DAILY MAGAZINE PAGE FOR EVERYBODY

Clara Morris Says_ FEMININE FOIBLES : By Annette Bradshaw Secrets of Health and Happiness

THAT A LETTER HAS A SOUL AS WELL AS AN INK AND PAPER BODY.

UR letters are not unlike those tagged children entrusted to the care of strangers, who yet turn up quite safely at our front doors.

In addition to its outward, visible character there is mystery about some letters-a claim that at this very moment is being pooh-poohed by a male person of weight mentally, socially and physically, who in the same breath acknowledges his faith in telepathy. Talk of the inconsistency of woman! He also holds chirography to be a great help to character reading, but "the mystery of a letter-pish! pshaw!-it can't be proved."

All the same, a sensitive-very quick emotions are generally accompanied by high intelligence, the combination meaning a sensitive-figuratively speaking, a reader of unopened letters whose filtrating influence warns the holder of them of approaching joy or sorrow.

How can a letter be a mere piece of paper with black markings, when its reading quickens the heart and sends the blood redly to the face, or the heart halts, misses a beat and the color drops out of the face? Human mentality is in that letter-its threat, or prayer, or premise of joy. It is informed with human spirit. Spirit is soul; soul is ever a mystery. Ergo, a letter has mystery. When in the West I found in my mail one morning a little letter, its address so incredibly black, so impishly niggling that I exclaimed aloud: "Heavens! Did any one ever see so vindictive a scriggle?"

"Does look as if it might sting," laughed the treasurer. Opened, the letter of 15 words held my entire professional future, for it was signed "Augustin Daly." A year later, when Mr. Daly and Thad buried our two hatchets, and, to our mutual pleasure and profit, had smoked the pipe of peace together, I told him about the scriggle. "Huh!" his restless fingers ever pulling at his watch chain, "Huh! I any one smites me, I'm going to smite back again!"

"Yes, but these little, little-" I began, but he waved me down, continuing: "And if people stick small pins in me I'll stick small pins in them!" His eye fell upon a half-written letter before him. He took it up, looked at it, then gravely concluded: "Vindictive if you like, but say, why scriggle?" I fell into helpless laughter, and he glowered at me in quite his old way. Nevertheless he often niggled a "V. S."-vindictive scriggle-below his A Daly notes after that.

A marked trait in the psychology of letters is external truthfulness. However false within, the outside of a letter never belies its writer. Wingless wanderers through space, but seldom missing your mark, I

Diary of a Well-Dressed Girl -By SYLVIA GERARD-

Selecting a Sports Coat for Utility and Beauty.

THE new Country Club was formally opened yesterday with a luncheon and the dansant. We had a delightful time, that partook of the nature of a reunion, for many of the members haven't met since last year, before the old clubhouse was torn down.

I made an engagement with Ted Jarvis to play golf this afternoon, and when I came to dress I couldn't find my sports coat: It wasn't in the cedar closet with the other coats, and mother said she didn't remember Hansing it away.

Cicely, Nancy and I hunted high and low, and finally the coat was discovered low, and finally the coat was discovered in a suit box up in the storeroom.

I lifted it from its forgotten resting place I found that the moths had simply riddled it. ridded it.

I had been so proud of that coat—
it had such splendid lines—and was so far advanced in style that I could have worn it for another season.

As mother said, "There was no use crying over split milk," and as a sports coat is an absolute necessity, I went downtown to buy another.

lowntown to buy another Cicely went with me to try on the coats so that I could judge how the to produce a becoming fulness across the back as well as the front. Cicely discouraged the purchase of this, saying that she thought the price asked was too much for such an ordinary coat, as she had seen many inexpensive made of checked materials.

heavy serge and flares gradually om the shoulders to the hem. Oddly shaped patch pockets ornament the sides, and the front is buttoned up snugly to the base of the collar.

WHEN THE WIND BLOWS Costume Makes a Lot of Difference in a Breeze

Then I remembered that I had put it there last fall with the good intention of sending it to the cleaner's before macking it away for the winter. When

Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

"I certainly can't play on Sunday without arousing a dreadful scandal. Look at that poor, meek, little Mr. Avery on the back street. He sneaked away from church a few Sundays to play golf, and the whole town's buzzing carefully scans her lay golf, and the whole town's buzzing carefully scans her

ODD and INTERESTING FACTS

Your Nails Actually Show Every Change in Your Body

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

O you work by the sweat of your brow? Must you stand up all day in office or shop; in a factory or home? If so, you should be happy and strong, with healthful sinews and clean finger nails. Are you gay and buoyant? If you are not, it is your fault. Knowiedge and help is always at your fingers' ends, if you would but reach out and seize it.

The essential differences between man and animals is said by many philosophers to rest with the finger nails. If this is so and you would rescue yourself from sinking into the mechanical habits of work animals, that is, working, eating and sleeping, you cannot know too much about Plato defined man as "a two-legged animal without feathers." Diogenes, who heard the definition, plucked a cock and brought it into the academy and said: "This is Plato's man." The philosopher, like all philosophers, when caught with the goods, remained undaunted, and made anew the definition to which was added "with broad flat nails." Philosophers, like physicians, when wrong never realize what pathetic figures they make. They go with their accustomed vanity right on down the halls of time.

Answers to Health Questions

Answers to Health Questions

Answers to Health Questions

C. N. M.—Q.—I have a pain most of the pain of the time in the back of my head and neck. What can I do to relieve it?

A.—Take five grains of salicylate of soda every three or four hours, and apply a hot water bag to the painful parts.

TAD—Q.—I—Will it hurt a person who is deaf to wash his head in cold water every morning?

ger nails often enough and perhaps some day boils, pimples, dandruff, ecatema and other affiletions of the skin will become as extinct as the dodo and the dragon.

Symptoms in Nails.

Finger nails were in primeval days the tools, instruments and weapons with which carly man, as he roamed the fields and forests, dug caves, scratched enemies and climbed trees.

The finger nails may not be as necessary to man's usefulness as Plato would have us believe, nevertheless, this faliacy of long nails, aped even by modern manieurists, is a constant menace to health.

Almost each alteration of the human anatomy is quickly manifested as a distinct symbol in the palls. They

A few acute physician opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Method Program of the Method Progra

Two Tho

OFFER

Moon

LONDON

the rout

The enemy's 2000, where:
Took
On the name of the night by impression
On the name of the na

on the extr

line. and captured. on the new vance to at artillery fir

artillery left flank

Smart Sports Coat of BambooColored Serge. Smert sports Coat of BambooColored Serge. We were inclined to favor a chic, the fire-equarter length coat of tan-colored transports and all the three-duster length coat of tan-colored transports and the same fashion that the desired transports and the same fashion allows. We were inclined to favor a chic, three-duster length coat of tan-colored transports and the same fashion allows the same fashion to correct this fashion throw away your pollow and elegated to five the same fashion to correct this fashion throw away your pollows and elegated throw the same fashion throw away your pollow and elegated throw and the same fashion to correct this fashion throw away your pollow and elegated throw and the same fashion throw away your pollow and elegated throw and the same fashion throw away your pollow and elegated throw and the same fashion throw away your pollow and elegated throw and the same fashion to correct this fashion throw away your pollow and elegated throw and elegated throw and the same fashion throw away your pollow and elegated throw and elegated throw and elegated throw and the same fashion to correct this fashion throw away your pollow and elegated throw and elegated thr liking. Until then go your ways. Here are three purses." Outside the two elder brothers, ignoring the younger, decided to travel and find a suitable gift. One rode toward the east and the other to the west. Simple was much hurt because they had not even said good-by to him, and sat down by the side of the little lake that fronted the castle. From being so much alone and so kindly, the little boy had come to know all the animals and birds, and they founded him as one of their own kind. The source helicity had the

with my airl friends. I so the content of the school, but I have learned quite on school, but I have learned quite obtained and searing the carried and the carried to five when he carried to five wh

IN MATRIMONY

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a young girl of 18, and I have been made acquainted with a young man of 24. I think I like him better than any young man I have met before, and I would like to keep I saw the wisdom of her remark, and we left that shop and went to another. Here they showed us sports coats of corduroy, serge, cheviot, tweed and homespun cloths. Those of English continuous particularly good-looking. company with him. Please advise me how I should act toward him to win his affections. UNHAPPY.

homespun cloths. Those of English make were particularly good-looking, and they had any quantity of silk sweaters, made exactly like coats, in lovely tones of old gold, dull blue, old lovely tones old lovely tones of old gold, dull blue, old lovely tones ol lovely tones of old gold, dull blue, old rose and green, and in combinations of black and white, blue and white, blue and green and white. Two models were of a Scotch plaid design in tones of red, blue, black and white. The minute I saw a coat of bamboocolored serge I knew that our search had ended, for it was exactly the type of sports coat that I had in mind. It is of heavy serge and flares gradually the server and flares gradually the server and flares gradually the server white server and server a a young man two years my senior. He wants me to marry him soon, but I think I am a little too young. and my parents are both dead, and I live with a maiden aunt who is very peculiar and does not like me to

She very seldom lets me go out even with my girl friends. I still go to school, but I have learned quite a bit about housekeeping and sewing.

My boy friend has a good position, and earns $20 a week. He loves me, and I dearly love him, and would hate to part from him. Would you advise me to wait? I would farrather marry now than live much longer with my aunt, who does not want me to have a good time at all.

DOUBTFUL. She very seldom lets me go out even with my girl friends. I still go to school, but I have learned quite a solit about housekeeping and sewing.

My boy friend has a good position, and earns $20 a week. He loves me, and I dearly love him, and would hate to part from him. Would you advise me to wait? I would farrather marry now than live much longer with my aunt, who does not want me to have a good time at all.

DOUBTFUL.

THERE is much more in life, my dear Doubtful, than "good times."

You owe your aunt more consider
The Garhwals, who, in company with the allied forces in France, are inveterate smokens, and have a peculiar means of their own of enjoying tobacco. One of their own of enjoying tobacco. One of their own of enjoying tobacco, and the aeroplane would go up and the air aconical shape, fill it with tobacco, and draw the smoke through their clasped hands. Another trick is to bore a horizontal hole under the surface of a bank, place the tobacco at one extremity, and with their hands clasped over the other; inhale the smoke between their thumbs.

This is probably the most primitive way of smoking known.

The Garhwals, who, in company with the allied forces in France, are inveterate smokers, and have a peculiar means of their own of their own of enjoying tobacco. One of their own of enjoying tobacco, and draw the smoke through their clasped hands. Another trick is to bore a horizontal hole under the surface of a bank, place the tobacco at one extremity, and with their hands clasped over the other; inhale the smoke between their thumbs.

The nearest that any one ever came to fixther the allied forces in France, are inveterate smokers, and have a peculiar means of their own of their own of enjoying tobacco. One of their methods is to twist an oak leaf into a certain dection for perhaps even determine the entire extent of the fice. His report would then entire extent of the fice.

The Garhwals, who, in company with the allied forces in France, are inveterate smokers, and the force in France, are inveterate smokers, and their clasped in the aer

(Copyright, 1915, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

Doct

but He C