With a continuance of the popularity of the sleeping porch, local architecture is likely to be considerably modified. A great many householders are planning to have sleeping porches added to their present homes. Almost Every New House of DOCTORS INDORSE THEM

Popular Belief is That Sleeping Out MRS. H. A. BOOMER ABLE TO PRESIDE

The latest in Lealth fads is outdoor sleeping. Londoners especially are coming to regard it as the only infallible remedy for all the ills that man is heir to. If your grandfather was tubercular, if intemperate living has inclined you to the gout, if the sharp twinges of rheumatic pains forewarn you of approaching thunderstorms. If you have "that tired feeling in the spring," hay fever in the summer, malaria in the fall, or indigestion at Christmas time, sleep out of doors, and you will live forever and dle with a surfeit of good health.

Outdoor sleeping is better than all the osteopractic, mental science, and drugless healing that has been inverted from the time of Mesmer and P. P. Quimby right down to Bernard McPadden and Evelyn Arthur See, Unlike other health fads and systems the medical profession are viewing if with favor, notwithstanding that it promises to do far more by way of adding a silver liming to the pockets of the architects and building contractors than in making a larger practice for the doctors from the occasional case of pneumonia contracted by the over-zealous devote of the system, who takes up the fad without due moderation in the beginning.

Indorsed by Doctors.

Several local physicians told Advertiser that the new system will oblige them to take down their office signs. Some of the architects are of the opinion that in devotion to the new fad a great many people in building new homes are sacrificing beauty to usefulness, and hence the sleeping-porch innovation is regarded with diverse views among the house designers.
