PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"DADDY LONG LEGS" COMING.

Under the direction of Henry Miller, the New York Galety Theatre success, "Daddy Long Legs," will be the offering at the Grand week of Jan. 15. When Mr. Miller first presented the play he had no idea of the great success it would attain. The story first appeared as a serial in a woman's magazine and was read by over five million neonle.

"ALADDIN" AT THE GRAND.

Lamp," the big English pantoming which will be seen all next week at the Grand, will do a record business has been amply evidenced by the exceptionally neavy advance sale this week. Pantomime means all that is week, Fantomime means all that is best in musical comedy to an old country theatre-goer, and many re-member "Aladdin" as a prime holiday favorite at the Drury Lane. The cast is headed by Miss Zara Clinton, Mr. Billy Oswald and Mr. Harry Hoyland, a trio of well-known English musical comedy stars. comedy stars.

BUSHMAN AT STRAND.

Following the big business done New Year's Day, the Strand Theatre drew large crowds again yesterday. On all sides the remark is made that Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne have never been seen in a vehicle at once so powerful, so pleasing and so pecu-liarly suited in their distinctive talents as is "In the Diplomatic Service."

"A DAUGHTER OF THE GODS."

During the coming week, with matinees daily except Monday, the latest of the gigantic film dramas to reach the pinnacle of success will be shown at the Alexandra Theatre, when William Fox will present his picture beau-tiful "A Daughter of the Gods." fea-turing Annette Kellermann in the principal role. Seats for this engage-ment will be placed on sale tomorrow. when reservations can be made for the entire week. Twenty-one thousand adults and twelve handred children appear in the various scenes, while the water stunts performed by Miss Kellermann are said to far exceed enything she has previously attempted.

GAYETY.

"Blutch" Cooper presents an entirely new burlesque, entitled "The Sightseers," which will be the attraction at the Gayety Theatre next week, show has clever comedians, goodlooking, gingery girls, catchy songs and other wonderful surprises that go to make a merry burlesque. An effort has been made by the management to add to its fame by giving to the public a musical extravaganza of the highest class. The scenic effects have been arranged under the personal direction of Mr. Cooper, and the music and lyrics by that witty writer, Billy K. Wells.

REGENT.

"War As It Really Is," the feature picture at the Regent Theatre this week, is a tremendously effective and most intimate film of life at the front. It takes one up to the front line trenches, and depicts the poilus in trenches, and depicts the pollus in action against an enemy only a few feet away it shows a battle of aeroplanes above the clouds, takes one among the big guns in and out of action, and gives one a close view of many of the most outstanding men of the Proposition of the proposit men of the French army.

ITALY WILL INCREASE COUNTRY'S FCOD SUPPLY

Will Cultivate Public Ground, Including City Parks This Year.

Rome, Jan. 2.—Instructions were issued by the minister of agriculture today to the prefects of the departments to in-crease the food supply of the country by cultivating public ground, including the city parks, using forestry employees for the purpose. In Genoa, wheat and pota-toes already have been planted in vacan-lands.

The Nuova Antologia says all Italians-should begin the new year by adopting the system of thoro food mastication as an aid to solving the food problem. The newspaper avers that the method already is being tried in the schools.

ed the deigre of the municipalities that the Chippawa Creek development scheme, as outlined by the government, should be proceeded with.

"It shows that the municipalities are strongly in favor of that development." said he. "Just how that development may be financed is a matter of detail which can easily be worked out in accordance with the views of the municipalities. It is properly a matter for legislation."

Strong Public Opinion. Speaking of the vote on hydro radials, the premier said that it spoke for itself. It showed that, except in the case of Hamilton, there was a strong body of public opinion behind the project. There had been no thought in submitting the bylaws this year of commencing actual work now. It was a move in the direction of clearing the ground, rather than for immediate construction.

not doubt that the adverse vote to the hydro radial project in Hamilton would hydro radial project in Hamilton would be the cause of a campaign of education in that city. At present, he said, there was not the legislative power in the other municipalities to force upon Hamilton the construction of a radial line against which that city had voted. On the other hand, he did not doubt that cause of the construction of a radial line against which that city had voted.

He expressed the opinion that the favorable vote in the other municipalities would have the effect in Ottawa of preventing the granting of a charter to the C. N. R. or any other pri-vate corporation. The vote would simply tie up construction. The com-mission had no thought of starting construction now, nor even of purchasing right of way. As for the Chippawa Creek vote, the

As for the Chippawa Creek vote, the attorney-general, who is also a member of the Hydro Commission, said that he had no doubt that legislation would be brought down at the next session of the legislature to comply with the wishes of the voters that the work should be financed by the government on bonds guaranteed by the municipalities which guaranteed the interest and sinking fund to pay off the capital expenditures in thirty years the capital expenditures in thirty years when the property would pass into the ownership of the municipalities as in the case of the transmission and distributing systems.

Conflicting Statements.

As to the cause of the trouble very dittle can be definitely established. It is really a factionist propaganda beis really a factionist propaganda beween the British born and the German element. Many statements aro nade for and against both parties. The members of the citizens' league, which won the elections, claim that the soldiers who figured in the disturbance were the tools of the British leaguers, while the latter emphatically declare hat the members of the citizens' league are pro-German. One member chat the members of the citizens' league are pro-German. One member of the citizens' league, and a success-ful candidate, charged today that the soldiers were enflamed by drink supplied by the British body. It is also charged that women were urged to inclined the supporters of the successful candidates with the object of starting a riot. Both sides give a different version of the flag incident. Officials of The News-Record strongly deny that the Union Jack was snatched from its bearer and torn. There was no one in the office, they declare, who was not whole-heartedly British.

Provocation Ceni3d.

It is held by the citizens' league that there was no provocation whatever there was no provocation whatever given the soldiers for their action. Acgiven the soldiers for their action. According to the information given, after the results of the election had been announced, the soldiers, who belonged to the 118th Battalion and were on leave, formed a procession and marched along the main street They were followed and encouraged by a large crowd of civilians, cheering and singing patriotic airs. When The News-Record was reached a demonstration Record was reached a demonstration was raised at the sight of some of the successful candidates in the office. The bearer of the Union Jack, it is alleged, struck the plate glass window with the flag pole and smashed it. The other demonstrators rushed the office and tackled those assembled. Remonstrance was useless, it is asserted, and the soldiers proceeded to smash the office furniture, H. M. Bowman, it is said, was struck with the flag pole, and he used a chair in his own defence. In the disorder which followed he sustained a slight scalp wound.

No Arrests.

After some attention to office fit-tings, the soldiers proceeded to the composing room at the rear. They were resisted and returned to the street. The arrival of Provost-Marshal Osborne and a few military police restored order. About ten o'clock the demonstra-tors returned, and, forcing their way past the guards, again entered the building. A few civil police arrived and cleared them out, but meantime another batch had entered at the rear and damaged the machines. They left with the arrival of the 100 soldiers from Galt, and no arrests were made. Guards were placed inside and out-side the office and are still on duty. The soldiers who took part in the disturbance are being rounded up and sent back to their battalions. Very few, if any, civilians caused damage to property. Many Disfranchised. The World was told today that the the German population. Men who had citizens' League, and that it is exercised the franchise for a score of association to oust British tradition ed. This deeply incensed the German them because of their German extraction. They asserted they were loyal Britishers and that their rights as such were being assailed unjustly. They protest against any accusation that they have any intention of intrigue or Germany and sought freedom under the British flag.

Viewed With Alarm. Viewed With Alarm.

Add to the disfranchisement, the name changing controversy and the reason for a situation that talls for careful handling is found. Feeling is very high, and such that little might develop it into a great menace to the peace of Canada. Everyone views the situation with alarm and discontent is rampant. A ploneer of Kitchener of German extraction and who has been a member of the board of trade for iventy years, reeve and mayor of the city, spoke his views very strongly today. He is disgusted with the situation, and declares there is assault political clique that for selfies reasons desires to exploit the Germans.
