City of Chatham Will on That Date Make First Round Trip

FIRST TRIP

THE

NAVIGATION POINTERS

Navigation, The Planet has been informed, will open this year April 1, one month earlier than is usual. The lakes and streams, it is said, are already in a navigable condition. The tug Aldridge, which steamed out for Leamington yesterday, made the first cruise of the season from these parts. The navigation season, however, will not be open in full swing till the first of April, as the crews of the various crafts have first to get their boats in readiness.

The City of Chatham will make her first trip to Detroit on that date, provided favorable weather conditions prevail, and she is now undergoing a thorough overhauling. The City will be remodelled from top to toe.

There is some talk of making contact the carried that is a some talk of making contact.

There is some talk of making connections with Wallaceburg through the C. W. & L. E. Railway. The railway company may put on a special car to leave. Wallaceburg at 6.30, arriving here at 7.30, in time to catch the City before she pulls out for Detroit. Another special will leave for Wallaceburg after the City arrives at night.

leave for Wallaceburg after the City arrives at night.

The Winona, the passenger steamer which used to ply between Wallaceburg and Detroit on the Sydenham, has been purchased by a Buffalo firm and has been taken out of Canadian waters. There is at present no passenger boat on the Sydenham, but The Planet has been told on very good authority that the Lincoln, the boat which was badly damaged as a result of an ice jam at Windsor, has been purchased for the purpose and will this summer make trips between Detroit and the Burg.

Burg.
Captain Boland has arrived from Buffalo and has taken possession of his barge, which has been moored for the winter between fifth and Third street bridges.
Much activity will shortly be in evidence along the river front.

LARGE FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Mrs. Gordon Fields, who died in the General Hospital yesterday, after undergoing an operation, will take place to-morrow morning from her late home on Lorne avenue at ten o'clock.

The cortege will proceed to Fields' Scemetery, and the Rev. Mr. Rutwiedge will conduct a service in Bethel Sichurch at one o'clock.

Mrs. Fields was born on her fatty ther's farm at Harwich, and came to Chatham after her marriage.
