BY THE LITTLE ONES.

Stray Bits of Humor Out of the Mouths of Babies.

Alma was just celebrating her second birthday, and her description of the event to a little playmate was this: "It's got a birthday cake. It's two 'ers old."

Evelyn, aged five, while journeying with her mother was stormbound in the flooded districts of the west this year, and for two days, while food was scarce, the scenery bounded on all sides by wastes of water and little hope of gaining their destination, the little miss excited the admiration of all the passengers by her sweet disposition and her uncomplaining acceptance of the situation. A gentleman who had faced the storm and waded through water to bring fruit and food to the beleaguered passengers presented the little miss with a box of candy and some fruit. Evelyn's mamma asked, "Isn't the gentleman good to bring you such nice things?" whereupon the tiny maiden answered, "Yes, but mamma, I am a nice girl to bring them to."

A child of four had passed his life among high mountains and knew nothing except the towering peaks and a small expanse of sky. When taken to an eastern state for a visit he became quiet, melancholy and apparently ill. A physician could find no disease, and the little lad told his own story of home sickness and gloom when he cried out to his mamma, "Oh, mamma, won't you take me where there isn't so much sky?"

Her Calf.

While waiting for a train at a little station down in the country the other day a Chicago man overheard two farmers talking as follows: "Say, Bill, did you hear how old Hanks come it over Pete Harvey last week?"

"Naw."
"Pete, he druv up to Bill's place, 'nd Bill says to him: 'Come back in the barn. I want to show you a cow 'nd calf I've got fer sale.' The cow was a fine lookin' critter, 'nd Pete ast how much Hanks wanted fer her 'nd the calf. After dickerin' a bit Pete bought them 'nd started home. Next day he come back, mad as a hornet."
"Bill," he says, 'you skinned me on that critter. She ain't no new milk cow, 'nd that ain't her calf.'"
"Yes, it is," says Bill.

"If it is I'll eat 'em both, hide, hair 'nd hoofs," says Pete. The calf won't have anything to do with her. It ain't her'n."

Good Guess.

A lawyer of New Haven once introduced to Judge Lyman S. Burr a novelist who is now famous. The novelist was young and obscure at the time, but what he lacked in years and fame he more than made up for in self confidence.

Judge Burr observed the young man closely and sternly. Finally he said: "So you expect to be famous some day, eh?"
"Some day," said the young man, "I expect to have the world at my feet."
"What have you been doing all this time," said the judge, "walking on your hands?"

Overheard in Congress.

Two southern representatives had been out rather late and were tacking home.

"What jer reckon your wife's going to say?" one asked the other.
"Oh, nothing! She'll preserve a dignified silence," was the answer, "but lemme tell you that silence will be impressive."

"Well, mine's an orator, and there'll be a joint debate such as congress never saw when I get home," the other said tearfully.

How Foolish!

Giraffe—Heard from your brother since he went to America?
Monkey—Yes; he says people over there pay money to see him eat with a fork, and he can't do it any better than they can.

Vain Talk.

Borroughs—I was talking to your friend Kloseman for about half an hour this morning, and—Newitt—The idea! That's funny. Couldn't you find out in less than half an hour that it's useless to try to borrow anything from him?—Philadelphia Press.

"FORCE" is the morning meal of full three million clear-eyed, steady-handed, well-balanced, people,—the finest sort of Americans.

"FORCE" is a solid foundation for a nation's growth.

Sunny Jim

Just do a little sum for me:
Count how many good breakfasts you get out of a box of "FORCE"; and see how many times that number goes into three or four cents.

The answer—that little fraction of a cent—measures what a "FORCE" breakfast costs you more than one of some cheaper food.

Isn't it worth the difference?

TO OUR CUSTOMERS.

We have just put in, at great expense, a WONDERFUL MACHINE, heated by steam, work only passing through the rollers once; the result—WORK IS ELASTIC, WILL NOT BREAK, and will last much longer than when ironed by the old method, heated by gas, which has to pass through the rollers eight times.

P.S.—We have also added a newly invented machine to iron the edges of Collars and Cuffs.

HALF CURE IS DANGEROUS.

When you get a Cold, La Grippe, Influenza, do not be satisfied with something to check it.

The greatest danger is in the lingering results of a half cure.

Many a life history would read different to-day if that severe attack of Cold and La Grippe had been properly handled. A hard cold will settle in the weakest part.

Dimensions of Noah's Ark.

"Within recent years," says the editor of the Syren and Shipping, "the general dimensions of the ark have been closely followed by cargo steamship builders for deep sea and the American great lakes service. According to the Bible, the ark was 480 feet long, 80 feet wide and 45 feet deep. Her tonnage was 11,413, and she had plenty of room for pairs of all the distinct species of animals that are classed by Buffon—244—and she could have accommodated a thousand persons and then have plenty of room for the storage of supplies. In the seventeenth century Peter Jansen, a Hollander, built a vessel of the exact proportions of the ark, and she was successful, as records of the times show, in making money for her owners. Noah, the father of naval architecture, is held in profound respect by naval architects of today, who know how immeasurably the Phenicians, Greeks and Romans and all other shipbuilders fell short of the excellence of the type of the ark as a commodious, safe and economical vessel."

THE PRISONER

Who escapes from jail is by no means free. He is under the ban of the law and punishment is written over against his name. Soon or late he will be caught again and bear added punishment for his short escape from his cell.

Those who by the use of palliative powders and tablets escape for a time from the sufferings of dyspepsia are in the same condition as the escaped prisoner. Soon or late they will go back to the old condition and pay an added penalty for temporary release.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Its cures are lasting.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Second, Esq., of 13 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach for a long time; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep or follow my occupation (tinsmith). Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three boxes and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.
