HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP McEVAY, Who Has Been Appointed Archbishop of Toronto.

TOM PLATT WINS JAIL FOR MAE

Court Holds Senator's Accuser on $5,000 Bail, Charging Her With Perjury.

New York, May 21.—The case of Mae C. Wood, the Omaha woman who sued United Senator Thomas C. Platt for divorce came to a sudden end this afternoon, when Justice O'Gorman, in the supreme court, dismissed the complaint and directed that the complainant be committed to the city prison under $5,000 bail on a charge of perjury.

BISHOP McEVAY APPOINTED TO SUCCEED BISHOP O'CONNOR

Official Announcement Was Made This Morning—Nothing Definite in Regard To Who Will Be Named Bishop of London —Londoners Keenly Regret His Departure.

Right Reverend Fergus Patrick McEvay, bishop of London, has been appointed to the archbishopate seat at Toronto, to succeed His Grace Archbishop O'Connor, who retires.

Official word of the appointment was received at the Palace here today from Ottawa, whither Bishop McEvay went a couple of days ago.

The official appointment was received by the apostolic delegate in Canada, who resides in Ottawa, three days since.

No announcement is made as to who will succeed Bishop McEvay at London. There have been several names mentioned, but there is nothing definite.

No appointment to the bishopric will be made until such times as the bishops meet to name a successor.

Until a bishop is appointed, an administrator will be named to administer the affairs of the diocese.

Londoners and the Bishop. The announcement of the appointment of his lordship to Toronto was heard with mingled feelings by citizens of London, Catholic and Protestant, this morning.

While pleased to hear of his well-deserved promotion, there was keen regret that he is to leave the city of London.

Since he assumed the position of head of the Catholic Church in London and the diocese, he has made very many friends, among Protestants as well as amongst his own people.

His broad spirit and genial manner won the admiration of all, and while congratulating him upon his appointment to such an important position, Londoners deplore the fact that he must leave the city.

In his administration of the diocese, he has shown a keen business instinct, which has resulted in much good to clergy and laity under his charge.

Never in the history of the diocese has it been so prosperous and united. It is said that His Grace of Toronto may retire to Sandwich College. His heart lies in the college, for it was he who built it up to its present efficiency.

Canon Dann's Congratulations. "I am very glad to hear of his promotion," said Canon Dann, of St. Paul's Cathedral, when informed of the elevation of Bishop McEvay to the archbishopric of Toronto.

"All that I have heard of Bishop McEvay has been decidedly to his credit. I am sure I congratulate him."

Rev. Mr. Lancelley. "I am pleased to hear of the great honor conferred upon Bishop McEvay," said Rev. E. B. Lancelley, pastor of Dundas Center Methodist Church, "and also the honor conferred upon the Diocese of London. I regret the departure of Bishop McEvay from our city. I have enjoyed personal relations with him for some years and found him a most interesting character. He is a man of high principle and sound judgment, and had the well-being of the community at heart. Toronto is to be congratulated on securing so splendid a citizen, and the diocese so excellent an administrator."

Mr. R. I. Towers, the Liberal candidate in West Lambton, is a Sarnia boy, son of Mr. Thomas F. Towers, secretary-treasurer of Mackenzie, Milne Company, Limited, and was born in Sarnia in 1876. He was educated at the public and high schools in Sarnia, and graduated with honors from Toronto University in 1896. He graduated from Osgoode Hall in 1899, and since that time has been engaged in practice at Sarnia.

Kelly-Evans Withdraws. Mr. A. Kelly-Evans, secretary of the Ontario Forest, Fish and Game Protective Association, who was an Independent Conservative candidate in South Toronto, announces that he has decided to withdraw from the contest.

A Call for Help. Up in North Ontario Mr. Hoyle, who had such a big majority at the last election, is not finding the road an easy one, and he has again called on the cabinet to render him more help, for he finds that he has not got even all his Conservative friends behind him this trip. The Liberal candidate, Mr. Keating, is working night and day, and will poll the complete Liberal vote, as well as a good many dissatisfied Conservative votes.

Two Hurt in a Runaway. A collision with the car frightened the horse more, and it became utterly unmanageable and ran away. The rig struck a dray. The horse then veered off and ran into a coal wagon. Some parts of the harness broke and the animal made another plunge, through the buggy against the curb with such force that Miss Phoenix and her brother were thrown against a telegraph pole.

Ambulance Called. The police ambulance was at once summoned and the two injured persons taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. MacArthur found that Miss Phoenix had her ankle broken, and that she had a bad bruise on the back of her head and many cuts.

Animal Captured. The horse continued to run until it was captured on Richmond street, near Central avenue.

Miss Phoenix passed a very quiet night, but this morning was suffering greatly from the shock. No serious results are anticipated.

EMPIRE DAY IN CITY SCHOOLS PATRIOTISM THE KEYNOTE

An Excellent Programme Carried Out in All Quarters.

BIG TIME AT THE COLLEGIATE

Addresses Delivered By Mayor Stevely and Others—A Great Time for the Children.

Empire Day seems to be taking a deeper hold on the school children of this city every year.

Anyone who visited the schools this morning and saw the keen interest the thousands of pupils took in celebrating the day, could not fail to be impressed with the patriotism displayed by everyone, little and big.

The patriotic speeches were applauded to the echo, the patriotic songs were sung as only happy and enthusiastic children can sing them, and the various drills and exercises were entered into with all the enthusiasm that youth is capable of.

Ideal Day. The day was an ideal one and many of the celebrations were held outside to the great delight of the children.

One or two amusing instances are recorded.

At Talbot street school the King was cheered repeatedly.

Suddenly a small boy called out for "The cheer for the cadets," and the perfect storm of cheering that followed showed how popular Mr. Scott is with everyone.

At the Collegiate. At the Collegiate, in the middle of the march past of the cadets, Drummer Stevely was much surprised and somewhat embarrassed when the band flew off his drum stick and he found himself trying to pound out martial music with the stick alone.

He was equal to the occasion, however, and the march past was played so splendidly that the cadets never missed the drum music at all.

Perhaps the biggest celebration of the day took place at the Collegiate. Yesterday flags and bunting were arranged artistically throughout the upper and lower assembly halls, and a number of patriotic pictures that were hung up gave the whole scene an air of considerable loyalty.

The Programme. Both assemblies were crowded. The programmes were carried out simultaneously, the downstairs being presided over by Principal McCutcheon, while Vice-Principal Little took charge of affairs upstairs.

Stirring addresses were made by Rev. James Rollins, Rev. Jas. Livingstone, Canon Dann, Vice-Principal Little, Trustees Tassell, Dr. Mangan, Rev. D. S. Hamilton and Rev. A. J. Vining.

Every speaker was accorded a splendid hearing and cheered enthusiastically.

Principal McCutcheon called for cheers for Mayor Stevely, who was present, and for five minutes the cheering was continuous.

The Cadets. After the programme of speeches was over Mayor Stevely and Chairman Graham inspected the cadet corps of the Collegiate Institute, who under the training of Lieutenant Gregory, have developed into a most efficient body.

Captain "Jack" Greer put his men through their maneuvers in a manner that delighted everyone, and many congratulations were expressed both to Lieutenant Gregory and to Captain Greer.

Mayor's Address. Mayor Stevely addressed the whole school from the front steps of the building, the cadets being drawn up in the foreground.

His worship read a patriotic address and also spoke with enthusiasm of the place London held as an educational city. In concluding, he complimented the cadets on their splendid appearance.

Chairman Graham also spoke dealing mostly with school affairs, and relating patriotic incidents.

The affair was brought to a close by the students being dismissed until this afternoon, when to their great regret they had to return and write an examination.

Princess Avenue School. At Princess avenue school the celebrations were held outside, and the school flag was raised amid ringing cheers.

This was followed by the singing of "The Maple Leaf" and other patriotic songs.

During the morning Mrs. (Col.) Peters and Mrs. Jeffrey Hale visited the school, and on behalf of the Daughters of the Empire, presented handsome volumes to Gertrude Williams and Maria Fisher, two pupils who were prizewinners in the recent essay competition.

A collection was taken up in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses, and more than $10 was realized.

No Labor Candidate for Legislature Will Run a Man for the Commons

Convention Called for Last Night Considered the Matter.

The convention called last night by the Independent Labor party to consider the advisability of placing a candidate in the field to contest the constituency of London for the Local Legislature was well attended.

Every delegate present was called upon to express his opinion. There was a strong feeling that a man should be placed in the field, but owing to the late hour of the calling of the convention, it was decided on a close vote, not to name a candidate for the Legislature.

Will Run a Man for Commons. It was decided, however, to call a convention in six weeks to nominate a candidate to contest the election for the Dominion House.

The feeling being that a man should be placed in the field definitely before any other party took similar action and to at once commence the work of organization and preparation.

All Labor unions in the city will be asked to immediately elect delegates. It was also carried by a unanimous vote that a financial contribution should be forwarded to Hamilton to assist in the re-election of Allan Studholme to the Ontario House.

Thrilling Rescue of a Little Child On Bridge With Express Coming

Little Flora Farrell, of West London, Had Narrow Escape.

One of the most thrilling rescues ever attempted in London took place Wednesday about noon on the C. P. R. bridge at Oxford street.

Little Flora Farrell, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. James Farrell, of West London, was snatched from the middle of the bridge just before the C. P. R. express came along.

The youngster was none the worse for her thrilling escape. While Mrs. Stilson, of No. 5 Oxford street, was busy on her lawn on Wednesday, a lady drove by in a rig. She suddenly stopped the horse and asked if there was a train coming along.

Mrs. Stilson told her that the express was due and was at the station. The woman called to Mrs. Stilson, "Look!" and pointed up the track to the bridge.

Publism Contract, Says Mr. McEvoy Let People Know Facts Re Power

Rousing Meeting of South London Liberals Held Last Night.

A splendid rally of South London Liberals was held last night in the clubrooms, when a very large number of Liberals were present.

Stirring addresses were delivered by Mr. J. M. McEvoy, the Liberal candidate, and Dr. McWilliam, of this city.

Mr. Angus Elliott, president of the club, presided.

Dr. McWilliam, an old warhorse from East Middlesex, delivered a short but stirring address.

He dealt with the power contract, and congratulated the city on having one newspaper at least fair and honest enough to publish the entire contract, in order that the citizens might know exactly what they are doing when they enter into the agreement.

He severely scored the Whitney administration on the gerrymander, and declared it to be most unfair and dishonest.

Mr. Whitney was afraid of an honest expression of opinion of the electors of Ontario, and sought to force a favorable expression from the people.

The Lusitania Breaks All Records

New York, May 22.—Trans-Atlantic records for average speed and for the shortest trip over the long course were broken by the Cunard liner Lusitania, which arrived here today. The big ship anchored off the Sandy Hook lightship in a heavy fog at 2:55 this morning just 4 days, 20 hours and 22 minutes after she had passed Daunt's Rock. This beats the best previous time for the long course made by her sister ship the Mauretania by 3 hours and 37 minutes, and is only 1 hour and 42 minutes longer than the Lusitania's record of 4 days, 18 hours and 40 minutes over the short course. The Lusitania's average speed for the voyage was 24.83 knots, and this time goes far toward securing for her owners the British mail subsidy of $750,000 promised when the Lusitania and Mauretania each shall have averaged 24.50 knots per hour or better for a round trip passage.

Big Plans Maturing for Labor Day

The meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night was well attended.

President Secker was in the chair. Several of the delegates at intervals spoke before the carpenters' open meeting.

The three committees made interesting reports, the Labor Day committee making a good record, things being well advanced for a successful and record-breaking demonstration.

Labor Day business took up the major part of the evening.

Reports of delegates showed that business as a rule was dull in the city, many craftsmen being unemployed and a large number working on short time.

Mrs. Cora F. Trow caused consternation in a meeting of the New York West End Women's Republican Club by saying that until women learn how to hold legal elections in their own clubs they have no right to demand the ballot.
