HALF IN JAIL

Serious Attention Called to Affairs in Ireland.

VOLCANIC VIOLENCE IN SICILY

American Generals Mistaken for Boers-Frankfort People Hailed Them as Heroes.

London, Sept. 29 .- Affairs in Ireland are attracting serious English attention, which is not characterized by the political rancour which usually accompanies all Irish questions. The refusal of the leading landlords to attend Capt. Shawe-Taylor's projected land conference has caused keen regret on the part of many government supporters, though others believe nothing would have eventuated. The olive branch having been rejected, affairs are now perhaps more hopeless than ever. The Nationalists continue their anti-government campaign, while the government retaliates by enforcing the crimes act, until it seems almost probable that half of John Redmond's party will be in jail before Christmas. In a pessimistic editorial, dealing with the Earl of Dudley's entrance into Dublin as Lord Lieutenant, on Thursday, the London Times somewhat sadly admits that perhaps it would be better for the country if the lord lieutenancy were abolished and Ireland governed on the same lines as Scotland.

VOLCANIC ACTIVITY. London, Sept. 27 .- A special dispatch from Rome, after confirming the reports that Stromboli has been in full eruption for some time past, says: "The night scene was grand, but terrifying. Lava streamed down the mountain sides seawards, whilst huge boulders were hurled from the crater to a great height, falling into the sea fully two and a half miles from the shore.

The director of the observatory at Mount Etna says there have been no earthquakes in Sicily, but that probably there has been a submarine eruption between Stromboli and Sicily.

Catania, Sicily, Sept. 27.-The whole country about Mount Etna has suffered greatly. Mount Etna is sending up a thick column of steam from the vicinity of the scene of the eruption of 1892. Two fresh craters have opened on Stromboli since Sept. 14.

Paris, Sept. 28 .- Three earthquake shocks were felt Saturday night in the district of Moutiers-en-Tarantaize. Department of Savoie.

PRO-BOER FEVER. The pro-Boer fever is not yet extinct in Germany. This was brought home to the American generals, Corbin, Wood and Young, the guests of the Kaiser at the army maneuvers in Frankfort, in a very amusing, but peculiarly embarrassing, manner. For several days the newspapers had been anticipating the arrival of the Boer generals, Dewet, Delarey and Botha, in this city. So when Gens. Corbin, Wood and Young were spied among the royal guests, with their simple khaki uniforms and slouch hats, they were at once mistaken for the Boer leaders. Wherever they stopped groups of soldiers surrounded them, while camp followers cheered the approach of the American generals with cries of "Hoch lebe die Buren!"

TWENTY-SIX KILLED.

In the disaster that happened on Saturday to an express train running from Lille to Paris the locomotive and tender were upset and the carriages were pi d up and smashed to pieces. The bodies of 16 men, 2 women and 2 girls, all French, were taken out of the wreck. About 50 persons were injured, and many of them are not likely

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

There is no disputing the fact that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only actual and positive cure for piles that has ever been offered for public sale. Day after day there appear statements in the newspapers from persons who have been cured. Ask your friends and neighbors about this great ointment. Mr. P. S. McLaren, farmer and con-tractor, Tiverton, Ont., states: "I was troubled for 20 years with itching piles, and during that time suffered a great deal. They bothered me most when I would get warm in bed. I would wake up in the night and lay for hours suffering the greatest agony. I cannot imagine any greater distress than the

NOVELIST ZOLA ASPHYXIATED

Mme. Zola Appears to Have Had a Narrow Escape.

DEATH SAID TO BE ACCIDENTAL

But It Is Stated There Are Indications of Suicide-Reached Paris Sunday.

Paris, sept. 29.-Emile Zola, the novelist, who was born in Paris, April

2, 1840, died this morning. Zola was found dead in his house from asphyxiation. His wife is gravely ill. It is said that the novelist's death was accidental.

2:01 p.m.-M. Zola was asphyxiated by fumes from a stove, the pipes of which are said to have been out of order. At the same time it is stated that there are indications of suicide. Zola and his wife returned to Paris yesterday after having spent three months in the country.

It is hoped that Madame Zola will Emile Zola was born in Paris, April 2, 1840. He received a liberal education and was for several years in the employ of the publishing house of Hachette & Co., but left it in 1865 to devote himself exclusively to authorship. He wrote voluminously for newspapers, and published many books. He also produced several comedies. His novels have been severely criticised as being immoral, but they are professeddisastrous effects.

Paris home from his country house ast Medan, and owing to a sudden spell of cold weather here he ordered the heating stove in his bedroom to be lighted. The stove human to the stove hu lighted. The stove burned badly, but Zola and his wife retired at 10 o'clock last night, and the servants, not hearing any movement in the apartment this morning, entered the bedroom at 9:30 and found Madame Zola lying on the bed inanimate.

Zola was lying half out of the bed, with his head and shoulders on the floor, and his legs on the bed. Doctors were summoned, but they faied to restore Zola to life. After prolonged efforts they resuscitated Madame Zola.

RUMORS DENIED. rumor circulated regarding Zola's supposed suicide from poison was based on the fact that ejections from his stomach were found on the floor. But the doctors say they came from Zola's dog, which was also in the bedroom, and which did not suffer from asphyxiation. Zola dined with a heard in the bedroom during the night.

PRESENCE OF GAS. Some workmen arrived at the Zola residence at half past 9 this morning in order to make certain repairs in Zola's bedroom, but the servants had already became alarmed at hearing no sound from the room, decided to enter it, and burst the door open. A slight vent the hops from maturing. The odor of carbonic gas was at once Western Washington crop will amount noticed, and the bodies of the novelist to 18,000 bales as compared with 22,000 and his wife were found in the posi-

Fishing for Coal.

New York, Sept. 29 .- Owing to the high prices for coal, organized plans for securing supplies of the "dusky diamond" from the waters of Long Island Sound will be put in operation this week, says a Bridgeport, Conn. dispatch to the Times. Many barges loaded with anthracite have been wrecked in the Sound. A company has been organized to recover this coal by means of "Sweep" boats, which will be used to locate the wrecks. A diver will be sent down to each wreck and if the outlook is satisfactory powerful pumps will be put to work, the coal will be sucked up and run over screens into the dredger.

HOLIDAY SEASON COMES BELATED

The Warm Weather is Weeks Behind Schedule.

MANY TEMPTED TO LEAVE TOWN

London Puts on Autumnal Garb-Confusion Rife on the South Side.

London, Sept. 29 .- "I believe you have had a rather bad summer," said an Anglo-Indian, just home from the east, the other day. "No," said a friend, meeting him at the railway station, "we have had an cold of the previous week. There surely never was known such a late holiday season, so the railway people say. People had been anxiously waiting all through the summer for a spell of good weather which never came. This week the exodus of both professional and tradespeople to the coast and country has been unprecedented. Trains have been running all out of gear, owing to extra carriages having been put on at the last moment or to being split in two portions. Railway men say this has never been known so late in Septem-

THE PNEUMONIA BLOUSE.

Even with all this exodus London is looking unusually bright and gay. The fine weather has encouraged the women to don their lightest summer attire, which has been so little in evidence hitherto. What has been dubbed the "pneumonia blouse," a thin, gauzy thing, cut low at the neck, and which bosoms are only partly hidden in lace, also the so-called Panama and other straw hats, have made a sudden reappearance.

Though the residential flats in the West End look gloomy, with shuttered windows, the parks are very bright. The trees, which ought to have been shedding their leaves, are only beginning to don their autumn dress, while flowers which ought to have bloomed and died are now opening all their beauties to the sunshine.

IN DESHABILLE. London, especially the West End, is now en deshabille. It is having its autumn cleanup. Roadways are being repaired, and statues and public buildings are having their faces washed for the winter. The clubs are beginning to reopen, after the annual cleaning, ly designed to make vice odious by ex- and their members, arriving in town hibiting it in its native deformity and from their holidays, are more disposed to patronize hotels, complaining of too

But it is South London which is suffering the most, owing to the electrification of the tramways between the city and the suburbs. All along the route are to be seen vehicles of all kinds, jumbled up in picturesque confusion. Especially at night, when the workmen labor by the light of naphtha lamps, crowds are standing around careful progress, getting off the track, or sometimes a wheel coming off. Then one may see a score or more of cars coming from each direction, standing in long lines waiting for the block to be removed. Or it may be a heavily laden horse truck, which gets upset. When finished the new system will be a great improvement on the old one, but at present the confusion is
