The Santa Fe Railroad Co. has filed mortgages at Santa Fe to secure the payment of $96,990,500 worth of 100year 4 per cent bonds om several large railway lines.

Following are the official returns of braffic on the Grand Trunk railway for the week ended July 21, 1900, as compared with the corresponding period last year:-1900, $425,540; 1899, $420,138; increase, $5,403. In this return the Chicago and Grand Trunk earnings are

The Grand Trunk railway authorities have decided to improve the facilities at Point Levis for the medical examination of immigrants destined for the United States. The United States com-missioners hitherto have been compelled to put up with most crowded and inconvenient quarters, and have had the utmost difficulty in doing their work properly. The building will be Parge enough to comfortably house all the immigrants for the United States, so that the United States Commissioners will be able to conduct the regulation examination in their own building without being hampered by the presence of immigrants with whom they have nothing to do.

DAMAGING ADMISSION

Made by Trainmen in Connection With the Madoe Junction Disaster.

[Special to The Advertiser per G.N.W.] Belleville, Ont., July 28.-An inquest into the railway disaster which occurred near Madoc Junction, on Thursday, was opened last night before Coroner

Dr. Yeomans. After taking the evidence of several railway and some medical men, an adjournment was made until Monday

Conductor Kerr and Engineer Maybee admitted that they had left Belleville 35 minutes late and had lost the reckoning of the Peterboro train. They should have stopped at Foxboro, as the other train had the right of way. The Peterboro train, its conductor said, was five minutes late, and there was no order to detain it at the junc-the evening after a hard day's work. So it's the most natural thing in the world for them to go to the Riverside Park, where they are boosted out of the slough of monotony. To aid in the boosting process the Street Railway Company will offer an unexcelled series of war views. The effect will be instantaneous. The old axiom says that "Change is as good as a rest," and from scenes of excitement and action. the onlooker will come, refreshed and buoyant. The views will be shown by calcium lights, and by a new arrangement they will be seen clearly and mfortably. An added enjoyment will be the singing of a quartet out on the river. Old songs, of the kind that touch the heart, and are always popular, will be heard. Among them will be, "My Home Is on the Sea." "Sally in Our Alley." "On the Banks of the Thames." "The Minstrel Boy." and the old "Kerry Dance." Moving pictures are always popular, and good music is never monotonous. A lady on a Springbang car was overheard to say recently: "It's almost like stealing pleasure, to get all thi sfor ten cents." It doesn't strike most people that way, but there is something in the thought just the same. A person certainly gets the worth of his money when he pays ten cents for the trip to the park for the music and the moving pictures.

HARDWARE CLERKS AT IT. A jolly crowd watched a team from John Bowman & Co.'s wholesale hardtry conclusions with a picked from Westman's and Reid's hardwares last evening at Springbank. The game was snappy, and the spectators alternately cheered the same team on to defeat or victory. Among variety of brilliant plays the slide of Russ Elliott to second base deserves special mention. Umpire H. Clucas gave general satisfaction, though at times he certainly had troubles of his wn, when many players and spectators assumed defiant attitudes on account of difference of opinion. lowing is the score: R. Webster's International Dictionary. The most important book for stuscholars and the home, is a reliable dictionary. The best one in use at present is Webster's International Dictionary. This is the most practical working dictionary on the market, being easy to consult, and always accurate. Favorable comments from the most prominent scholars and professional men on the continent have been received by the publishers. This book is now an important work, being re-vised and completed up to date. It is printed in a superior manner, and is bound in sheep. No other dictionary has the prominence that Webster's International Dictionary enjoys. From the earliest necessity of the scholar for a dictionary, "Webster's" has been called into use. It is certainly the best work of its kind issued.

Legations Were Destroyed Previous to July 6,

Saysan Influential Banker From Pekin -All the Foreigners Gone.

London, July 28 .- The full text of the Daily Mail's telegram is as follows: "Shanghai, July 28. - Newspapers here publish a statement by an influential banker, residing in Pekin, near Shanghai, July 25, having left Pekin July 7. He states that the legations had then been destroyed. All the for-eigners had disappeared, but he could not say positively whether or not they had been murdered, as he was too frightened to inquire."

The Mail's correspondent proceeds:
"Investigations prove this information is reliable. The banker in question has gone to Ning Pe. His friends will not disclose his name, fearing that to do so would count his to be his here.

would cause him to lose his head.
"The manager of the Russian Bank of Shanghai has received a letter from the bank's New Chwang branch, stating that one of their Chinese represen-tatives from Pekin who had just arrived confirmed the report of the Pekin massacre. Torture failed to shake the man's statement. He declared that all foreign ministers were murdered. 'Seeing death was inevitable, as the Chinese swarmed into the legations the ministers killed their families at the last moment. Sir Robert Hart, in despair, committed suicide." SAFE AND SOUND. Paris, July 28.—The Chinese minister at Paris, Yu Keng, has received the following imperial decree, dated July

"The foreign ministers are happily at present safe and sound, except Von Ketteler. We are having the foreign legations supplied with provisions and fruit as a token of the interest we feel in them."

PESSIMISM GAINS GROUND

The Attractions At Springbank

As the weeks follow one after the other, the question that is heard most generally in this city is "What's going on at Springbank this week?" The Street Railway Company has educated the people to expect something good, and, having once created the demand, it is anxious—and, indeed, determined, to satisfy it. During the week that the "Passion Play" was presented, the fact was forced upon the company that such pictures are among the best attractions it is possible to procure. The immense crowds that went to the park proved this; so that it was not through chance but because of keen business acumen, that the management has arranged for the presentation of a splendid series of war pictures next week. Nothing could be more appropriate or more desirable. The pictures will appeal directly to the people's patriotism, that passion that is now so much in evidence, that has been aptly described as the most noble and unselfish of human traits. The company is not willing to trust to the worth of the pictures themselves, because no matter how excellent they may be, the desired result, that of satisfying the public, and thus promoting patronage, is not attained if they are not shown so that the best view possible may be given. By a new arrangement the pictures will be exhibited with the best effect and the most comfort to the public. For 10 cents, the price of the ride down and back, such an entertainment would seem to be a surfeit. More is offered, however. on the river, where sweet sounds are ever most melodious, a quartet will ever most melodious, a quartet will sing the old songs that are always popular. "The Old Oaken Bucket," "The Soldier's Farewell," "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," will be sung, and "The Old Folks at Home," and that deepest of all old record." that dearest of all old songs, "Annie Laurie." Classical music doesn't count for much with the multitude; it is such songs as these that are sought after always.
