So Picayune.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

There are some people in this world who seem to think that what anyone is in the beginning he should continue to be all his life, and to hold any improvement up against him as "putting on airs."

I am thinking especially of the case of a young woman who by dint of hard work keen observation and a determined will to rise, has lifted herself to a position where she commands the society of people of breeding and standing.

She began as a girl in a factory. She started the work and managed to educate herself in stenography. From that she rose to an important secretarial position. She read, studied, associated with refined people, and naturally she has acquired a different manner and point of view.

Wants Us To Call Her 'Ann.'

You would think her people would rejoice in the improvement. But no. The other day her sister was speaking of her. "It makes me laugh," she said, "to see the way Annie puts on airs. Talks just so and goes about with all those high brow people, and wants to live the way they do. Doesn't even like her name any more, wants us to call her ANN. I can't bear to see people putting on airs that way. Why she was only a girl in a factory just a few years ago. I suppose she has forgotten all about that."

Why Shouldn't She Forget?

Poor Ann! Why shouldn't she forget? She hated it enough. And she certainly has earned the right to! I don't mean forget in the sense of growing narrow and unsympathetic and critical.

I know that people who have risen do sometimes criticize and look down upon their own. In that case you cannot blame those who are criticized for resenting that treatment and calling it putting on airs. That's just what it is, for any breeding that will act like that is not real breeding, but just put on.

She is Now a Social Leader.

Another case of which I often think is that of a fine looking, gracious mannered woman who is one of the social leaders in the delightful little town in which she lives. And yet I cannot tell you how many times I have heard new comers informed, "Yes," she puts on airs now but she was only a house-work girl when he married her."

Of course it's human nature to revenge oneself for other people's successes by such criticism. Death is not the only one who loves a shining mark. But it's so unworthy, so ugly, so picayune, that I should think people would hate to soil themselves by it.

Lachute, Que., Sept. 1908. Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gentlemen, — Ever since coming home from the Boer War I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many salves and liniments; also doctored continuously for the blood, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT. The effect of which was almost magical. Two bottles completely cured me and I have worked every working day since.

Yours gratefully,
JOHN WALSH.

THE MOSQUITO.

The mosquito is a small but high-powered insect with a roving disposition and a deft, two-edged stinger. It is one of the most unpleasant insects which grow in this country, owing to its clandestine methods of doing business, and can produce more pink blotches on the human cuticle than any epidemic of the scarlet fever.

The attribute of the mosquito which endears it to all mankind is its noiseless, long-stroke stinger, which is of the reversible type. The mosquito carries this weapon in its hip pocket, and sinks it into friend and foe with lightning-like rapidity. The average mosquito can discharge its stinger into the right ear of a heavy sleeper and get away before the latter realizes that he has been operated upon. This is the reason why so many mosquitoes are able to die at home among friends, leaving the record of a useful life and a long trail of ornamental bumps on the male ankle.

The brand found in the Panama Canal Zone a few years ago.

Some parts of the country carry a larger stock of night-blooming mosquitoes than others. The brand found in the Panama Canal Zone a few years ago probably has never been exceeded in bust measurement, general efficiency or enthusiastic devotion to the duty of the hour. This mosquito resembled an adult humming bird, and in the calm hours of the southern night could be heard distinctly at a distance of two miles, sharpening his stinger preparatory to perforating the American tourist. Many an American has gone to the Canal Zone with a sound, weather-beaten cuticle, only to return a few months later containing more artificial airholes than a shredded wheat biscuit.

The mosquito flourishes with more enthusiasm at a lawn social than any place else, and causes the guests to reach down over and over and paw wildly at their silk stockings. Bald-headed men distrust the mosquito, and seldom ventures out after night without a dome shield. There would be more deaths from mosquito bite if the mosquito did not feel obliged to sing a little song before descending upon its victim, thus enabling nervous people to crawl under the bed clothes and wonder if the mosquito followed them.

Hygiene and the bare hand have done a great deal to eliminate the mosquito, but the mosquito has about eliminated the practice of successful spooning at a moonlight picnic, so the score is even.

Your Boys and Girls.

Quite often the upholstery of a baby's carriage becomes faded, worn or soiled, but a new one can be made very easily. Cut a paper pattern the size and shape of back and sides of carriage and make a cover to fit out of white pique or a natural colored linen. Bind with a wash-braid and make buttonholes along the edges. On the upholstery of the carriage sew a pearl button and button the cover on.

Little children especially those nervous or highly strung are disposed to keep on crying when they get started. When you wish a child to stop sobbing get him to take a good drink of cold water. It almost always will stop the sobbing immediately.

Don't forget that children are more seriously affected by impure air than grown up people. Don't forget that lowered vitality makes children more liable to catch any infectious disease. Don't say don't to your little ones. Remember to tell them what they are to do, not what he is not to do.

Children's coats for fall are devoid of fur trimming.

Georgette tunics are sometimes worn over silk skirts.

Navy serge dresses have white satin collars and cuffs.

Very smart is a white muslin with coin spots of black.

The Gas Range!

The Gas Range means comfort for the housewife; shorter kitchen hours for her, and a cleaner kitchen. It is a great mistake to think that cooking with gas is expensive.

Whenever a woman becomes used to gas for cooking, thoughts of a coal or wood stove fill her with gloom. A gas range is so much easier to operate, so efficient for all kinds of cooking, and so much cleaner, that the idea of going back to the old style methods is decidedly unpleasant. Yet in winter many housewives think they must use a coal or wood stove, because there is no other way of heating the kitchen. THERE IS ANOTHER WAY AND IT IS FAR BETTER THAN THE OLD. Milady's Boudoir

BOW GRACEFULLY TO GRAY HAIRS.

When the first gray hairs appear it is a shock to most women. They feel that youth has suddenly been left behind, and that they have past into another world. The world of old age, and ugliness.

They determine to hide these gray hairs, either by a dye or possibly they will invest in artificial hair to cover all the offending grays locks.

This works all very well for a time, but the aftermath is bound to come. It doesn't take a very close observer to notice that the edges of the ears are soiled by the dye from the hair, or that even the whiteness of the neck is streaked.

Many women resort to a bleach and soon the hair near the roots is several shades darker than the balance of the hair. This means constant touching up at the roots, which soon results in brittle dry, broken hair. Soon the hair looks dull and lifeless and the owner would gladly give half she is worth if her hair could be at once transformed to its original color and condition.

Better by far to bow gracefully to the inevitable than resort to methods which deceive no one by their artificial mockery.
