Mysterious Death of a Wealthy Scottish Lady—Exposure Probable Cause.

LOOKING FOR HER MAID

Woman Identified as Lady Marjorie Erskine-Maid Has Suddenly Disappeared.

Glasgow, Aug. 30.—On the 26th inst. he dead body of a woman was found on the moors, in a remote part of Scot-land. A large sum of money was on her person, and the body has now been identified as that of Lady Marjorie Erskine, second daughter of the Earl of Buchan.

There is no evidence of foul play, and t is believed that she lost her way and died of exposure. A man, who was searching for white peat here, found the body lying in a secluded spot on the historic rock of Craigillachie. Lord Card Ross, the deceased's brother, identified the remains from the clothing. Among the papers found on the body was a receipted bill bearing the name of a hotel at Kingussie. Inquiries show that Lady Erskine, accompanied by a maid, arrived at the hotel on July 30. She left the following day, requesting the management to keep any letters sent to her there, as she intended motoring past in a few

The maid stayed at the Kingussie day longer, and then wenth to Perth. Letters were sent to Lady Erskine at the Kingussie Hotel. The maid, who had since returned to England, is being sought to answer questions regarding her mistress' movements. At resent there is nothing to indicate the cause of death. The body had apparently laid on the spot where it was found for a month. It was taken to In- Methodist Conference Leaves It verness, where a post-mortem will be held. The police are very reticent.
