Paris is France and Yokohama is Japan. In much the same way as we discount the Trade in Mantles, Millinery and Dress Goods, we're showing to-day a remarkable assortment of Japanese Novelties. A good many thousand people are expected to the reception, and decorations in keeping with the higher rents—but higher rents would ner, their interference in active political display add to the interest upstairs and down.

TIMES ARE GETTING BETTER. All the signs point to an improvenent in the times. Wheat at last has egun to bound upward at a surprisng rate; a gold-mining fever is com-ng on; capital in the United States is only waiting for the election of McKinley to start a hum, hitherto unprecedented, across the lines. Times are more than good in Great Britain; we have letters from Australia which say that for three months now there has been a wonderful recovery there. What if house rents should soon egin to rise here in Toronto? How mean a recovery of some kind in Toronto real estate values, and that which was not contradicted, that the city found itself compelled to pay several thousand dollars to settle a suit for damages caused by a blunder on the part of officials of the corporation reflects most seriously upon the efficiency of the administration of that department of the civic service in which the responsibility lies. As the case was presented to the council, it appears that the case is practically one of simple trespass upon the vested rights of a private individual, which could have been avoided had the most ordinary care and precaution been exercised, such and precaution been exercised. Such as any private citizen would feel impelled to take under similar circumstances for his own protection. Not only were these precautions entirely neglected, but the written protests of the party who has entered the claim for damages were ignored and the for damages were ignored and the city's servants went on with the work, magnifying the injury and increasing the damages. The council has direct- the audience ed that the matter shall be investigated in order to lay the blame upon the proper party. This is the second the proper party. This is the second the proper party. This is the second case in which the city has, within a short period, been compelled to pay damages by reason of the admitted negligence of city officials, and the ratepayers will expect a thorough enquiry. The result so far of the recent investigations at the City Hall, some of which are still pending, has been such as to confirm the impression that no harm has been done, and much good may result from the occasional admission of the little light of day upon the inner workings of the depart—

The Globe excuses Mr. Tarte because Sir Adolphe Caron took money from contractors. At least, it says Mr. Tarte was no worse than Sir Adolphe. Will The Globe say what it thinks of Mr. Tarte taking $3000 from Mr. Shaughnessy? It is time that we got over this "you're another" argument. Politics in Canada will never be purified until members of Governments who are found out taking money improperly from contractors or companies interested in Government favors are compelled to retire from office. What weakens the morale of political parties is compelling the rank and file to whitewash or apologize for offending Ministers in this respect. Once public men knew that boodling or any suspicion of boodling would be followed by retirement there

AN OVATION FOR BRUCE.

Mr. Bruce received perhaps a greater ovation than his predecessor, but took it all with a most serene ecountenance. He said he would never forget the dislication than his predecessor, but took it all with a most serene countenance. He said he word spirit of his friends, who worked so hard for him. "One thing I can say." he went on, "and say emphatically, is, that I have carried on this contest in accordance with the principles of the Liberal party, as far as purity of elections is concerned." (Cheers, and Hear, Hear.)

No man could say that a single member's fee had been paid by himself or his supporters. His only expenses were for printing and cabs. If he had acted otherwise the result might have been different. (Hear, Hear.) In reference to Mr. Ross and the article in The World he said there was some justification for it. (Cries of No! No!) "There was not, however, in the light which The World he said there was some justification for it. (Cries of No! No!) "My party will see me through" is what justifies them now. Toronto cannot afford to trifle with Toronto cannot afford to trifle with her water supply franchise. The Globe quotes The World approvingly on this occre. We wish The Globe had been as strenuous for the municipalization of the electric light and power franchise when it was up some months ago as it now is in regard to water. So to in regard to the gas franchise. The city of Toronto is in a position, by reason of Mr. Justice Ferguson's finding (notwithstanding the technical over-ruling of the Court of Review), to compel at least a partial municipalization of this most valuable franchise, and we take the liberty of directing our contemporary's attention thereto. Let us follow the example of Glasgow and municipalize or at least partially municipalize or at least partially municipalize lighting, heating power and similar franchises; also street transit by cars, ferry services and the like.

SEIDL'S ORCHESTRA TO-NIGHT.

The first of the Seidl Orchestra concerts takes place to-night in Massey Music Hall. The orchestra has had a phenomenal success on its tour, and no doubt the same usucess will attend its efforts here. A large sale of tickets has been reported, and it is expected that the ticket sellers at Massey Hall will be kept busy to-day. The program for to-night is a beautiful one, and is calculated to please all tastes. With the orchestra will be Mme. Marle Deeca, a prima donna seprano, and Mme. Rivo-King, plano virtuoso. An attractive concert and a large audience is fully expected.

ALEXANDER-BENGOUGH.

The audience at Massey Hall on Thursday evening will be great, for it will be a tribute to two of Canada's great entertainers. The adjective in this case is not a mere hackneyed matter of course; it is the only word that does fair justice to the ability of Miss Jessie Alexander and Mr. J. W. Bengough. While alike in popularity, they are in every other respect utterly unlike, each having a web-marked individuality. Together they will present a program never heretofore equalled in priliancy and originality in this city.
