Negro Y. M. C. C.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 7. - The Negro Young People's Christian and Educational Congress, said to be the largest gathering of negroes ever held in this country, opened in the agricultural building at Piedmont Park, with an attendance estimated at 5,000 delegates.

Medals for Brave Men. Hamilton, Aug. 7. - The Royal Canadian Humane Society medals awarded the five heroic men who risked their lives in the rescue of Sanford, who was entombed at the occasion of the Paris fire, will be presented on Wednesday, Aug. 13, at Paris, by the society. It will be a half-holiday in Paris in honor of the occasion.

Dispute Disposed Of. Toronto, Aug. 7. - The Ontario Government yesterday disposed of the dispute between the Canadian and Ontario Niagara Falls power companies, by passing a general order in council providing that all plans and specifications, whether concerning structures within the park, or on the bank or projecting out into the stream shall be submitted not only to the park commissioners, but also to the Government. This will avoid hasty action in any case, and will not involve delay.

THE KING REACHED LONDON

WITHOUT THE LEAST FATIGUE

Apparently Well Able to Pass Coronation Ceremony.

NO BULLETINS AFTER SUNDAY

The Last Will Then Be Issued to Show How His Majesty Bore Saturday's Ordeal.

London, Aug. 7. - An official bulletin issued today says: King Edward bore the journey to London yesterday without the least fatigue. His majesty had a good night and is in excellent health. The wound practically is healed.

A bulletin will be issued on Sunday next. Sunday's bulletin will be the last, and it will be issued only with the object of placing on record how the King bore the coronation ceremony.

EVERYONE DELIGHTED. London, Aug. 6. - Judging by appearances the King not only will be able to go through the coronation ceremonies, but will be perfectly capable of performing all functions of the service without discomfort. His return to London was accomplished without any ill effects and his first public appearance since his operation delighted even those who had the most serious apprehensions with regard to the King's condition.

The group of railway officials and a few court functionaries who awaited the train exhibited many signs of uneasiness, which were not lacking among the crowds that jammed the approaches to the Victoria station, in which a squad of Life Guards had been placed. A four-hour royal carriage, with red-coated outriders, was drawn up to await the arrival of the train.

WALKED TWENTY YARDS. The King, accompanied by the Queen and Princess Victoria, stepped out of the car and walked across a high bridge to the Victoria station, in twenty yards, to his carriage. The Queen and Princess Victoria entered the Victoria, and the King followed, apparently without difficulty. The royal servants placed rugs about his knees. The King stood up straight, as if he never had any illness in his life, though his head to the front of the platform and the crowd behind the barriers. He seemed to be in the best of humor and was evidently delighted to be back. He drove out with the top of the carriage down. His face was perpetually lighted with a smile of satisfaction and he looked anything but exhausted.

AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE. The Prince and the Princess of Wales drove over to Buckingham Palace from York House, and just before their majesties arrived they appeared on the balcony and were loudly cheered by the crowds outside.

The demonstration increased as the King approached, and after their majesties had entered the palace the crowd sang "God Save the King" several times. The admiring comments of the crowd along the King's route from Victoria station to Buckingham Palace were mingled with expressions of amazement at the appearance of his majesty riding in an open landau, and much of the time bareheaded, he having removed his silk hat.

The King kept continually bowing and smiling in response to the cheers of the people. The following official statement was made at Buckingham Palace tonight: "His majesty has borne the journey excellently and is very well indeed."

THE KING LOOKS BETTER. It was common comment that the King had lost weight and looked better for it. His manner was animated, and there were no signs of weariness or illness. The Queen was as handsome as ever, and the Prince of Wales seemed bright and cheery. The King is clearly bent upon relieving public anxiety regarding his health by allowing court functions to take their course and stopping the talk about his being an invalid.

ATTENDING TO PUBLIC BUSINESS. He has also directed his ministers to no longer spare him from the fatigue of public business, and is making appointments as though he were completely restored to health. The theory that the King is self-willed and that the physicians are incapable of offering resistance to his wishes is not tenable. Sir Francis Laking may be repudiated as the cause of the royal breath, but Sir Frederick Treves is a surgeon of genuine force of character and both rough and masterful in his relations with his patients.

THE ROYAL GUESTS. The Prince Regent of Saxe-Coburg is the earliest among the royal guests to arrive for the coronation, and about one dozen blood relations of the King are expected from the continent.

CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. The King's improved health has increased the probability that Mr. Balfour will reconstruct the cabinet at once and then be free for the unrestrained enjoyment of golf. Hon. C. T. Ritchie remains the favorite candidate for chancellor of the exchequer, not because he is suspected of being a great financier, but mainly by the process of exclusion, every other rival being pronounced unfit.

PROPOSED EVACUATION to the other powers, but it was quite impossible for Great Britain to evacuate alone. In the case of all respects, Great Britain must have the most-favored-nation treatment. The Government hoped that negotiations for a commercial treaty would have been concluded before now. The abolition of the Ikin was the most important object. It was hoped that a joint strategic agreement between Great Britain was in no way insecure, and that her influence was high. The Government was striving, he said, to reconstruct the cabinet as soon as possible, and he thought the sooner Shanghai was evacuated by the international forces of the army and navy, the better they should stay. LONDON HONORS TWO WAR LORDS

Presentations Made to Both Roberts and Kitchener by the Corporation.

London, Aug. 7. - The corporation of the city of London celebrated the conclusion of peace in South Africa last night with a banquet at the Guildhall, tendered jointly to Lord Roberts, commander-in-chief of the forces, and Lord Kitchener. Both guests were presented with addresses commemorating their distinguished war services and in the case of Lord Kitchener, paying special tribute to his conduct of the negotiations which led to the surrender of the Boers. The address to Lord Roberts was inclosed in a golden jeweled casket, elaborately designed. At the request of Lord Kitchener a silver plate service was substituted for the gold casket intended for him.

Lord Roberts, responding to the presentation speech made by Sir Jos. C. Dimsdale, lord mayor of London, paid a tribute to Lord Kitchener as "the general whose guidance had brought the war to its successful conclusion." Lord Kitchener, in turn, alluded to Lord Roberts as the "ever victorious field marshal."

Wanted Lively Music. St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 7. - Sam Pryor, noted band master and father of Arthur Pryor, the celebrated trombonist, is dying at his home in this city. When it was evident this afternoon that death was near, Pryor summoned his band and ordered the leader to conduct a concert of lively airs. The band played by the sick man's window.

THREE R'S IN U. S. POLITICS

President Schurman Shouts for Reciprocity, Reciprocity and Revision.

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 7. - President Schurman, of Cornell, addressed a large audience of townspeople and summer students of the university on the Philippines question. He practically repeated the address which he made at Chautauque on Saturday, saying in substance that he was satisfied with the action taken by the last Congress, and that the question would enter into American politics for three or four years to come. In the future the question of independence or statehood for the islands must be decided. In speaking of the issues in the coming campaign he said:

"I believe the people want to endorse the three R's, namely, Reciprocity, the nation's duty, and revision of the tariff, the nation's interest."

JAPAN WINS THE RACE

Marcus Island Claimed by America Under Flag of the Mikado.

Tokio, Aug. 7. - Japan has won the ocean race for Marcus Island, with its millions of wealth in guano deposits. The Imperial cruiser Kasagi returned here Tuesday from the island, where it left a dozen marines to hold the territory until diplomatic correspondence between Japan and the United States settles the question of ownership. Capt. Andrew Rosehill, the American who claims the island by right of discovery, had not arrived when the Kasagi left for Japan. The Japanese are elated over their success in getting to the island first, as it was feared that when Rosehill left Honolulu he had the start of the cruiser.

It is feared that he will clash with

FOREIGN POLICY OF GREAT BRITAIN

Attacked by Several Members of the Opposition.

THE EVACUATION OF SHANGHAI

Proposed by Viscount Cranborne - Great Britain Is Not Behind the Other Powers.

London, Aug. 7. - In moving the appropriation bill in the House of Commons Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, ex-claimed that he thought it desirable to enable the chancellor to borrow funds, when necessary, pending the gathering in of the taxes, by the issuance of treasury bills instead of borrowing on no better security than an "I O U" of the chancellor, as heretofore customary. Sir Michael added that the Government expected to have to borrow £15,000,000 ($75,000,000) to meet the deficiency in the next quarter, and unless the suggested better security should be forthcoming the money market might be seriously discommodated.

During the discussion of the bill, the Government was severely criticised by various members regarding its policy in Europe and in China. It was alleged that Lord Salisbury had quarrelled with France and Spain, had alienated Turkey, had driven Italy into the arms of France and had failed to resist Russia, while persistently courting with obsequious compliance and one-sided treaties.

CRANBORNE'S DEFENSE. In the course of a general reply, Viscount Cranborne, under secretary of the foreign office, made a reference to the treaty with Germany by saying that if a treaty existed it was secret, and that it was necessary that the Government could not publish the terms thereof. He denied the alleged quarrels with European powers, declaring that the position of Great Britain was in no way insecure, and that her influence was high. The Government was striving, he said, to reconstruct the cabinet as soon as possible, and he thought the sooner Shanghai was evacuated by the international forces of the army and navy, the better they should stay.
