SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

A 100 to 1 shot got home at Windier yesterday, and the only person who saw it was the leader of the Fusilier's Band, who took $2 worth on a pool. The bandsmen, you see, they are used to taking long chances whenever

If John D. Rockefeller lives to be 100 years old, he will be worth over 13 billion. It will likely be 23 for John. Taking the same limit of time, that's about what a man would be worth following the races.

Charlie Querrie, of the Tecumsehs, refereed a lacrosse match the other day, and declares that will be all for him. And yet nobody handed him anything like the bad treat dent the Angelic Charles handed to a referee some years or so ago.

Anxious Inquirer-No, you are mistaken. The new Lord's Day Act will not allow you to change your clothes on Sunday. Wear them over night.

Jockey Shaw got $5,000 for winning the Suburban Handlcap. What's the use being a corporation lawyer?

A dog catcher in New York has captured 142,976 dogs in his career and be had never been at Fort Erie or Windsor, either.

The Toronto hand books were rounded up the other day, and it is rumored that if the bunch of tin-horn gamblers were out of town, the population would shrink about 5,000.

There is considerable agitation in Toronto about level graves, but the populace would not worry a minute if the Toronto ball team was in the semetery-mound or no mound.

The Toronto Tecumsehs will wear white today when they play the Caps of Ottawa. Nice shrouds.

No, Maud, Shakespeare's works were not captured in that raid at Toronto. There were several works of art, but they were somewhat racy for

That furious drive in the Suburban was not a circumstance to the drive those bold, wicked Toronto imitation sports took in the hurrah wagon the other night.

> Of all the great inventions which Ev stamped the Yankee force, sir, I never yit ev heard of sich Ez pawnshops on the course, sir, Portable seats tew move about, Tew suit all kinds o' folk, sir, Ez want tew leave their garments in Whin they ev gone an' broke, sir.

Well, what could you expect than the raid, to say nothing of the Napoleonic retreat of yesterday. Fact is the Tenderloin began to imagine it could do most anything short of lead pipe work and get away with it. And, after one has been piking along like an easy-liver, grabbin' the change anywhere, from a bell-hopper to a bank clerk, it's the regul'r doings to be roped up without a moment's notice-it's the blow off.

The talent used to say this was the dark lantern work thta didn't go down the line, and treated the matter likeff a Christmas eve joke. But the hurrah wagon was the awakening. What with the closing of the handbooks and the effort to stop racing in Ontario, it will throw a lot of good men out of work. Busy times are these for the man with the muck rake. And, after all, it goes to show that, given enough rope, the imitation bad man will tie himself in a lover's knot. But the crowning glory of the Attorney-General will be when he puts his royal foot down on Fort Erie and Windsor and chases those Yankee come-ons and porch-climbers back to the land of their birth.-Telegram.

"Rube" Waddell belie s it would be a clever stunt to go to Russia and sign a number of strong-armed bomb-throwers for the purpose of converting them into pitchers. He thinks that they would be cool under fire.

Five hundred and forty-four horses are named in the stakes which will be raced during the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' meeting at Lexington this fall. The Transylvania has twenty-three entries.
