AMERICAN MARKETS. CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Strength in the coarse grains helped all markets today, and December wheat closed 1/4c higher, December corn le up, and December oats like advanced i rovisions closed 2/4c to advanced; provisions closed 2½c to advanced. Wheat trading was dull 17/2c advanced. Wheat trading was dull and narrow: December opened a shade to 1/3c to 1/4c higher, at 721/3c to 721/4c, on better cables than had been expected, but better cables than had been expected, but fluctuated between these prices until just before the close. Receipts liberal, particularly in the northwest. Late reports stated that the rains in the southwest had not brought relief from the drought; but clearances were light, and the probability of large world's shipments to be reported on Monday, steadied the market. The corn bulge, as much as anything, perhaps, brought the slight advance. Toward the end of the session covering by shorts brought a slight ad-

BYLAW WILL BE BEINFICIAL

Effect of the Proposed Regulation for Sanitary Plumbing.

Will Insure Good Work and Material for the Property Owner __ The Law's Good Points.

After three years of endeavor, Dr. Cl. T. Campbell has succeeded in having the plumbing bylaw pass its first reading, and it will likely become effective in the near future. The bylaw has gone through the course of re- Two More Canadian Soldiers "Mustered questions that the aldermen, for reasons that they best understand, do not bring to an issue.

When the city's sewage system was submitted to the provincial board of health for approval, that approval was granted, subject to this condition-that the city should pass a promodel bylaw of the provincial board bylaw prepared by the Ontario Plumbers' Association were combined. It was then revised by the city engineer and the engineer of the waterworks, and ought to contain all ment reports that Rudolph Saeur, of year it was referred to committee His father resides in Quebec. and buried with other business that he aldermen did not wish to tackle. The reason has been that it was thought by some desirable to have a plumbing inspector to enforce the bylaw; and there were difficulties in the way of appointing such an officer.

The regulations of the bylaw are two-They provide the material and method of construction, so as to produce the best sanitary results; and at the same time insure for the propertyholder good material and work for his For example, it determines what kind of pipes shall be used drains, and how they shall be laid, with the style of traps best suited; the minimum size of soil pipes and material of which they are to be made; character of water closets in houses and how they should be ventilated; the manner of making connections in plumbing; the proper ratio of size to weight in different kinds of pipe used; the manner of jointing pipes, and other particulars.
In order to insure the enforcement of the bylaw, it is provided that when a plumber has a job to do, he shall apply to the city engineer for a permit, and shall submit the plans and specifications of his work. If they conform to the regulations, the permit is granted. The architect should see to it that the plans are carried out. Of course, if there is no architect it might be said the property-owner would be at the mercy of the plumber, because there could be no official inspector. But the danger will not be great. Any plumber will be willing to live up to the regulations when he knows that they apply to everyone; and if he should not, becomes subject to the penalties of the bylaw as soon as his defects are discovered. It might be better to have an inspector; but even without that official, it is well to have the rules laid down and the defaulting plumber

BAYLEY'S

REVEALS A ROMANCE

Daughter of the "Last of the Dandies" Discovered in a Workhouse.

London, Nov. 25 .- There is at least ne person in London not connected with Her Majesty's Theater who is deeply interested in the duration of the run of "The Last of the Dandies." Early last week an elderly lady called on Mr. Beerbohm Tree and told him that she was a daughter of Count D'Orsay. This daughter produced a certificate of birth and other documents proving her statement, which inquiries also substantiated. She is a skillful pianist, speaks English and French well, but has fallen on evil days, and is now in a London workhouse. Mr. Tree is making her a ekly allowance during the run of the piece.

MONKEY'S TAIL BOA

Englishwoman Startles Monte Carlo With an Ouistiti on Her Shoulder.

Monte Carlo, Nov. 25 .- Yesterday morning I saw something entirely new in the way of boas.

A very fashionably dressed English woman, out for her morning walk, was the originator of this new style. On her shoulder was seated a beautiful little black and white "ouistiti," and his long bushy tail, which was twice the size of the little monkey, was twisted around the lady's neck. It must have been delightfully warm and, were it not for the fact that accidents will happen even to the best mannered little monkeys, the fashion might spread.

FRANCE WANTS

Government Takes Up the Question of Repopulation.

Talk of Changes in the British Coronation Ceremonies-Queen Wilhelmina's Condition Much Improved.

Paris, Nov. 25 .- Anxiety over the depopulation of France resulted in an interesting debate in the senate Saturday when M. Waldeck-Rousseau, the premier, accepted, in the name of the government, a proposal for the nomination of an extra parliamentary commission to seek means of increasing the birth rate and diminishing mortality. The proposal was countersigned by 133 senators. Senator Bernard, in proposing the inquiry, compared the peopling of France with that of other nations throughout the 19th century. At the beginning of that century France had 26,000,000 inhabitants, Germany 15,000,-000 inhabitants, and England 12,000,000 inhabitants. Now France has 38,000,-000 inhabitants, Germany 56,000,000 inhabitants, and England 41,000,000 inhabitants.

He combatted the theory that in population quality is better than quantity. His remedies were the adoption of fiscal measures in favor of large families, and, above all, legislation to check the terrible mortality among infants.

Another speaker declared that it was well known that the baby farming system in France resulted in the death of 80 per cent of the infants so reared. THE CORONATION CEREMONIES. New York, Nov. 25 .- Keen interest has been excited by a report, for which a ritualistic paper is responsible, that the ceremonies of doing homage and anointing with oil, and the celebration of the holy communion will be omit-ted from the coronation service, says the London correspondent of the Tribune. It seems improbable, however, that the statement is well founded. Nothing is known at Westminster Abbey of such changes, and the English people generally would view with regret the abrogation of the service in any way. The homage is a survival of the old recognition of the sovereigns of the people, and, although it is no longer necessary to kiss the King's foot, this was done certainly as late as the coronation of Edward VI. The ceremony of anointing dates back to a very re-mote past. Every English monarch, with the exception of James II., has partaken of holy communion at the coronation services.

ATTACK ON COLON

MORE BABIES! Preparations Making to Bombard the Town-Instructions Cabled From Washington to the U. S. Naval Commander at That Place.

> Colon, Columbia, Nov. 25-9 a.m.-No evening train left Panama yesterday. The government troops are attacking the Liberals at Culebra. The government gunboat, General Pinzson, left her anchorage close to the other warships last night and is now reported to be landing troops on the north end of Colon. There is much commotion in the streets. People are seeking refuge on board the United States gunboats Marietta and Machias, and along the railroad and on the piers. Washington, Nov. 25.-The United States Government has taken charge > of the Isthmian transit. A dispatch received at the navy department to-day from Capt. Perry, of the battleship Iowa, at Panama, reports that fact. Capt. Perry says that General Alban, with 600 men, is fighting the Liberals in the line near Empire. Transit is in danger of interruption. Captain Perry has landed with a detachment of men from the Iowa and has started with a train to clear the transit and also to establish a detachment of men to keep it so.

Commander McCrea, of the Machias, at Colon, has cabled the navy department, notifying the department of the approaching bombardment of that town and asking for instructions. He has been instructed to take such steps as he deems necessary for the protection of American interests at Colon-REBELS DEFEATED.

Washington, Nov. 25 .- Mr. Hererra, charge d'affairs of the Colombia legatoday received the following cablegram:

THE BONINE TRIAL

Testimony of Policeman Drew and Also of the Man Who Saw a Woman Go Down the Fire Escape.

Washington, Nov. 25 .- The trial of Mrs. Bonine for the murder of Jas. A. Ayres, jun., last May, was resumed this morning. Frank Drew, the Capitol policeman, who was on the stand last Friday when the court adjourned, resumed his testimony. He swore that he had several times seen the defendant come out of Ayres' room. The last occasion was about a week before the tragedy. It was night, about 9 o'clock. Thomas M. Baker, an employe of the fish commission, who resided in the building adjoining the Kenmore, testified that on the night of the tragedy he had been awakened by the report of pistol shots. He jumped out of bed, went to the window and heard a voice from above inquiring what was wrong below. He replied had heard pistol shots. Then, while standing at his window, he saw a figure on the fire escape, just outside Ayres' window. The figure walked the length of the fire escape in his direction and then descended two flights to the floor of the veranda, where it disappeared into a window. It was the figure of a small woman, clad in dark, tight-fitting clothing. The woman wore no hat, and, as he did not hear footsteps, he judged she was in her stocking feet. He said her manner had been very deliberate.

HAS A KINDLY HEART

King Edward Cares for His Old and Faithful Servants.

King Edward VII. of England has a heart as kindly and tender as ever beat in a human breast. Other faults he may have, but he never forgets one who has done him or his family long and loyal service. One of the most efficient and faithful officers, Captain E-, on a certain royal yacht, is or has been a man of very moderate means. To hold a commission in the British navy is an expensive proposition, which calls for an independent income many times in excess of the actual pay. Especially is this so in the case of the royal craft, on which during the season there is one con-tinuous round of entertainments. The officer in question had a growing family, a home that befitted his social station and little more than his pay. For some years he battled with the situabut at last, worn out and heart sick, determined to resign and enter the merchant marine. In some way or another the King heard of his resolve. Less than a couple of months ago, Captain Ewas surprised and even alarmed to receive a peremptory com-mand from the King ordering him to report at Buckingham Palace forth-

But his reception by his majesty was of a most cordial nature. some prelminary, the King said: "I think you are entitled to a holiday in return for your years of work on the -. So that you had better take this." The astounded officer was handed an admiralty order granting him a year's leave of absence on captain's full pay. "You can renew that at the end of the year if you so desire," added Edward VII., with a significant laugh. "And, by the way, this may interest you." - was here given a letter offering him command of a superb and newly built liner, one of several running between London and an English colony. The letter was to the effect that the personal recommendation of the King was the cause of its being written. The overwhelmed captain never quite remembered how he got out of the palace. But he is now monarch of an ocean liner.

ROOSEVELT UNDERSTANDS. New York, Nov. 25 .- At the seventh annual banquet of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, in Delmo-nico's, Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, said: "There are only two men in our history who fully under-stood the south-Lincoln and McKinley. If Lincoln had lived there would have been an end of carpet-baggism, and if McKinley had lived he would have reunited the discordant sections of the south, for more than any other man, he understood them."

WHERE TENNYSON WASN'T POP ULAR.

A poetical traveler, stopping at a Georgia inn, dismounted from his horse and called to the landlord, who was lounging on the veranda:

Wrinkled ostler, grim and thin. Here is custom coming your way; Take my brute and lead him in— Stuff his ribs with moldy hay." "Ef you say that agin'," said the landlord, "I'll lamm you side the head with this hickory. Thar's a nigger here to look after the horses.' "My good man," explained the traveler, "I meant no offense. I was only quoting Tennyson."

"Hang Tennyson!" exclaimed the landlord, "an' tell him I said so. Neither him nor you kin make a stable boy o' me."-Atlanta Constitution.

IT IS AN OFFICER OF THE LAW OF HEALTH.—When called in to attend a disturbance it searches out the hidingdisturbance it searches out the maing-place of pain, and like a guardian of the peace, lays hands upon it and says: "I arrest you." Resistance is useless, as the law of health imposes a sentence of perpetual, banishment on pain and Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was originated to enforce that sentence.
