

ines constitute the garrison, but fresh troops and regiments decimated on the fighting line flow in and out of the city in endless streams.

AN IMPORTANT VICTORY.

At every point the situation favors the allies, in spite of grave losses and all the stress of the three-month campaign. South of Arras, French columns today dislodged the Germans from favorable positions, which they took a couple of weeks ago as the initial success in their move toward the coast.

There are many reports of German reinforcements numbering 200,000 men to be brought from the Russian front for the effort directed at Boulogne. But whatever the extent of German reinforcements, it is declared that the allies are prepared to meet them man for man.

INDIAN TROOPS WIN AGAIN.

One of the most stirring incidents of the recent fighting concerns the British East Indian troops, all of whom would seem to be on the front. A wounded English officer who reached London today says a few Indians a couple of nights ago slipped forward thru the grass to a German detachment protecting a supply train and several batteries.

With the stealth of jungle creatures they came upon the sentries of the foe and strangled one after another of the outposts. Then they set fire to the thicket in which the artillery and supplies were concealed. A fierce attack immediately followed, preventing any effort to extinguish the blaze.

When it was burning fiercely the Indians suddenly fell back, and almost immediately there was a series of terrible detonations as the ammunition wagons blew up, scattering death in every direction. The Germans in the vicinity of the spot were almost totally destroyed.

This officer says that the British commanding the Indians have great trouble in restraining their men when once their blood is up and the excitement of the chase gets hold of their fierce natures. They are for rushing the Germans in and out of season, going forward with wild shrieks, which strike consternation into the opposing ranks.

Their audacity, which strike consternation into the opposing ranks. Their audacity, which strike consternation into the opposing ranks. Their audacity, which strike consternation into the opposing ranks.

A message from Amsterdam declares that there was a trace on a portion of the front Wednesday, but this is without confirmation, further than the fact that several correspondents declare that they did not hear any firing on that day. It is said also that five wounded men reached Bruges on that day.

GERMANS RUSH BATTERIES TO COAST. The following despatch has been received from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company: "It is reported the Germans are bringing heavy batteries to the Belgian coast to enable them to control the entrance to the Scheldt and to the North Sea between the sand banks and the coast. The British ships will be obliged, therefore, to pass on the high sea.

"German airships which flew over Warsaw dropped bombs on the railway station, which was destroyed by fire. "In the fighting at Ivangeord the Austrians have taken 100,000 prisoners and 19 machine guns."

VISCOUNT MONCK'S HEIR KILLED. A casualty list dated Oct. 24 and Oct. 27, issued tonight, gives the names of 23 officers killed, 48 wounded, and 17 missing. Among the killed are Captain the Honorable Charles Henry Stanley Monck of the Coldstream Guards, heir of Viscount Monck, and Lieut.-Col. W. L. Loring of the Royal Warwickshire Regiment.

In the list of wounded appear the names of Major Lord Eame Charles Gordon-Lennox of the Scots Guards, second son of the Duke of Richmond; Lieut.-Col. G. P. T. Fielding of the Coldstream Guards; Bevet Lieut.-Col. C. G. Stewart of the Royal Field Artillery, and Lieut.-Col. Hugh Davis White-Thomson of the Royal Horse Artillery.

BRITISH CAPTURE BAVARIAN BATTALION. In a despatch from Flushing, the correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "There has been a slight advance by the allies toward Ostend. The British are occupying two villages which they carried by bayonet charges. A Bavarian battalion refused to fight and surrendered."

GERMANS SEEK TO DRIVE WEDGE. Telegraphing from northeastern France, a correspondent of the Central News says: "The situation around La Basse is being carefully watched. The Germans have adopted the tactics which proved so successful at Antwerp. They are apparently endeavoring to drive a wedge into the allies by their weight of gunfire.

"North of Lille all continues well, tho the Germans have brought up powerful reserves. "The Belgians once more are in the thick of the fray."

KING ALBERT INSPIRES TROOPS. The Exchange Telegraph's Amsterdam correspondent sends the following proclamation, issued by King Albert to the Belgian troops: "Our towns have been burned and our houses destroyed, and there is mourning over the whole country. But more terrible disasters will follow if we don't free the country of the invaders.

"That is your imperative duty, and it is a duty you can fulfil with the assistance of our allies."

EIGHTY-SIX SANK WITH RUSSIAN CRUISER. Canadian Press Despatch. TOKIO, Oct. 30.—(11.15 a.m.)—The officers and 84 men on board the Russian cruiser Jemchug were killed when the German cruiser Emden torpedoed and sunk her in Penang harbor.

ALLIED FORCES WIN IN KAMERUN. Canadian Press Despatch. PARIS, Oct. 30, 2 a.m.—A despatch to the Havas Agency from Bordeaux says: "A report received here from Gen. Dobell, commanding the French forces operating against the German Kamerun, Equatorial West Africa, says that two Franco-English columns occupied Edoa, Oct. 26, after serious fighting in which the allied troops showed great bravery."

Edoia is an important railway station on the Salanga, 90 miles from the coast.

DEARS IMPRINT OF PRINCE LOUIS

Churchill So Declares in Accepting First Sea Lord's Resignation.

Birth and Parentage Impaired Usefulness in the Present Crisis.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Prince Louis Alexander of Battenberg, who today resigned as first sea lord of the admiralty, following a certain amount of criticism because of his German nationality, was received by the King on resigning his appointment. The King directed that the prince be sworn as a member of the privy council.

The prince wrote to the Right Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, as follows with regard to the incident: "I have been driven to the painful conclusion that my birth and parentage have, in effect, been impeding, in some respects, my usefulness on the admiralty board."

Churchill's Appreciation. Mr. Churchill wrote in reply: "I cannot further express the wish you have, during the last few weeks, expressed to be relieved from the burden of responsibility which you have borne with so much honor and success."

The enormous impending influx of capital ships as well as the thirty or more on hand at the present time, in knot critics, the destroyers, the submarines, all unequaled in modern construction, which are now coming to hand, are the result of labors we have had in common and wherein the admiralty board owes much to your aid. The first step which secured the timely concentration of our fleet was taken by you.

"I must publicly express my deep indebtedness to you."

TORONTO HAS BEST INDIAN PAINTINGS

Sir Harry Johnston Hopes They May Be Reproduced for European Museums.

Effects of the War in Last Lecture at University, Lecturer Draws Map of the Future.

Professing his remarks by a flattering reference to the Ontario Museum, Sir Harry Johnston lectures last night on "Causes and Consequences of the Present War," in which he cited far-reaching causes, and gave his idea as to how matters would be adjusted themselves after the present struggle is over. With General Melgoun, he proposed to refer to the museum in his lecture, and that he was particularly impressed from an anthropological point of view with the splendid paintings of the North American Indians.

The probable features of the world's map after the war were given by Sir Harry, who said that the colonies of Great Britain and France, and that those powers would obtain the Turkish Empire, and a seat on the German throne, together with certain parts of the Mediterranean coast, and a seat on the German throne.

"I will be invaded by the sea in a matter of months when the heavy rains of this fall set in, and the march is made possible. The missing link in the Canadian railway will be secured with the occupation of German territory in the interior of Africa.

Kluchau would be ceded to Japan, or at least it would not be taken by any German power. Tribute was paid to German colonization, and it was said that upon the whole the native populations had been benefited by the German occupation.

Grateful tributes were paid to Sir Harry Johnston by President Falconer, who referred to the great work which the noted explorer had done, and the pleasure which he had given to Toronto audiences. Sir Harry left last night for Ottawa, where he will deliver an address before leaving for the United States.

MAGISTRATE COHEN SAYS ICE CREAM IS A FOOD Dismissed Case Against Joseph Shipman, Who Sold the Confection on Sunday.

Magistrate Cohen in the afternoon police court yesterday, when the law for a man to sell ice cream on Sunday, was charged with selling the cream on Sunday at 111 Elizabeth street on October 25th. Judge Cohen dismissed the case. "Judges rule that a man may sell ice cream on Sunday," he said.

He contended that if gasoline is a necessity to a motorist, ice cream is a food. A chairman had a victualler's license which permits him to sell ice cream six days in a week. He admitted that he had sold ice cream on Sunday. The authorities in the municipality department may make a test case of this.

SPEAKER SPROULE FOR THE SENATE?

Report at Ottawa That He Soon Will Be Appointed.

Special to The Toronto World. OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—Gossip in Parliament Hill given credence by The Evening Journal and The Free Press is that the speaker of the House, Mr. Sproule, will soon be called to the senate and will be succeeded by Richard Blain, M.P. There are five vacancies in the senatorial representation of Ontario, and these will be filled at an early day in the event of their being another session of parliament before an election.

The vacancies are occasioned by the death of Thomas Coffee of London; George Cox of Toronto; Sir George Ross of Middlesex; William Gibson of Beauséjour, and D. McMillan of Ganungary. If the usual procedure is followed two of the new senators will be Roman Catholics.

The cabinet shuffle, begun with the reorganization of the cabinet, is not completed, and it is only a matter of time until either Sproule or Blain will be called to the senate. Hon. Dr. Roche at his own request and on account of ill-health will be transferred to a less laborious office. He has only remained at the urgent request of the prime minister until the cabinet could agree upon his successor. The gossip is that the prime minister desires to promote Mr. Melgoun.

No Doubt of Move. Hon. Dr. Sproule may continue to head over the house should there be a short non-contentious session in January, but there seems to be no doubt as to his going to the senate. Undoubtedly Mr. Blain would have been the next speaker, but his appointment as minister of inland revenue leaves no Conservative member from Quebec with sufficient parliamentary training and experience to succeed Dr. Sproule, and Mr. Selwyn, M.P. for Dorchester, who succeeds Mr. Blain as deputy speaker, is quite satisfied to retain that position till the end of the next parliament.

KNOWS NOTHING OF IT. BRAMPTON, Oct. 29.—Richard Blain, M.P., asked The World if he was to be reported in Ottawa that he was to succeed Hon. Dr. Sproule as speaker of the House of Commons upon the appointment of the latter to the Dominion Senate, declared that he knew nothing whatever about the matter, and that so far as his knowledge went the report was without foundation. Mr. Blain added that he would be distressed to hear of a house and to the country to have Dr. Sproule relinquish the speakership.

FIRST WOMAN DOCTOR

Dr. Emily Howe Stowe's Life Reviewed—Bust Unveiled at City Hall.

Over 300 friends and former admirers of the late Dr. Emily Howe Stowe attended the unveiling of a plaster bust of the city hall last evening. The bust was unveiled by two grand-children of the late doctor, and Mayor Hocken accepted it on behalf of the Corporation of the City of Toronto.

Mrs. Flora McDonald Denison, an intimate friend and co-suffrage worker with the late Dr. Stowe, read extracts of documents and minutes of old club and suffrage meetings, which showed clearly the guiding hand and influence of Dr. Stowe in this work since the inception of the first organization, which had for its object the obtaining of equal rights for women. In 1857 it was on Dr. Stowe's motion that a small club was organized, which had for its object the creation in the minds of Canadian women the belief that woman was not receiving her right place in the world. Then the Toronto Suffrage Association was formed, with Dr. Stowe as its first president. In 1887 she headed a suffrage deputation to the legislature, referred to as one of the greatest that ever waited upon that body.

After formally receiving the bust, Mayor Hocken declared the City of Toronto to be a better city after because of the influence of this good woman. While he had never taken an active part in the furthering of the woman's suffrage cause, he was heartily in sympathy with the movement and had, as far as possible, done what he could to further it in municipal government. He declared himself to be not in favor of militant methods of obtaining the vote, and said that he felt sure the late doctor was not a sympathizer with militant methods. He hoped he would live to see the day when the women of this city were on an equal footing with men.

Dr. Margaret Johnston gave an address in commemorative of the more personal side of the woman's life. After she had been refused entrance to Toronto Universities she is said to have started a school for her own use. She lived to see her daughter, Mrs. George Gullen, become the first woman graduate of a Canadian university.

"A good wife, a good mother, and a splendid representative of the best of the woman's life," said Dr. James W. Brough also spoke. Dr. James W. Brough was chairman.

GERMAN IDEAS WORKED OUT WITH THORONNESS

People Regard Government in Same Way as U.S. Citizens Worship Washington.

Jessie Melville, the young Toronto teacher who has returned from Germany, addressed the members of the third grade of the teachers' convention at Manning Avenue School yesterday afternoon on "German Methods of Education." She declared that they worked to be called nothing but diabolical.

"From their grades the people were taught that their enemies were hungry enemies waiting to take a slice of their country. They were taught that the government was always accepted, and any action they obeyed with bated breath. The address to the German people," asserted Miss Melville, "is a wholehearted approval of the German people, as they are, and as they were in the past, and as they are in the future. When she asked for her bill she was refused on the grounds that two weeks' notice must be given, and she was refused to take away her personal belongings only after paying for an extra two weeks."

The convention was attended by delegates from ten different schools, each grade from the kindergarten to the commercial having a school to itself. Addresses were given by a number of noted educationists, among whom were Hughes, M. McIntosh, M. Parsons, Goggin and Principal Spence of Kent School.

GREAT MASSES OF RUSSIANS IN PURSUIT OF FOE

Germans in Poland Half Way Back to Their Own Frontier. RESERVES ARE COLOSSAL.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, Oct. 29.—The extent of the Russian victory in Poland grows with every fresh despatch. The German army is now half way back to their own frontier and great masses of Russian soldiers are pursuing them relentlessly. Several fierce encounters are reported. A late message says: "The great battle to the south of Warsaw is still fiercely continuing. At many points the enemy is being forced back. Beyond Radom the Russians have now developed an attack from the east as well as from the west and are forcing the pace with great results."

The Germans are astonished and distressed to find themselves always pitted against fresh troops. Full of energy. The secret of this is the Russian custom of keeping an immense reserve for every army, changing regiments frequently and never leaving the same men on the firing line long enough to become stale.

"This way, in addition to the weight of superior numbers actually engaged, the vastness of the czar's army is beginning to tell. It is showing a marked influence on the campaign, leaving the Germans fewer and fewer."

Army Gazette says that prisoners passing thru Kiev admitted they were glad to be captured. They have discovered that the Russians are only outnumber them, but are not more deadly and infantry reserves are now being developed.

All-Conquering Cossacks. "As for the Cossacks, their mode of attack, following no rule, pouring over the enemy lines a stream of lava, destroying all before it, has the effect of causing wild panic. In the expected onslaught and threw away not only their rifles and haversacks, but also their overcoats, their gas bottles, abandoning their machine guns and water casks."

On the third day three regiments of Hungarian Hussars made a brilliant charge against Russian batteries at the edge of a wood. The Hungarians, who had faced the guns fearlessly, were seized with uncontrollable terror. The shrieks of men split by lance charges seemed human.

An attempt to rally the Hungarians were useless, a half of a quarter of an hour the field was for nearly a mile strewn with men and horses.

Past Masters' Association Appoints Committee to Select Music Suitable to All.

One of the subjects under discussion was that of the membership, which was brought up by L. J. Clark. The main discussion of the evening was regarding the adoption of a universal musical ritual for all the lodges throughout Ontario. A. B. Hutchins and Geo. H. Mitchell were appointed as convenors of a committee which will meet and draw up a ritual suited to the Ontario Masonic lodges. This is the first of the kind, as heretofore the various lodges had rituals of their own.
