Mr. St. John and His Favorite Theme, the Pig-Pen.

Dr. McKay (Oxford) on the Timber Limit Policies of the Two Parties.

The Financial Statement to be Made on Tuesday Mext.

Toronto, Dec. 9.-After the presentation of petitions, Mr. St. John (Opaddress by reading a piece that contained internal evidence of having the speaker told how the Conservabeen written by himself. The most interesting part of Mr. St. John's speech onsisted of a charge against a lumber firm, Moore Bros., who, he said, had attempted to defraud the government out of the dues on 13,000,000 feet of lumber by means of two sets of books. He went on to say that the government officer. D. F. Macdonald, had been in collusion with the company, and that, nevertheless, he was still at his post drawing his $2,000 a

The premier hauled him up in the wild whirlwind of his eloquence to remark that Mr. Macdonald had been discharged, not because there was any proof that he had been in collusion with the company, but merely because it was held that he should have discovered the fraud. The fraud had been discovered by an investigation instituted by the government. In answer to a question from Mr. St. John, the premier said Mr. Macdonald had since received temporary employment. Mr. St. John seized this statement triumphantly and added that the firm had practically escaped all punishment. Mr. Gibson then interposed to say steady, at 7c to 81/2c per lb for poor to that if Mr. St. John really wanted the facts all he had to do was to ask cables. Exports today, 317 beeves, 3,888 for the papers, and they would be brought down.

Mr. St. John attacked the government in connection with the incorporation of trust companies, for havers at $2 75 to $3; western calves at ing given a pledge to the honorable $2 50 to $2 75; city dressed yeals were member for Peterboro when the Promember for Peterboro when the Prowas incorporated that no further comby giving a monopoly to those companies now in existence.

Hon. Mr. Hardy rose to give the statement of the honorable gentleman an emphatic denial. There never had been any pledge given to any man or corporation that there would be no further trust companies incorporated.

Hon. Mr. Hardy-Not only has there not been five or six applications for incorporation, but I am not aware that a single application has been made. Mr. St. John reiterated that he had been told of five or six people who wanted incorporation as trust com-

Hon. Mr. Ross-Never a truer word Mr. St. John, continuing, replied to having misstated the facts in connection with what he described as "the now well-known piggery." He reiterated that every statement he had ever made in conection with it was true.

Hon. Mr. Davis-That it cost $35,000? Mr. St. John declared that he had never said it had cost $35,000. What is a piggery? asked Mr. St. John. Mr. Ross-A swinarium. (Laughter.)

Hon. Mr. Davis quoted from Mr. St.

John's speech at St. Thomas, as reported in the Mail and Empire of June last, in which the honorable gentleman mentioned as an illustration for the government extravagance the magnificent piggery that had cost $35,000. Mr. St. John denied the statement read from the paper, and then pro-ceeded at length to reaffirm his assertions in reference to the cost of the building and the solitary hog watched over by the lonely caretaker. There was some cross-firing between Mr. St. John and Hon. Mr. Hardy as to some pigs. Having closed the piggery issue, Mr. St. John objected to the change made in the supply of drugs to the Central Prison and prophesied that he central Prison and prophesied that he and his associates could win at the ensuing elections. Dr. McKay (Oxford) made an ef-

Why should they be amazed? Gentlemen had heard Mr. St. John's speech. Were they amazed that crowds went to hear him? (Laughter.) There was a license fee of $50 now for Wild West shows, and the people

ing. Mr. St. John had talked of the pro-American policy of Liberals. He desired to tell that gentleman that the Liberal party when it obtained power at Ottawa adopted a tariff giving a preference to British goods. true in effect that Canada had been rediscovered during the past year. In the face of all this he was surprised to learn that the Liberal Government of Ontario, according to Mr. St. John, was pro-American. The fact was that the only annexationist who ever held a seat in the legislature was a strong Conservative from Essex. (Applause.)
Mr. St. John-I said the government was pro-American only in reference to the timber question. Dr. McKay said the honorable gentleman had no right to say so, even in that respect. The policy of the Liberals compared with that of the friends of gentlemen opposite gave no warrant for such an assertion. The policy pur sued was in the interest of the country and far and away better than that of the late Dominion government. In the matter of alien labor legislation it was a fact that while the leadership of the Dominion government was in the hands of Conservatives no alien labor law was ever placed upon the statute books. Not until last session, under a Liberal government, had such a law been passed. (Applause.) The Liberals had always in province and Dominion stood for the protection of the rights of the artisan. (Applause.) Much had been said of the destruction of the lumber industry, and of the rapid sale of timber lands. During the whole of Sir Oliver Mowat's administration exactly 4,3951/4 square miles of timber lands had been sold. Referring to the statement of the premier that there were 24,000 miles of timber in one stretch still untouched, Mr. Miscampbell had asserted that the figure should be reduced by 50 per cent. Taking the opposition's own figures, 12,000 square miles, it would be found that at the rate at which sales had been made in the past quarter century there was timber land enough to last for the next 50 years. There was little danger, therefore, of the exhaustion of our resources. Long before that time the provisions for the protection and reproduction of our forest growth would have produced new areas which would come into the market. There would be no danger of direct taxation if the principles adopted by the Liberal party were carried out as they would be. The care exercised over the forest wealth by the government was in marked contrast to the action of the Conservatives, who, during the boundary dispute had given away the timber lands of Ontario to the friends of the Dominion government at $5 per square mile. Under provincial administration these lands were sold to the highest position) continued the debate on the bidder, irrespective of his political (Applause.) Continuing tives in the legislature in the days of the terratorial dispute had taken sides against the province and in favor of the action of the Dominion Government in seeking to control the terri-tory pending the award. Had their policy been carried out the province

Dr. McKay concluded by referring to the brilliant prospect of the Liberals winning in the ensuing provincial elections. They had a record and a policy that wins the support of people of all classes and conditions. In reply to Col. Matheson, Hon. Mr. Harcourt announced that the estimates would be brought down on Friday and the budget on Tuesday next. Mr. Haycock moved the adjourn-ment of the debate, and the house adjourned at 11:30 p.m.
