The University and Bellevue Hospital Medical College.

The union of the Medical Department of the New York University and the Bellevue Hospital Medical College projected in 1897 has been consummated. The two medical schools now united and with greatly increased facilities and an enlarged faculty, will be conducted as the Medical Department of the New York University.

The Session begins on Monday, October 3, 1898, and continues for thirty-two weeks. Attendance on four courses of lectures is required for graduation. Graduates of other accredited Medical Colleges are admitted to advanced standing. Students who have attended one full regular course at another accredited Medical College are admitted as second-year students without medical examination. Students are admitted to advanced standing, either on approved credentials from other Medical Colleges or after examination on the subjects embraced in the curriculum of this College.

It is designed to make this pre-eminently a school of practical medicine, and the course of instruction has been arranged with this purpose constantly in view.

The annual circular for 1898-9, giving full details of the curriculum for the four years, the Regents' requirements for matriculation, requirements for graduation and other information, will be published in June, 1898.
