Rev. William Fansher Recalls Incident in His Early Days of Preaching.

RETIRED AT 85

Career Was Begun on Horseback, Pioneer Methodist Clergyman Tells People

Special to The Advertiser.

Aylmer, Jan. 29.—Rev. William

Fansher of Aylmer, one of the first Methodist divines in Western Ontario celebrated his 85th birthday, which occurred on Jan. 22, by delivering a remarkable sermon at St. Paul's Methodist Church. His voice still as its oldtime power, and his thoughts were clear cut and to the Truly he is a remarkable man for his years.

Rev. W. Fansher has been a Meth odist clergyman nearly all his life He was born in Euphemia Township Lambton County, on Jan. 22, 1839, and entered the ministry in 1861. He began his career on horseback and now, he says, no one knows how to ride a horse, it is all trains, trolleys and motor cars.

He started out a Methodist Epis copal and saw the union of the var-lous Methodist bodies; in fact, he was a delegate to the first union conference, and he says he hopes to see the Methodist and Presbyterian ohurches unite.
In his own words, Rev. Fansher comments: "Men are seeeking now for circuits of but one or two, as few as may be, of appointments. Will you believe me when I tell you my first circuit included points in five townships? I got around it once in four weeks, preaching three times on Sundays, besides holding one to three Farmers Reach Definite Deweek-night services every week. My salary the first year was the sum of $60, and out of this I was expected to board myself and keep a horse. I obtained a regular boardingplace, where I was charged something like 75 cents a week.

"I have had all sorts of experiences in my day, some of them striking enough for the plot of a novel. Once I had a marriage ceremony forbidden at that selements." at that solemn moment when objecbridegroom objected because her son was too young. Another time a man ing of the wheat pool committee of came for me to perform a marriage the United Farmers of Manitoba, some four miles out of town. The which was appointed at the recent house was all decorated, the bride-groom had arrived, and several neighbors strolled in. When ready for the ceremony I began the solemn lines of the ritual, 'Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife -?' 'I will,' came in firm ready officially known as the Manitoba tones from the groom.

CHURCH UNION WOULD STRENGTHEN COLLEGE

Closing of Queen's Theological College May Be Avoided Through Union.

Canadian Press Despatch. Kingston, Jan. 29.—It is believed in university circles that instead of causing the closing of Queen's The ological College, church union will tend to make this theological insti-tution larger than ever. The reasor iven is that there will be a larger eligious community from which to raw students for the ministry. raw students for the ministry. queen's Theological College is well ndowed and it has cost the Presbyterian Church little to continue it. The chamber feels that the Chinese laundry constitutes an unfair competition for the white establish-ments. It also wishes to find out whether there is any unfair discrimination against the white laundries in the interpretation of the factory act, or any of the provincial health

Ald. Greer, who attended the meeting on behalf of the city council, told the directors that there was great difficulty in renaming streets and numbering houses in those streets which lie partly in the city and partly in the county. The directors decided to refer the matter to the Ontario Town Planning Commission and to ask its advice.

Sewage disposal as part of the scheme to purify the Thames is an item of great interest to the chamber. Ald. Greer pointed out that the city council was deeply interested in this question, and that as far as finances would allow, would do all in its power in 1924 to advance this line of civic

The directors will suggest to the city council that the building of the rest room be proceeded with in spite of the fact that the county council has shelved the question until June If the city council will go ahead with the rest room, the chamber will undertake to raise the remaining 30 per cent of the cost.
