ITALY APPEALS TO CANADA IN RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Goal of $100,000 Set for Southern and Western Ontario District.

Chevalier L. Zunini, Royal Italian Consul-General, to Handle Fund.

Italy's magnificent fight in the Alpine mountains of Austria is costing hundreds of thousands of brave Italian soldiers' lives. An appeal is now being made by the

CHEVALIER L. ZUNINI, Royal Italian Consul-General to Canada.

Government of Italy to the people of Canada through Chevalier L.
Zunini, Royal Italian Consul General, Montreal, for the Italian Red Cross and orphans of her fallen heroes, sponsored by the youthful Crown Prince Umberto di Savoia, to meet pressing needs.

In answer to this appeal, Southern and Western Ontario have fixed a goal of $100,000 to be raised by popular subscription during August and September. Royal Italian Consular Agent Giovanni Danovaro at Welland has been appointed official representative of the Italian Red Cross in this division. L. P. Shumway and L. Porter Moore, of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. of the United States, and associated with the War Council, American Red Cross during its recent successful drive for $100,000,000 in the United States, officially represent the Italian Red Cross as divisional directors and campaign organizers.
Their headquarters are at Brantford.

Through Colonel Noel Marshall, chairman of the Central Executive Committee, the Canadian Red Cross has pledged its support, and that of all local units is asked, for the Italian Red Cross campaign. "Every dollar that is given will make its bond between Italy and Canada. Let us show our Italian friends within our borders that we hold in grateful regard the land that gave them birth; that we appreciate her tremendous sacrifices in the great cause for which we fight, and that we cannot regard with indifference her noble contribution to the success that is yet to be ours and hers," is a recent editorial comment on the Italian Red Cross campaign in Canada.

Here's a Sure Road to Wealth

In the September American Magazine a writer in the family money department says:

"There is one sure road to wealth.
It is not a get-rich-quick scheme, no wildcat mining venture, no war baby speculation: it is simply a commonsense way of attaining a small fortune in a strictly legitimate way.

"One dollar invested in a savings bank each week for twenty years would amount to $1,612.

"Five dollars deposited each week for the same length of time would become $8,000. The interest on this $8,000 would be $6 a week.
Anyone following out this plan of weekly deposits of $5 for twenty years could at the end of that period draw out of the bank $6 a week as long as he lived and still leave to his wife and family at his death not only all he deposited but half as much more.

"The young man of twenty who will save 27½ cents a day in a savings bank paying four per cent. compound interest, and keep up these payments or deposits till he is 70 years of age would have a fortune of $29,000, which would pay interest of $22 each week. This interest would be about ten times the amount saved each week."

GRAFT IN THE ORIENT.

An Incident That Illustrates the Way of the Far East.

I had had experience with corruptible Turkish officers, and one day when barrack conditions became unendur-able I went to the officer commanding our division, an old Arab from Lata-kieh who had been called from retirement at the time of the mobilization.
He lived in a little tent near the mosque, where I found him squatting on the floor nodding drowsily over his comfortable paunch. As he was an officer of the old regime, I entered boldly, squatted beside him and told him my troubles. The answer came with an enormous shrug of the shoulders.

"You are serving the sultan. Hardship should be sweet."

"I should be more fit to serve him if I got more sleep and rest."

He waved a fat hand about the tent.

"Look at me! Here I am, an officer of rank and"—shooting a knowing look at me—"I have not even a nice blanket."

"A crime! A crime!" I interrupted.

"To think of it, when I, a humble soldier, have dozens of them at home!

I should be honored if you would allow me!" My voice trailed off sugges-tively.

"How could you get one?" he asked.

"Oh, I have friends here in Saffet, but I must be able to sleep in a nice place."

"Of course. Certainly. What would you suggest?"

"That hotel kept by the Jewish widow might do," I replied.

More amenities were exchanged, the upshot of which was that my four friends and I were given permission to sleep at the inn—a humble place, but infinitely better than the mosque. It was all perfectly simple—Alexander Aaronsohn in Atlantic Monthly.

MILLION ACRE FARMS.

Those Are the Kind, as a General Rule,
They Have in Mexico.

In the United States the farmer is a humble person. In Mexico he is a king of millionaires. You look out across a level plain and you see a magnificent house of stone, cement and great timbers, covering sometimes as much as half an acre. Surrounding it are other houses, hundreds of them, but all small, constructed of adobe, brush or even of cane stalks. You are not looking at a town, but at a ranch settlement. In the great house, which costs many times more than all the little houses put together, live the hacien-dado and his family. In the little houses live the peons.

The typical farm in Mexico is not of 100 acres, but of 1,000,000. In the state of Morelos twenty-eight haciendados own all the agricultural lands; twelve own nine-tenths of them. The territory of Quintana Roo, double the size of Massachusetts, is divided among eight companies. The greater portion of the state of Yucatan is held by thirty men, kings of sisal hemp. A major fraction of the agricultural and grazing lands of Chihuahua is owned by one family. Lower California, equal in size to Alabama, is nearly all held by five great corporations.

The 1,000,000 acre farms lie mostly fallow. Naturally a rich agricultural country, Mexico does not produce enough corn and beans to feed her own peon population. Modern machinery will never be used extensively so long as the peon is so cheap that primitive methods are cheaper than machine methods.—World Outlook.
