NOTICE.

This Office is closed for business on all Catholic Holy Days of Obligation.

THE Catholic Record, of London, Ont. says: "Mr. Curran, M.P., is, if we are to believe the general report, about to enter the Cabinet. Should this be the case Sir John Macdonald will again have shown his sagacity in putting the right man in the right place."

MOSTREALERS will be glad to learn that steps are being taken by the government to reorganize the city post office stuff and improve the internal accommodation of the building. So long as efficiency is secured, the personnel of the proposed changes is of little interest to the general public, except the natural desire to see good and faithful service rewarded by promotion.

If the sareastic paragraphs in the United States press have any foundation in fact, the Civil War pensioners bid fair never to become extinct and the erop of claimants to increase each successive year. Not so in Canada. The roll of pensioners for the war of 1812 is rapidly decreasing in number. This year the Adjutant-General reports only thirtynine survivors in receipt of the statutory Dension allowed.

RECEST railway accidents in several cases having been traced to mistakes made by telegraphers, a bill has been proposed at Albany, which prohibits railroad corporations from employing any person as a telegrapher who is not of proper age, who has not successfully passed an examination, and who does not hold a certificate for competency. It also provides that railway corporations shall impose no other than telegraphic duties upon operators. The bill has been severely criticised on the ground that the companies are responsible pecuniarily for any loss or damage caused by the incompetency or overworking of their telegraphic operators. A careless, or sleepy, or inattentive, or uncomprehending the most practical way possible. operator might cause damage a hundred times more than his salary. Self-interest, more powerful than laws, operate with managers, as with other men. It is possible that some legislation in regard to railroad telegraphy is needed, but it is not believed to be in the direction indicated by this bill.

a land of storm and snow. But while Canadians have had, on the whole, a pleasant if somewhat severe winter, and recently, the ordinary spring advance, with all railway trains on time, and roads in a fairly good condition, the telegraph brings us reports of heavy snowstorms and blockades in Great Britain. Even away as far south as Kansas, the Southern | million six hundred and fifty thousand Pacific Railway is reported blocked with snow drifts to the depth of tive to forty million ounces over 1889. to be made lively and compromises evidently no pessimist, but it is difficult pears to entertain of an early revival of the fortunes of the old party.

VIEWED from a business point alone, the proposed exhibition at this city should have the support and encouragement of our merchants and manufacturers. In addition to the ordinary run of the autumn trade, it will attract a large number of visitors from all parts of the United States, as well as of the Dominion. As most of those visitors would come with an eye to business, there is a well-grounded probability of many of them becoming new customers and thus extending the trade of the city. Toronto has had experience in this way which repaid the expenditure it made on its exhibition many hundred fold. There can be no doubt but that the same results would be obtained by Montreal if her citizens only show the same public spirit and enterprise.

It is to be hoped that the collapse of the large building being erected in Dominion Square will serve as a caution to those who seem to think that it is absolutely necessary, when any important structure has to be erected, to go to the United States for an architect. We feel confident that any Canadian architect would have made better calculations and better allowance for climatic conditions than appears to have been done in the present case. The citizens have cause to be thankful that the badly constructed building did not stand long enough to be formally "opened." Had it done so there would in all human probability have custied such a horrible massacre as would have made the Utopia catastrophe an ill affair in comparison.

A xew way of dealing with the drink aroblem has been suggested. It is to stablish a government, or, as we would ay in Canada, a Provincial Incorate Asylum, and compel these who make and sell liquor pay for its maintenance Thus each distillery would be taxed one iousand dollars, each wholesale hease five hundred, and each retailer one hundred dollars. Thus, instead of sending drunkards to jail, they would be treated as insane and confined till cured. There are obvious objections to this scheme, besides its involving a principle which no government will admit. Drunkmess may be a disease, but, as a vice, it s decreasing. Young men, it has been well said, are learning every day the commercial value of temperance. Concivial habits are now regarded by business men as an absolute bar to employment. The man who drinks is no longer tolerated in a place of trust by hardheaded employers. The plain lesson of the times is that drink and success are incompatible. Thus, reason, common sense and necessity are every day helping forward the cause of temperance in

HUNTINGDON ELECTION.

The comments of the press on the reent election in Huntingdon are very amusing. Of course an Irish Catholic would have no business claiming any sympathy from the organ of Hon. Minister Duhamel. The true meaning of Le National occasionally manifests itself in the utterances of our Castor friends. There is not much cause for regret at this want of sympathy in so far as Huntingdon is concerned. La National is merely making itself ridiculous in mentioning a Catholic of any race for that constituency. When the Orange lodges substitute wishes of the Dictator of Quebec. It is that of King Billy, it will be time enough to but forward a Catholic candidate in the classic regions that have recently the inflated tyrant is taught a lesson the proper person to represent them in the Dominion Parliament.

TRADE RELATIONS.

The opinions of Mr. Erastus Wiman are not, of themselves, of any special value, but he has doubtless been in the inner circle of those conspirators against the existence of this country whose machinations were so substantially rebuked on the 5th of March at the polis. #### RECEPTION AND ENTERTAINMENT.

The Sons of Erln in St. Ann's Ward Unite in Honoring Mayor McShane and Mr. J. J. Curran, M.P .-Address by St. Ann's Young Men's Society.

As was anticipated, the St. Ann's Hall was filled to its utmost capacity on Easter Monday evening, on the occasion of the reception given by the citizens of St. Ann's Ward to His Worship Mayor McShane and Mr. J. J. Curran, Q.C., M.P. Among the vast audience present were noticed several leading citizens and elergymen, including Rev. Fathers Catulle (paster of St. Ann's Church), Strubbe, O'Meara, Shen; Bro, Arnold, Director of St. Ann's School Aldermen Cunningham, Malone, Tansey, etc. The entrance of the guests of the evening was the signal for a load and long continued burst of applicate, and after the orchestra had played an overture, comprising popular Irish airs, the President of the St. Ann's Young Men's Society, Mr. John J. Gethings, stepped to the front of the stage and read the following address:

To His Worship Hon, James McShane M.P.P., Mayor of Montreal; and J. J. CURRAN, Esq., Q.C., M.P. for Montreal Centre:-

GENTLEMEN,—The Irish citizens of St. Ann's Ward, irrespective of party, are proud of the happy occasion which is afforded them of giving expression to the feedings of admiration and gratitude which they entertain towards you; and the members of the St. Ann's Young Men's Society, voicing the sentiments of the people, beg to extend to you a hearty Irish Coad Matte Figithe to our gathering here this evening.

its grand fraditions and aspirations. He resumed his sent aimds prolonged applianse.

The dramatic section of the Society then presented their new three-act Trish dramat, entitled "The Plan of Campaign," the first production of which took place on St. Patrick's Night. Several new and attractive features were infroduced into last evening's performance, which were much appreciated by the audience. The cast of characters was the same as on the first possentation of the piece, with the addition on new somes and dances by Messis Minogue, casey, Holland and others. The play ran smoothly and the performance throughout was most creditable to all those who took part. The young men evidently created a very favor, abec impression on all present, and which will not doubt have the effect of inducing their numerous friends to "come again" in large numbers to the next encertainment of the St. Ami's Young Men's Society.

Malsonneuve.

The design of Mr. L. P. Hebert, of Paris, for the statue to the memory of Maisonneuve, the founder of Montreal, which it is intended to erect in Place d'Armes Square, has arrived. The statue is expected to cost $10,000. The statue is of bronze, nine feet high, standing on a polished red granite pedestal of twentyone feet, making the total height 30 feet, and represents Maisonneuve pointing out the site for the settlement. On the pedestal there will be two large heads, representing the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers, from the mouths of which water will pour, and on the other two sides an Indian and a farmer. All four figures will be in bronze.
