Formal Opening Yesterday of an Institution Which Will Adorn the City.

Credit for Dr. Sheard.

The opening of the new wing marked the completion of one of the finest institutions of the nature on the coutineft. The work has been carried on under the personal supervision of Dr. Sheard, M.H.O., and has been a triamph for the principle of municipal ownership from the outset, in that the expenditure has been kept almost $2000 below the amount appropriated. The whole building is now completely equipped and furnished, with the most improved appliances and is thruout a splendid moniment to the efforts of an efficient officer, who is not hampered by foduences of any kind in carrying out his work.

The nemembership has increased by 127 and now stands at 394, while there is a cash balance of $434-62. During the past session a three years' educational course along practical insurance lines has been inaugurated. Some 46 students presented themselves at the written examinations held last month.

A short discussion was held on 'Insuring of Underaverage or Sub-standard Lives,'' a paper on the subject having been préviously prepared by Joseph Burn, F.I.A., of London, Eng., and read before the institute.

Two prizes of $25 each in gold were presented to the successful competitors in the two essay contests, held in the fire and life branches of the institute, and life branches of the institute.

The new wing is built on the south side of the old structure, the architectural design of which it generally follows. A passageway of ten and a half feet, sufficient to allow of the entrance of the anabulance, separates the two wings. In this variation of suspect cases prior to their removal to the various wards.

The floor will be divided as the others, there being six rooms and two baths in each ward, while the centre will be the dining and sitting room. The quarters have been fitted up comfortably and the nurses have better accommodation than in any finstitution in the city.

In addition to the usual appliances, a compressed air plant has been installed, by which an individual spray may be used for the throat of each patient. Pipes run along the walls with tubes leading to each cot, so that by simply pressing a valve the resident, treat is exceed an unable.

The portion of the addition facing the Don on the ground floor has accommodation for about 25 patients. In this ward there are three windows looking west and alve on the south side. In the rear is the ward for convalescent cases and in addition to four windows on the south there are two large French doors opening on a verandah 20 feet in width. These will permit of the patients being wheeled out into the open in case of their being unable to walk. This will be a great boon to the sick, as they will be able to enjoy the morning sun and fresh air. This ward will have accommodation for about 20 cases.

The second floor is laid out on practically the same plan, there being a verandah slaniarly placed. In the centre will be a dumb waiter and a staircase and the front and rear wards will be reserved for acute cases.
