Hundreds Who Didn't, But Would Like to Hear Elks' Minstrel.

The closing minstrel performance given by the Elks, in aid of the Western Hospital, went out in a blaze of glory, and that worthy institution will receive a good substantial sum, Massey Hall was packed to the doors Saturday night, and hundreds were turned away. The disappointed ones are exceedingly anxious that another performance be given, and hope the Elks will see their way to give it.

Too much Mr. Elks cannot be given those who had charge of the entertainment. After the performance Saturday night, the men presenters George F. Smiley, the capable stage manager, with a handsome traveling bag. He was also the recipient of a number of personal presents from members of the company.

Mr. Smiley is justly proud of the success achieved by the Elks, and says no traveling minstrel company ever presented such a galaxy of singers.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS MEMBER, NOT COMMITTEE TO DISTRIBUTE PATRONAGE

West York Conservatives Discuss the Matter at Length at Their Annual Meeting.

Weston, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—The feature of rousing interest in the annual meeting of the West York Conservative Association was the discussion over the patronage committee for the riding, the reappointment of which was requested by Hon. J. W. St. John, but which aroused so much opposition that he volunteered to assume the entire responsibility of patronage himself. This evidently gave general satisfaction, the meeting crowded the Grand Central Hall at Weston, and in the evening a successful banquet was held in Dufferin Hall at which W. F. Maclean, M.P., stirred up much enthusiasm. R. R. Ganev, M.L.A., spoke on the maining situation in the afternoon.

The meeting was called to order at 8.35 by President Thomas Griffiths, the chief of officers was at once proceeded with. Dr. Forbes Godfrey taking the chair. On motion of Messrs. Goodie and Baylis, the outgoing officers were unanimously re-elected: President, Thomas Griffiths; vice-president, W. H. Edwards; secretary, Mayor-elect W. A. Baird, Toronto Junction; treasurer, A. J. Griffiths.

Hon. Speaker St. John suggested that it would be in order for the meeting to separate into municipal districts and elect representatives to the patronage committee. Last year the committee was composed of Thomas Thompson, Toronto Junction; Geo. Syme, Jr., York; James McNeill, Vaughan; Thomas F. Wallace, Woodbridge; Dr. Godfrey, Etobicoke, and Mayor Fisher, North York.

A lively discussion ensued, led by J. G. Wright, Toronto Junction, who objected to the existence of a patronage committee. He had told this privately to Mr. St. John, he said, and repeated it publicly when he had to stand alone. He believed the responsibility of patronage should be entirely assumed by the member they elected.

J. F. Goodie pointed out that the member holding the office of speaker was in a different position to any other in the house and should be able to act in a non-partisan way.

R. G. Agnew moved that the patronage committee be dispensed with. He was not satisfied with all the appointments made and saw no reason why the member should not assume full responsibility.

Hon. Mr. St. John said he did not. Dr. Bull Lambton, seconded the motion. The appointment of a patronage committee, he declared, was an indignity.

Seven and One.

Dr. Godfrey asked why they should hand over to Mr. St. John what rightly belonged to the Conservative Association. They had an right to hand over to anyone the function of distributing offices through the riding. Seven men were better than one, and there is much to be said for that.

John Bryans, Etobicoke, recalled the days of 1851, and congratulated Mr. Wright on his protest.

John W. Breakey, Newtonbrook, supported Dr. Godfrey.

Mr. St. John pressed deep appreciation of Mr. Wright's expression of confidence in the Conservative Association. There was a necessity for a consultative committee, which would bring him in touch with the voters in the riding. This was the only object in view. He was not bound to accept their recommendation, but he was bound to respect the views of those who supported him.

Mr. Wright believed the discussion would do good. He would to Mr. St. John in the cabinet. In a certain way, the responsibility had been laid upon the committee.

J. F. Goodie asked why the motion should be put to a vote. He thought it was a proper representative of the board of 11 cases considered. He had no business there.

A voice: He had no business anywhere, he said, he would like to talk.

Not Office-Seekers.

Dr. Godfrey was satisfied, if the people said so, to get rid of the committee. Applicants would then go to the chairman, Conservatives in West York were not after jobs. They had been out of office so long they would not take those vacant, and had refused positions offered in Ontario.

Dr. R. H. Hopkins did not think the meeting representative of the whole riding, a committee would be elected, the elections should be postponed to the local district meetings.

Mr. St. John pointed out that the only local meeting held was in Toronto Junction.

Thomas Thompson, W. H. Edwards and Thomas Coots having spoken, Secretary Baird moved that the system of patronage was the great weakness of the government. For 35 years no man could hold office without a patronage committee. The weakness was to have the patronage distributed by the member. It should be done by a committee, but it is a responsible one. There had been 179 applicants for the post of member of parliament. One man got it. There would be 178 men inclined to be better than the one who got it.

Mr. St. John thought patronage would be more equally distributed by a committee than by the member.

Mr. St. John observed that not a man spoke who had not expressed entire confidence in himself. He had one motive only in asking for the committee, to treat them all he could. Under the circumstances, he would withdraw his motion. He would take the whole responsibility of the patronage upon himself.

The motion was agreed to, and West York will get along without a patronage committee.

Funds for Concessions.

R. R. Ganev, M.L.A., was received with great applause, and made a vigorous speech dealing with the mining conditions in Northern Ontario. He charged the late government with having accepted campaign funds in return for mining concessions, and displayed an intimate knowledge of the whole mining situation.

The meeting adjourned at 5.30, and shortly after 6 the banquet in Dufferin Hall was proceeding with due royal toast having been honored, Chairman Griffiths proposed the Dominion Parliament.

W. H. Fugaley, in responding, hoped that Centre York would yet return a Conservative to parliament. The scarcity of coal in the west was attributed, not to the railways, but to strikes at the mines. The government should have been strong enough to deal with that. Whether the fault lay with one side or the other, there were millions of tons of coal and the government should have provided for its distribution in that fall. If they looked after the interests of the people there would be no trouble. He had spent most of the year in the Northwest and he believed the people there would soon take the government in their own hands.

W. F. Maclean, M.P., was called upon and received with the musical sounders and loud cheers. He thought Mr. Fugaley's remarks very significant. He had been taught that the less government the better, but as civilization proceeded, conditions became more complex. If such a state existed as Mr. Fugaley alleged, and Mr. Maclean knew it did, it was the duty of the government to see that the people got coal to use. The coal belongs to the people and not to the coal barons, like those to whom the Cro's have been lavished.

He said so long as they were warm down here, he would not mind the people suffering in the west. He taught these doctrine that we were in the interests of the people, and there were some who were not beginning to listen more attentively.

The Enforcement of Law.

There were great reserves of electric energy in the water powers of the province and he was glad Mr. Whitney had kept control of the power. He objected in parliament to the export of foreign industries, when the people of Canada had not coal for themselves, and had to rely on precarious supplies from across the border. He pointed out the necessity and desirable steps taken by President Roosevelt in supporting a measure by which all future coalfields in the States would be reserved for the people.

General Laurier obtained the admission of Attorney-General Aylesworth to the trial, and considered himself responsible for carrying out the law. There was no disposition to out the law. He was a liberal party to reject the prayer, "Lord have mercy upon us, and incline our hearts to keep this law."

Mr. Fugaley, in responding, hoped that Centre York would yet return a Conservative to parliament. The scarcity of coal in the west was attributed, not to the railways, but to strikes at the mines. The government should have been strong enough to deal with that. Whether the fault lay with one side or the other, there were millions of tons of coal and the government should have provided for its distribution in that fall. If they looked after the interests of the people there would be no trouble. He had spent most of the year in the Northwest and he believed the people there would soon take the government in their own hands.

He reminded the audience of his own efforts in the past to procure general postal delivery service for the community. He hoped now that it was to be tried in West York they would find it satisfactory.

Att for the People.

"The Ontario Legislature" was the next toast, and Ald. McHugh (Toronto) spoke in response.

Hon. Speaker St. John was received with cheers. He drew attention to the electric power policy of the government and quoted General Greene on the possibilities opening up in the application of electricity in farm life. Hon. Mr. St. John told him that he would be sure to get that price under the government scheme as compared with present figures would be just about half. There was a general effort being made to get the best possible results from prevailing conditions. It was up to the legislature to keep pace with that. There was a house effort, irrespective of parties, he would say, to get the best for the people.

The last toast was the West York Conservative Association, and other municipal bodies. It was acknowledged in two-minute speeches by Mayor Baird, Dr. Hackett, J. F. Goodie, Dr. Godfrey, Russell Warren, Capt. Tom Wallace, Aldermen Irving, W. H. Edwards, James McNeill, R. G. Agnew and ex-Mayor Peter Laughlin.

W. F. Maclean proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman and the meeting closed with cheers for the King, W. F. Maclean and Hon. J. W. St. John.

Toronto Junction.

Toronto Junction, Jan. 13.—Saturday morning's storm greatly impaired the street car service on both the Toronto Street Railway and the City and Suburban. A number of citizens who usually take cars to the city between 8 and 9 o'clock going to work were delayed for half an hour. The Suburban cars were also delayed in the early morning, but by 10 o'clock the inconvenience was over and the majority of the cars were running nearly on time.

The representatives of two large manufacturing concerns have been going over the ground in town during the last few days with a view of getting a suitable location. They claim that, as far as shipping facilities are concerned, the town is second to none, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made, there is no doubt in the near future that Toronto Junction will have two new factories.

The inaugural meeting of the 1937 town council will be held at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. The council chamber has been decorated for the occasion.

The final meeting of the collegiate institute board will be held to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock.

There are 110 cars of stock in the Union Stock Yards for Monday's market.

Bert Massey, who for many years was connected with St. John's Church and Sunday School, and for some time librarian of the latter, has accepted a position in Cranbrook, B.C., and was today presented with an address and a dressing case by the members of the church. To-morrow night the A. A. of St. John's Church will meet in the basement to spend a social evening and tender a farewell to Mr. Massey.

During the past few weeks the local coal trade has been subjected to considerable criticism owing to alleged shortages in weight. An official was brought to test the scales, and reported that the longer coal Company and Standard Coal Company scales were perfect, but the town scales were ordered to be repaired.

J. H. Beamish, local manager of the Con. coal Company, is again on duty, after a long illness from blood poisoning in the leg.

Weston.

T. Leachman, foreman of The Times printing office, had the misfortune to get his hand caught in a Gordon press on Saturday morning, crushing his third and fourth fingers so badly that the former had to be removed at the second joint. There is a possible chance of saving the little one.

Thornhill.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute will be held in Victoria Hall on Monday, Jan. 25, at 1.30 and 7.30.

Rev. George McKelvey has been at Seaforth for some time where his father and mother are quite ill.

The Vaughan Ministerial Association will meet at Kitchener on Monday, Jan. 14, at 2.30, when the officers for 1937 are to be elected.

T. P. Miller, manager of the Sterling Bank, entertained a number of his Toronto friends on Wednesday evening. Orders were read and the features of the program.

The Continental Life Insurance Company are endeavoring to persuade their agents, Joe Cook, to go west next summer to look after their interests there.

Dr. W. H. Carruthers, who has been out of bed for some time, has been ill for some time, are quite recovered.

North Toronto.

Robert Duke of Young-street, Davisville, who recently became ill while visiting his father at Unionville, died Saturday morning, Eglington Road, L.O.L. No. 200, will conduct the funeral at Unionville on Monday. He leaves a widow, no children, three brothers and one sister.

The Deer Park was defeated by Davisville Public School Hockey Club by 3 to 1. The North Toronto Hockey Club were defeated by Aura Lee by 2 to 1.

New Beach.

The expansion of the city has caused an increase in the number of church edifices. The latest is the New Beach Presbyterian Church, on Waverley-avenue, a short distance north of Queen-street in 1932. The New Beach Union Church was erected and continued in use until the opening of the new structure yesterday. In the morning the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. Dr. H. C. Carruthers, and in the afternoon by Rev. John Neil, Westminster Church. The church was filled to overflowing in the afternoon. The trustees are John Lowndes, and Messrs. Alexander and Frank Yelch addressed the Sabbath school. The new structure was erected at a cost of about $10,000 and has a seating capacity of 500. The building is of brick with a basement, the latter being equipped with all modern conveniences, as kitchen, scullery, and wash rooms. It is the intention to transform the basement into a first-class gymnasium for the use of the congregation.

The seating arrangements are on the "valley City" style, the seats being of oak. The windows of stained glass are especially handsome. There are two commodious vestries at the rear of the church. The pastor, Mr. Neil, has been in charge of the New Beach Church for the past six years. The Sabbath school held in the old church, immediately adjoining, and which has been removed, had a membership of more than 200, with a staff of 30 teachers. The estimated value of the church property is $20,000, on which there remains a mortgage of less than $8,000. The collections of yesterday amounted to $280. The Ladies' Aid, of which Mrs. Joseph Price is president, have assumed the task of furnishing the church, to cost $1200. Music is furnished by a choir under the leadership of John Hunsall, with Mrs. Hannah as organist. The church was designed by C. H. Wagner. The elders are John Lowndes (chairman), and Messrs. Alexander, White, Ward, Bam and Wagar. The deacons are Messrs. Alexander, John McGregor (chairman), and Messrs. Gardiner, Lowndes, J. Sinclair, Smith, Carley, Jacoby and Kennedy. The trustees are C. T. Lyon, J. Price, H. Alexander. Tuesday evening a social tea will be held, and on Sunday, Jan. 20, the morning service will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Neil. The afternoon service will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Brown of New St. Andrews.

East Toronto.

East Toronto, Jan. 13.—The members of County York, L.O.L., will meet at the lodge room at 7.30 p.m. to-morrow, and march in a body to the residence of their late leader, William Nims, who died last week in St. John's Church, North York.

Councillor Frank Abbott will lose no time when council assemblies to-morrow night to push forward his scheme for the extension of the Toronto and York Railway to the eastern limits of the town. Mr. Abbott will move for a committee to wait on Manager Moore. The general report of Mr. Moore is to continue along over the 42-ft. bridge to Danforth-avenue and eventually to Daves-road on practically the same terms as now prevail to the corner of Main and Gerrard-street.

The recent refusal of Thomas Davies and Constable Burns to recognize the authority of Magistrate C. T. Lyon has given rise to a question of the power of magistrates generally to try cases in certain parts of County York. Magistrate Ellis, an appointee of the county council, receives a stated salary for which he is supposed to arbitrate on all cases requiring the services of a magistrate. In the quarter just ended there were 80 cases, the majority of which were for disorderly conduct and in most of which Mr. Lyon officiated. Magistrate Lyon states that he is wholly within his right. Where information is laid under the Criminal Code he has no jurisdiction, but those coming under the Ontario statutes he claims are wholly within his scope.
