-With the Methodist Conference comes blessed rain. No greater boon could ch the people of the West at the present

-Port Huron has decided to lay brick rements on a five-inch concrete foundaan the brick sidewalks in the same city.

-The trade restrictionist leaders are frmed at the success of Hon. Wilfrid urier's tour in the West. They have ranged to send Sir Charles H. Tupper to anitoba to try to counteract the effect of r. Laurier's visit. This seems like sendg out a pigmy to overcome a giant.

The British postoffice has recently inoduced a new system of notation for its ate stamps. -President Allison, of Mount Allison University, New Brunswick, who is a delegate to the Methodist General Conference this city, was formerly superintendent feducation in Nova Scotia. He says that time Provinces, he knows of no country that s the equal of Ontario in educational work. While such independent testimony as this pleasing to us, we must not take it for granted that our system is perfect. Confessedly the best equipped people educationally, it may turn out on examination that our educational authorities are trying to do too much. That is, is there not a danger in the tendency to overweigh the pupil with too many studies at one time? Thorough training in a few branches, rather than the imparting of a smattering in many, should be the aim. Too many children attempt much and thoroughly finish nothing.

-The experience of the owners of the Central copper mine at Kewaunee, Mich., should be laid to heart by Canadians of enterprise. For 40 years this mine has dividends on an investment of $100,000. The vein had been worked by some perhistoric race, and it was the traces they left of their work that led to the discovery of the mine in 1854. The shutdown is due to the utter exhaustion of the vein. There are in Canada just as rich copper veins as this Michigan deposit has proved to be. There are just as valuable lead mines as are to be found anywhere in the world. We have mines rich in silver ore, too. All that we need is the removal of trade restriction and the influx of population and capital that would come naturally to us if trade freedom ruled instead of monopolist favoritism in the councils of this great Dominion. Fortunately, a brighter day is dawning.

FOUR MILLIONS SQUANDERED. The Toronto News is an opponent of the Liberal party, but it has the courage to

"When Hon. David Mills said the Federal Government was spending $4,000,told the literal truth."

That being the case, is it not time for every independent taxpayer to work for a change of Government? Under Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, Mr. Mills and their associates, the business of the country was managed for $23,000,000 a year. Now it costs from preferred the Catholic to the Methodist story of the dismissal and the causes $36,000,000 to $38,000,000 per annum. What a boon it would be to the farmers, merchants, manufacturers and their respective staffs if the $4,000,000 over-taxaspective staffs if the $4,000,000 over-taxa: His offense is aggravated by the fact that of the efficiency of Mr. Morrow, the registion for this year were now in the pockets he is Minister of Justice himself, and trar, and of the able manner in which the of the people, as it would have been under will soon rule at Ottawa,

THE GRAND TRUNK.

Bradstreet's, a recognized authority on ailway and financial affairs in this country, expresses the conviction that the Grand Trunk Railway, though exhibiting a great shrinkage in earnings during the first six 1 == months of the year, has held its own as well as the majority of its United States competitors. The first six months of 1894, reand earnings which the railroads of North America have over experienced. The Canadian roads may have had more than their share of it, and the Grand Trunk, depending as it does largely upon through business originating in the United States, may have suffered more than its due share of the reduction. At the same time it may be asserted that if a number of our leading an exact and separate statement of their earnings and expenses for the first half of the current year without being able to modify the decrease of the last six months by the somewhat better returns of the last half of 1893 or (as it is hoped) the improved traffic and earnings of the current six months, the figures would in many instances be much worse than those which

This is a truthful statement, and only does justice to the hard-working staff of the Grand Trunk, than whom there is not a more earnest, painstaking body of men in this country. The management, as Bradstreet's points out, is careful and vigorous, and the reduction of operating cost has been carried without doubt to as great lengths as were compatible with the ultimate economical operation of the property. Bradstreet's adds: "That it could not equal the reduction of gross revenue at a time of unparalleled traffic conditions should involve no reflection, and to American onlookers at least the great Canadian company has, all things considered, done very well indeed."

the dismay of the English financial press."

It seems that the first half of 1894, compared with 1893, brought gross receipts nearly $1,000,000 less, but the reduction of working expenses was $725,-000. A much better showing would n. The pavements will be disappointing had the company been able to obtain they do not have greater lasting qualities its coal and other necessaries free of taxation. In this respect, it is well to remember, the Grand Trunk and its work compared with its competitors in the United States, which enjoy these benefits.

> MR. LAURIER ON PROHIBITION. At the great mass meeting in Winnipeg the other evening, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier made the following references to recent developments with regard to prohibition:

"You know that the Minister of Finance has his moments of weakness as every other man, but he has also his moments of frankness. Some years ago I was told by the Minister of Finance that in one of his moments of weakness he had advocated prohibition for Canada in the year 1884, but seven years afterwards he admitted that his opinion had been formed in a moment of weakness, and that the matto stamp 12:15 a.m. as it is to write ter had better go no further. There was a commission appointed to sit and get information to enlighten us, but he could not, he would not, make up his mind as to what he would do. Well, this was three years ago, and during these three years we have not yet received the result of that commission. Three years have elapsed but the result has not yet been made known. It took six months to appoint three comwhile education is progressing in the Mari- missioners, and then it took the three commissioners two years to collect evidence, to draw a report which may never appear. I don't know how long it will take to publish and print the report. I doubt if we will have it at all. I think the Minister of Finance practiced a trick somewhat like a famous charlatan. Speaking to a crowd he said that he could take a donkey and teach it how to write. "Bring me a donkey," he said, "the most donkey of all donkeys, and I warrant that in two years I will teach him how to read and write and make him a professor." "Done," said the king of the country; "but mind you, if at the end of ten years the donkey does not read and write off goes your head!" "Accepted," said the charlatan, but one of hisfriends told him that he was sure to lose his head at the end of ten years. "Don't you fear," he replied; "at the end of ten years either myself or the King or the donkey will be dead." (Laughter.) Seeing that after three years we have not had the report, may I venture to say that Mr. Foster, when he issued that commission, said to himself, "Bebeen run. During this time the mine has fore this commission has reported, returned to its stockholders $27,000,000 in prohibition or the Government will be dead." Prohibition is not dead, at least not in Manitoba, if I am to judge by the last election. (Applause,) Prohibition is not dead, but the Government is very sick. Exeter. (Applause.) * * As I told you a Mrs. moment ago, I have received letters asking me to give my views upon certain matters.

I have been asked to give my opinion upon prohibition for Manitoba. This is a question upon which I have no hesitation to speak, because last year at Ottawa, as Mr. Mulock said, we dealt with that question. Then it was given much consideration. The Liberal convention dealt with it, and they pronounced upon it, and their pronouncement upon it was this which I am here to speak about. It was due to Sir Oliver Mowat in the Province of Ontario, and to Mr. Greenway in the Province of Manitoba, that a plebiscite was taken to to discover the opinions of the people of this country with regard to the question of prohibition, and I have only this to say here, that we will stand by the wishes of we will act according to the will of the people whose desires will be carried out. even if it were to throw out of power for ever the Liberal party. (Loud and con-tinued applause.) Sir, I do not desire to 000 a year more than there is need for he make any political capital out of this question. I am simply stating what is the

In relation to missions it is also moved that no new missions be established by a mously strenthened her forces, and there railroad lines were forced to make conference without the approval of the missionary board or its executive.

THE PASTORAL TERM. A fight is impending over the question of an extension of the pastoral term. The China squadon. matter has been argued and fought out vigorously at the preceding General Conference meetings, but dies hard. It is thought that it will get its death blow for a generation at this gathering. The vote for an extension of the term to four years made eight years ago at Toronto resulted in a vote of 86 for to 122 against. At the the Grand Trunk presents and which arouse last General Conference at Montreal the vote was 102 for and 131 against.

NOTES. The court of appeal meets again tonight. Courtney Fessey, of Toronto, the Ontario representative of the Montreal Daily Witness, is doing the conference for that journal. He is accompanied by Mrs.

A local photographer sent an invitation for the members of the conference to sit singly or in a body. It elicited a longdrawn sigh from one member. A committee got the communication.

The souvenir programme comes quite handy. It contains the names and billets of all delegates, a surface map of London, time tables, photographs of churches, etc. It is thought that the conference will last nearly three weeks. One hundred and forty-five memorials went to committee last night along with twenty notices of motion. Food for thought and discussion.

The gavel that Dr. Carman used is made of oak taken from John Wesley's chapel, City road, London, Eng. "Now, don't fall down and worship it," said the doctor, jokingly, "but it's a good enough gavel. If it is shown that 300 persons have traveled by rail to attend the conference, a free return fare will be accorded those attending. As many delegates have people are put at a distinct disadvantage brought their wives and friends it will be ascertained today if the number is in attendance, in order that advantage may be taken of the rate.

There is a striking resemblance between Dr. Potts, of Toronto, and the late Rev. George Boyd, formerly pastor of the church in which the conference is being held. BARGAIN DAY

The importance attached to Bargain Day is not the selling of any kind of stuff cheap, but it is giving the public the right kind of goods at the right prices. The very fact of the enormous trade that is being done here from week to week compels us to replenish our stock with new and seasonable goods in the same period. And buying in the best markets enables us to give you new and fashionable goods at low prices.
