WANTED
Halifax Herald:—One of those who played basketball and participated in other sports was E. I. Rogers, a Fredericton boy, who was accountant of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Halifax and later was of Nova Scotia in Halifax. He always felt that he should be doing his bit at the front and, accordingly, he resigned his position with the good salary he was enjoying, to enlist as a private, joining the famous Royal Highlanders of Montreal (Black Watch).
Fredericton Gleaner:—Pte. Rogers is a son of the late Ald. James Rogers, a city when he was married at New York, where he was accountant of the Bank of Nova Scotia. In June he resigned his position and came to Canada and enlisted with a Montreal Regiment. He and his wife are at present visiting in Halifax and will later come here to visit his mother.
