

MANHATTAN-GOLD MINING COMPANY, NEVADA

$1,500,000 SHARES PAR VALUE $1. FULLY PAID AND NON-ASSESSABLE

This Company will buy, sell, lease, own and develop mining properties and will operate in the Manhattan Camp, Nevada.

It already owns outright two valuable claims, namely: "Gold Coin No. 1" and "Poverty" with rich surface showings, gold having been panned in several places. A rich strike has just been made adjacent to "Gold Coin No. 1" in which the ore assays $2800 to the ton. This is the richest yet made in the Manhattan Camp.

The stock is selling rapidly and few more shares will be sold at 7 1/2. This is strictly the Ground Floor Price.

If you will investigate you will find that the "R. D. Robinson Company" of Los Angeles, the promoters of this Company, HAVE PROVEN THEMSELVES BY THEIR PAST SUCCESS. Go in with them on the ground floor; the value of these shares should be quadrupled in a very short time.

Southern Nevada stocks have made astounding advances in value in a remarkably short space of time. Experts say Manhattan will exceed Goldfield Tonopah and Bullfrog in wealth. This is an opportunity for you to get a share of it. Wire your reservation to

ALL DOWN AT SANTA ROSA ESTIMATED DEAD IS 100

Entire Business Section in Ruins and Practically Every Residence Damaged.

Santa Rosa, Cal., April 21.—The list of known dead now totals fifty-eight, and it is believed that 100 is a conservative estimate of the fatalities here. Five bodies were recovered to-day from the wreckage. The entire business section is in ruins, and practically every residence is damaged, fifteen or twenty being badly wrecked. The damage to residences was caused principally by the sinking of foundations.

The brick and stone business blocks, together with the public buildings, were all thrown flat. The courthouse, hall of records, the Occidental and the Santa Rosa Hotel, the Atheneum Theatre, the new Masonic temple, Oddfellows block, all the banks—everything went, and in all the city not one brick or stone building is standing, except the California and North Western Depot. It is almost impossible for an outsider to realize the situation as it actually exists here. The completeness of the devastation is really the redeeming feature, for its puts all upon exactly the same basis, commercially speaking.

Bankers and millionaires are going about with only the few dollars they happened to have in their pockets when the crash came, and are little better off than the laborer who is digging thru the debris. Money practically has no value here now. There is no place to spend it. Almost everyone here is sleeping out of doors, being afraid to enter their homes, except for a short while at a time, until repairs have been made. There are plenty of provisions. Some have been supplied by other towns, and must have been brought in from the surrounding country. Two entire blocks of buildings also were being swept by the flames, which immediately broke out in a dozen places under construction. The fire, which was started by a gas leak, gained headway, several grocery stores were emptied of their contents in anticipation of what might follow.

The city is under martial law. Many deputy sheriffs and special police also have been sworn in.

The relief committee is active, and all in need of assistance receive it promptly.

The work now requiring the principal attention is the removal of wreckage in order to search for the bodies of those missing and known to have perished. Forty marines, under command of Capt. Gomboc, arrived to-day from Mare Island and did splendid work in assisting in the search. Forty-two bodies were buried to-day.

SAYS RIGHT IS ABSOLUTE TO CONTROL FLOW OF WATER

John W. Griggs Presents Legal Argument Before Committee on Burton Bill.

Washington, April 21.—Former Attorney-General John W. Griggs presented a legal argument to the house committee on rivers and harbors to-day, representing the American Civic Association in advocacy of the Burton bill for the preservation of Niagara Falls. The questions involved, he said, were the legal rights of the riparian owners, which might be bounded to the right to take water from the stream as it flowed by their property for domestic purposes, the legal rights of the State of New York, which consisted in the ownership of the bed of the stream to its centre, for all state purposes; the legal rights of the United States and the legal status of the international agreement with respect to the stream.

The main question at issue was the right of the United States, and Mr. Griggs maintained this right was absolute, both with respect to the control of the stream to preserve navigation and because it was boundary between this and a foreign country. Therefore, congress might do anything it chose in the way of regulating the taking of water from the stream or in any other respect.

On the feature of the Burton bill which prohibits the bringing in of electric power from foreign countries, he maintained the right of congress to act. The case was analogous to the landing of a cable in the United States from a foreign country, which required a national permit.

J. Horace MacFarland of Pittsburgh, president of the American Civic Federation, followed Mr. Griggs, also in advocacy of the bill, and speaking from the aesthetic point of view.

Charles M. Drew of Niagara, president of the commission of state reforestation at Niagara, also favored the bill, as did C. R. Woodruff, secretary of the American Civic Association; E. H. Hall, secretary of the American Civic and Historical Society, and Frederick Lamb, president of the New York Art Association.

STEEL STRUCTURES INTACT NOT DAMAGED BY QUAKE

Scene of Unspeaking Desolation Revealed by Trip Thru Stricken District.

San Francisco, April 21.—A trip thru the burned districts of San Francisco to-day revealed a scene of unspeaking desolation. From many points on Market-street, as far as the eye could reach in any direction, there was nothing but skeleton walls and smoldering ruins. It should be borne in mind that San Francisco was not destroyed by the earthquake. While old buildings in that part of the city, which stood on main ground east of Montgomery-street, and some of the district lying south of Market, it is true, suffered from the shock, it was fire that wrought the great devastation and wiped out the entire business section and probably half of the residence section of the city. The great modern steel structures were practically uninjured by the earthquake, except for cracked walls and displaced plaster. All these great structures, of course, subsequently were utterly ruined by the flames so far as the inner construction is concerned, but the walls are in most cases intact. The most notable cases in this connection are the Fairmount Hotel, the Flood building, the Mills building, the Spreckels building, the Chronicle building, and several of other modern steel structures.

The branch of the United States mint, on Chestnut-street, and the new postoffice, at Seventh and Mission-streets, are striking examples of the superiority of workmanship put into federal buildings. The old mint building, surrounded by a wide space of pavement, was absolutely unharmed. Not even the few palm trees which stand on either side of the broad entrance were withered by the flames that devoured everything around it. The postoffice building also virtually was undamaged by fire. The earthquake damage to the building, at the different entrances to the building; the walls are uninjured. Every window-pane, of course, is gone, as they are almost everywhere in town, but the government will be able to resume postal business immediately.

The Fairmount Hotel, which was seriously damaged in the interior, is intact as to the walls, and the management has offered space in the building to any person who desires to store their supplies in those parts of the building considered safe.

Relief expeditions were sent to Fort Bragg from surrounding towns and villages, and the people of the ruined area are being cared for.
