Mrs. John Brophy, of Bathurst, is visiting at her home in Douglastown.

Woodstock, N. B., had a slight flurry of snow on Wednesday morning last.

Miss Beatrice Black has returned from a trip to Newcastle, where she was visiting friends.—Moncton Times.

The case of criminal assault which came up last week before the Supreme Court, was laid over until next sitting.

The Newcastle band had to postpone their concert in Elm Park, Chatham, on Wednesday night, on account of wet weather.

There are now about two hundred and fifty more men wanted to complete the 55th Battalion, after deducting the draft for overseas.

Leslie Miller, one of Newcastle's first to enlist who was wounded some time ago, is rapidly recovering, and expects soon to be on the firing line.

The display of prizes to be given away to successful contestants in the Advocate's big voting contest, which closes tomorrow, are attracting great attention on display in the window of the old Commercial Hotel.

At Thursday night's council meeting, the question of the best ways and means of assisting the band was talked over by the Aldermen. Whatever action they may take will no doubt be heartily endorsed by the citizens of Newcastle, as the band has given freely of its services in the park, and on other occasions, which warrants good support from the town.

Among the recruits leaving Winnipeg for Camp Sewell last week was Andrew Bonar Law, a nephew of the English statesman. Mr. Law is a grandson of the Rev. James Law, who for 40 years was minister of the Presbyterian Church at Rexton, N. B., and is the oldest living son of James Law, late of Rexton N. B. The Hon. Andrew Bonar Law was a younger son of Rev. James Law.

A very successful garden party was held by the ladies of the Millbank Presbyterian church, on the church grounds, on Thursday evening. Well set supper tables were patronized by the large number who attended, and the ice cream and refreshment booths also did a good business. The feature of the evening was the splendid program of music played by the Douglastown band, which is fast gaining popularity in the social and musical circles of the Miramichi.

A. B. Sc., and Horace V. Bent, B. S., that can be had at no cost whatever by application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The Pamphlet gives a brief sketch of the origin and history of the Angora, which from being a native of Turkey in Asia has travelled some 10,000 miles to South Africa, and is now well known in the United States and not as well known in Canada as desirable. Mohair, of which Turkey, in times of peace, supplies 100,000,000 lbs. annually, South Africa 15,000,000 lbs. and the rest of the world 6,000,000 lbs. is the technical name given the hair of the Angora goat. The word is derived from the French "mohere" and primarily, from the Arabic "mukhayyar," meaning mohair cloth. This, with a vast deal more information about a particularly useful goat, is furnished in the pamphlet under notice. Nature and the necessary treatment for breeding and raising are set forth with details of market possibilities, of shearing, of grading, and of preparation for shipment. Extracts from letters written by successful breeders in Canada and the United States, telling of their experience are printed as well as some account of the complaints to which the animals are occasionally subject, with advice as to preventives and remedies. Illustrations of types and the fleeces carried at various ages lend impression, expression and interest to the pamphlet.

A Not-Too-Well-Known Goat

"Most parts of Canada where live stock production prevails are suitable to the raising of Angoras, especially if the land is high and dry the greater part of the year. They will withstand the rigor of even the coldest winter and do not require any greater shelter than a shed to protect them from wind and storm, providing a sufficient quantity of nutritious food and pure water are supplied. The Angora goat performs a two-fold service in the Canadian scheme of farming. It produces a high grade of mohair and at the same time may be used for the destruction of underbrush on lands to be broken for subsequent cultivation. Such is one of the opening paragraphs of Pamphlet No. 12 of the Sheep and Goat Division of the Live Stock Branch devoted to the Angora Goat and a general discussion of methods of management, feeding and breeding, and of mohair production, by T. Reg. Arkell, B. S.

Moncton Times—"Mr. Harold Coles has secured a job as brakeman with the Roger Miller Co. shunting crew at Point du Chene, and left a few days ago for the Point to assume his new duties. Until recently Mr. Coles was employed in the freight office here. Mr. Coles is one of the city's best ball players, being a fast and tricky base runner, a sure hitter and a good infielder." Mr. Coles will be remembered as being a valued member of our hockey team a couple of seasons ago, and his Newcastle friends will be pleased to hear of his success.

Replies Feelying to Letter From S. S. Convention Committee

The following letter has been received from Magnus Betts, who is now stretcher bearer in France, in reply to a letter he received from a committee—Mrs. H. Swin, Miss Zaida Hinton and Rev. C. Y. Lewis, appointed by the Parish S. S. Convention.

He was formerly one of the Executive.

France, July 24, 1915
To the Committee.

Dear Friends—I received with joy your letter of love, which took me back to bygone days. I wish to thank the convention through you for their loving interest.

I must right here confess that I have not been the boy I should have been. But with great joy can say, that mercy and that alone has kept me still on praying terms and pleading paths with our dear Saviour, who is the friend of children, whom we all feel we owe our most sincere service.

That still small voice can quiet every nerve no matter how great the danger. And can make one feel quite contented under all kinds of circumstances. I know it is needless to tell you all this. But the point is I have been very glad to put it to the test often since I have put on the khaki. It would be useless for me to undertake to tell you how much I appreciate that message. I mean to carry it and look it over often.

It keeps my mind where I want it to dwell on the struggling few, who for the very work's sake are trying to make noble men and women of the young folk there.
May God be pleased to bless every effort of the sessions and may He cheer and strengthen you all.
Yours very sincerely,
M. E. BETTS, No. 23495.
P. S.—I wish to resign my position as Superintendent of the I. B. R. A., which I feel I have very poorly filled, and make way for another. It is a bit difficult now to carry on that work, I let the chances slip.

48th Highlanders Are Taking Rest

Lance-Corp. Hiram A. Copp Among Wounded in This Regiment

The 48th Highlanders, the regiment that Hiram Copp, of Newcastle, was in when he was wounded, are now taking a rest after sixteen days in the trenches at Plug street, where they underwent some particularly heavy shelling.

The shell which wounded Lance-Corp. Copp, No. 23,506, and several others in this regiment, burst over the parapet. The wounded men are suffering from wounds of a more or less serious nature, but in no case is the injury considered a dangerous one. Corp. Copp's many friends will be pleased to learn this.

When the regiment went into these trenches the officers proceeded at once to strengthen the position much beyond what it had previously been strengthened. They put in permanent parapets and dug a series of fire trenches at the rear to hold supports and reserves. The enemy became alarmed at these activities and guns were brought up, and an attack was planned on the position, an attempt being made at first to shell the Highlanders out of their trenches.

The Germans were unable to budge the 48th, who have acquired the commendable habit of all highly trained troops of lying low when the enemy is trying to draw their fire with shell and rifle fire, but lining the parapets the moment the enemy starts an infantry advance and pouring in a heavy fire. These tactics are laid down by the best authorities and are adopted by the seasoned soldiers. It was the manœuvring soldiers. It was the cool manner in which the Canadians endured them which puzzled the Germans so much at St. Julien.

When Lieut. Wilson and his men were hurt the Germans were systematically shelling the parapets as is their custom, with high explosive shell bursting on impact with the parapet itself, in an effort to blow it up. They followed this up by firing the high explosive shell to explode 20 feet high over the parapet to catch men working behind, and then sent along the sheet flame for reserves and supports. It was a time shell which exploded over Lieut. Wilson and a number of his men in a shelter trench.

This was the outstanding incident of the stay in the trenches. The weather was good throughout. With the exception of Lieut. Wilson the officers are all well. The regiment was recently considerably strengthened by reinforcements, who are proving to be a lot of fine men.

SHOP IN YOUR OWN CITY FIRST

This "Made in Canada" movement can be brought a little nearer home to each individual by emphasizing this suggestion: "Patronize the stores of your home town." Each man is entitled to spend his own money where it will buy the most—whether it be in Rome or Asia. But in fairness—Is it not wisdom before purchasing elsewhere to see what the stores of our own town have to offer? The prosperity of each of us is tied up with the prosperity of his neighbor. Acquaint yourself with what the stores of your own town are offering by reading the advertisements in The Union Advocate.
