b. Canada-U.S. Joint Committee

As discussed for countervailing duty cases (see section IV.A.1.c. above), the ITA could establish a Canada-U.S. Joint Committee to resolve new dumping issues.

Sec. 15(1)

c. Modify Below-Cost-Sales Rule

As part of its determination of the U.S. and foreign prices of the products in question, the ITA makes adjustments for a number of factors, including commissions, marketing costs, packing costs, transportation costs, taxes, etc. As noted above, the principles applied by the ITA in this determination are relatively straightforward and predictable.

However, one of the required adjustments -- for below-cost sales -- may no longer be appropriate after the elimination of tariffs. Currently, the antidumping
