Swift Vengeance Was Meted Out

To Italian Murderer.

Dayton, Ohio, Jan. 10.—Dominick Alito, prominent among the Italian colony here was shot dead last night in a quarrel. Swift vengeance for the deed was wreaked upon Tommaso Willels, the other participant in the quarrel, whose body stabbed through and through was found a little while later behind Alito's house. Alito's wife, who was found with her hand badly cut, told the police that Willels came to her house and, after picking a quarrel with her husband, shot him. As to the identity of the person who killed Willels she professed ignorance. She said that Alito killed an Italian by the name of Rezzo on the night of December 1, 1907, during the christening at the home of a girl baby. Alito disappeared and was gone for some time, but finally came back, was arrested, tried and acquitted on the ground that he slew the man in self-defence. The police are now trying to learn from the woman if Rezzo was in any way associated with Willels, but Mrs. Alito refuses to make any statement that might clear up the mystery.

Played With a Lion.

The infant son of one of the Dutch settlers in South Africa had strayed away. After some time a search party discovered little footprints leading in the direction of the bush. Following upon these, the search party came upon a large open space, at the farther side of which they discovered the object of their search sitting hugging a little wooden doll and munching a piece of bread and butter. Before they could make their way through the thick, tangled undergrowth a large lion sprang into the clearing. The little boy, far from being frightened, ran to meet the lion, holding up his bread and butter and said, "Take a bite, doggie."

The father stood powerless to move or speak through fear, expecting each instant to see the child crushed under the lion's paw, but instead of doing as he dreaded the lion turned himself over and lay on his back at the child's feet, looking up in his face as a cat would do at play. Watching his opportunity, the father raised his gun and fired, hitting the lion in the leg. The animal sprang up and, leaving the child, rushed on the party, injuring two of the number before it was finally killed. From this circumstance the child was immediately christened by the settlers "Daniel."—London Family Herald.

Coasting Accidents.

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday two 6-year old boys named Power and Peters were coasting over Chapel Hill, one of the steepest thoroughfares in the city. The sled took charge and went with lightning speed, and the young children could not check it until it struck full tilt into a horse and slide passing along Queen's Road. It was a boy who drove the fit-out and he was so scared believing the children had gone under the hoofs of the beast and been killed that he could not bring himself to stop to see what he thought was a fatal termination of the accident, and drove hurriedly on. The two children lay bleeding on the road, and one, Power, was seen to be badly hurt. The Peters' boy after some attention could walk to his home on King's Road, but the other child, Power, who resides on Bond Street, was so badly cut about the head that Mrs. Paterson and other kind people about brought him into her residence, and it was a fortunate thing that Dr. Paterson himself was home. He soon revived the little chap with stimulants and had to insert a number of stitches in one of several nasty cuts in the little chap's head. He was afterwards soothed and kindly cared for and then driven home. This is an illustration of the danger of coasting over the steep hills and streets of the city to which the Telegram has often referred. If parents persist in allowing their children to continue indulgence in this practice some of them will rue it. We have seen a case in which two boys last winter coasting down Stephen Street went at such a rapid rate that their sled went completely under a passing horse's legs and they were not hurt. Coasting in the city is not alone a nuisance to pedestrians, but it is also a great source of danger to the children who indulge in it.

Brigus Notes.

A moving picture show is now in progress in St. Patrick's Hall.

The new public wharf is the chief topic just now, a site for which has not yet been located. Amongst those mentioned are the site of the old one Wolf Point (the Battery), the construction of the wharf started in the Out about thirty years ago by purchasing Bartlett's wharf and building out from Spracklin's premises.

Mr. Arthur Smith was in town recently and left for Grand Falls last Tuesday. Mr. Smith now has charge of the electric plant there. We congratulate him on his splendid appointment.

Pomeroy's schr. Riscover arrived yesterday from Cupids where she discharged part of her cargo of coal.

The go-preachers have hired the Orange Hall where they will deliver a series of addresses.

Mr. Gordon Spracklin, of the Marconi staff, has been transferred to Sable Island for the winter.

The members of the Church Guild are practising for a concert which will come off in the near future.

The schr. Jeanie is due to Bartlett's next week with a cargo of coal.

Mr. D. Mcneary is about to open a night school, where telegraphy and railroad work will be taught at a moderate fee.

We learn that Mr. Robert Clarke will appear re the bonus case with Mr. J. N. Hiscock.

The wall under the old store on Spracklin's premises is nearly all down and unless repairs are made shortly, or the store removed, the building will fall into the Cove. All owing floating property there should interest themselves in the matter or a big destruction of shipping may occur sooner than expected.

Mr. Lewis Bartlett arrived from Grand Falls last night. Brigus, Jan. 14, 1910.

Deathly Cramps, Stomach was Bloating

A Bad Case That Proves Cramps and Stomach Disorders are Cured Fast by Nerviline.

"The distress I suffered from cramps last summer was so severe I thought it meant death," writes P. R. Emerson, of Guys Hill, P. O. "I was doubled up with pain and in such bad shape I couldn't walk a hundred feet. I remembered having Nerviline on hand and took half a teaspoonful in sweetened water. In five minutes I was well and my stomach derangements disappeared entirely."

For cramps, flatulence, diarrhoea and disorders of the stomach and bowels, Nerviline knows no equal—one million bottles used every year—fifty years on the market, that's proof enough of its merit. Large 25c. bottles, five for $1.00. All dealers or the Catarrhazone Company, Kingston, Ont.

At the R. C. Cathedral.

The Annual Triduum of the Holy Name Society which began on Wednesday evening last at the R. C. Cathedral was largely attended. The Spiritual Director, Rev. Fr. Fyde, delivered very impressive sermons each evening which were listened to with marked attention, after which Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament took place. The Annual Meeting held yesterday afternoon was the largest on record, it being attended by the members of St. Patrick's Branch, accompanied by their Spiritual Director, Rev. Fr. Pippy. His Grace the Archbishop was also present and gave Benediction. We are sorry to state he is suffering from a cold which prevented him from preaching on this occasion. Many new members were admitted to the ranks, and through the untiring efforts of the Spiritual Director the Society has greatly increased in membership during the past year. We hope to see it still increase in its ranks during the present year, especially amongst our younger class. The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the Hymn of the Holy Name.

Holy Name Society.

The annual meeting of the St. Patrick's Holy Name Society was held yesterday afternoon. Although organized only a year ago the Society now numbers 300. The reports of the officers submitted showed that the Society is in an excellent financial condition. The following officers were elected for the coming year: John Barron, President; M. Bambrick, Vice-Pres.; J. Power, Treasurer; J. Flynn, Secretary. A committee of seven members was added for the purpose of enquiring about rooms and the project of building a hall. They will have their report ready the second Sunday in February. Great enthusiasm prevailed and the Society evidently has a useful career before it.

Hymenal.

SMITH-KING.

A very pretty wedding, and one for some time anticipated with pleasurable expectations, took place here yesterday when Mr. John King, of Small Point, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Miss Alice, eldest daughter of our well known townsman Patrick Walsh Smith. The groom was assisted by Mr. Denis King and the bride by Miss Teresa Walsh. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Lynch, P.P., at the home of the bride's father, about 50 of the friends and acquaintances participating.—Cor.

The Carbeneur Trouble

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Mr. Editor.—The prisoner Butt mentioned in yesterday's issue is not a resident of Freshwater, and never was. He is a resident of the Victoria Village section of the Carbeneur District. And giving every man his due, I am informed upon good authority that he was not the ringleader in the trouble. I am,

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES LENCH,
M. Minister.

Freshwater, Jan. 14, 1910.

Large Funeral.

The funeral of the late John McCarthy took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended. In fact the funeral was the largest seen since the death of Capt. Arthur Jackman. Three quarters of an hour were occupied in coming from Leslie Street to the Cathedral, where Rev. Fr. Fyde read the burial service. Interment took place at Belvedere.

FROZEN HERRING CARGO.—The schr. Aldine, loaded at the S. W. Arm, Green Bay, by C. F. Taylor and Capt. Daggett, left for Boston Saturday with a cargo of frozen herring.

Constable's Hard Time

Shortly before 6 o'clock Saturday evening Const. Martin, doing duty opposite the Post Office, saw a man named West, the captain of a banking schooner, acting in a very disorderly manner, and of course promptly placed him under arrest. West, however, kicked like a steer, but the officer threw him and tried to adjust the handcuffs on his wrists, but could not do so. He got part of the bracelet around one of the prisoner's wrists when a member of the crew, who was as pugnacious as their skipper, came on the scene and by main force took the prisoner and the officer up the street—the officer holding on to the one handcuff—and down Knowledge's archway to the Smith Co's. wharf, where the vessel lay. Martin was game and plucky and sooner than let go his man was tumbled down with the three into the cabin. Here Martin was viciously assaulted, but fought his way out of the cabin, and getting again to Water Street told his story to Head Peet, who with Const. O'Neill and Inspector Collins later boarded the vessel with Martin and arrested West with the one handcuff, which he could not relieve himself of, and the crew who participated in the attack on the officer was arrested and both were heavily fined to-day.

Ends Dyspepsia in Few Minutes.

Heartburn, Gas, Indigestion and all Stomach misery vanishes.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subjected to stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapiesin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourdest, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, Nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Diapiesin. Then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Bilioussness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your stomach is sour and full of gas or your food doesn't digest, then your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapiesin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach, misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

Died at Hospital.

Mrs. John Hogan died at the Hospital yesterday. Deceased, who belonged to Northern Bay, had an operation performed for internal trouble two weeks ago. The stitching broke and rendered a second operation necessary. Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan attended her last Saturday and administered the last rites of the church. Her husband was telegraphed to by Mr. Jesse Whiteway, M.H.A., Saturday. Hon. J. C. Crobie visited the Hospital yesterday and found that she was dead. They telegraphed Rev. Fr. Lynch to break the news to the relatives and let them know about the disposal of the body. A reply was received this morning asking that the remains be sent home. Deceased leaves a baby three months old.
