began rubbing in the Zam-Buk. His legs were so weak he would tremble and shake and was unable to stand for any length of time. Frequent applications of this ointment well rubbed in, seemed to strengthen him daily, and in a very short time the shaking and trembling in his limbs had been banished and he soon got strong and able to run about, thanks to Zam-Buk."
