

FRENCH ACADIANS HONOR PREMIER VENIOT AND WIFE

Leaders of Church and State Gather at Banquet Held at Scoudouc

Moncton, Aug. 19.—The French Acadians of the parish of Scoudouc gathered at the parish hall this evening to do honor to Premier and Mrs. Veniot. The occasion took the form of a banquet, and seldom, if ever, have a people lavished upon a public man such a wealth of faith, pride and affection as was demonstrated by these parishioners of Scoudouc, reinforced by Acadians from other parts of the province and having as guests Provincial Ministers of the Crown, the Secretary of State for Canada, distinguished members of the Catholic clergy and prominent professional and business men.

The people of Scoudouc, which is the birthplace of Mrs. Veniot, whose father's house still stands near the center of the village as it did thirty-eight years ago when she, Catherine Melanson, became the wife of the present Premier, chose this time to demonstrate their keen appreciation of the honor which the people of New Brunswick had conferred upon their gifted compatriot when last February they bestowed upon him the highest office in their power.

The occasion was entirely non-political in complexion and was essentially the tribute of the people of Mrs. Veniot's old home to the high place won by the guests of honor in the life of this province.

Speeches Glow With Patriotism.
Except for the speeches of the English-speaking guests the address was in French, the Premier himself speaking in both French and English. They were replete with a fine patriotism and love of King and country, a true pride of race and filled with eloquent tributes to the guest of honor. The banquet was unique for it was the first time that the Acadians have had the opportunity of extending to one of their race felicitations upon his elevation to the Premiership.

It is interesting to note that Premier Veniot also received an ovation today at Lewisville, a village on the outskirts of Moncton, when he addressed there a gathering of Acadians who were celebrating the Feast of the Assumption, their national feast day.

Met Wife in Lewisville.
Premier Veniot first met his wife in Lewisville so that Lewisville and Scoudouc both hold tender places in his memory and it was fitting that they should both have a place in the day's celebrations.

Among the Guests.
Among the distinguished guests were Hon. A. B. Cope, Secretary of State, Hon. C. W. Robinson, Hon. A. A. Dymally, A. L. Estabrook, P. P. Melanson and Reid McManus, all members of the Provincial Legislature, Dr. E. A. Smith, Rev. A. D. Cormier, of Shediac, Rev. Father Tessier, of St. Joseph's University, Very Rev. Mr. Herbert, L. S. Brown, general manager Atlantic railway, C. N. R., Dr. J. D. Doiron and others. There were about 125 in all at the banquet, which, singularly, was held in the hall formerly used as the church where Mr. and Mrs. Veniot were married.

Successful Affairs.
The chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements was the parish priest, Rev. J. A. Larcheveque whose untiring efforts were largely responsible for the great success of the affair. Dr. L. Larmony, of Shediac, was toastmaster. Space only permits a brief reference at present to the various addresses which followed the very excellent repast brightened by musical selections and a chorus of the young girls of the parish.

The Toast List.
Dr. Larmony pointed out that the occasion was to do honor to a man who had risen from the people to the highest elective position in the gift of the people. He then proposed the health of the King which was followed by a toast to the Pope moved by Mr. Herbert and replied to by Rev. John Jaudet of St. Anne who has recently returned from Rome.

Dr. E. A. Smith proposed the health of the parish of Scoudouc. He recommended and pointed to the accomplishment of Father Larcheveque in providing the splendid church which had taken the place of the hall. He said a high tribute to Premier Veniot was concluded by asserting that quality told in this country irrespective of language or creed. All branches of the Liberal party, he said, were proud to acknowledge him leader.

Reads Marriage Record.
Father Larcheveque, in replying, read extracts from the marriage record of Premier and Mrs. Veniot, entered 38 years before by Father Dufou who had performed the ceremony.

Hon. C. W. Robinson proposed the health of the guests of honor. The Premier was always in the most strenuous part of a political fight and whatever one's politics he must admire Mr. Veniot's courage, ability and resource. The honor which had come to him was well deserved.

This toast was seconded by Rev. A. D. Cormier and Dr. Raymond Landry, who spoke in French, dwelling upon the honor which had come to the Acadians in having one so well fitted for his important post.

Premier Veniot received a deafening reception when he rose to speak. He spoke at length in French expressing his keen appreciation of his reception and extended heartfelt thanks on behalf of his wife and himself. It was to Mrs. Veniot rather than himself that the credit was due. He told of his first meeting with his wife in Lewisville, and how he had found it necessary to learn French in order that they might understand each other. He reminisced about the wedding, telling of the three days and nights of dancing which accompanied the ceremony. He repeated in English some of his statements in French saying this was his first opportunity to address the people of Scoudouc. He had been raised to his present office by the generosity and friendliness of the English-speaking people of Protestant faith. This spirit was spreading throughout the province and such an occasion as the present non-political gathering would tend to bind more closely together the peoples of all faiths and races to work together for the betterment, prosperity and greater good of New Brunswick.

He was cheered for several minutes following his eloquent speech which was marked by a deep feeling of appreciation for the celebration in his honor.

The Senatorship.
Father Tessier replied to a toast to St. Joseph's University. Hon. A. B. Cope, in replying to the toast to the Dominion Government, also lauded Mr. Veniot and reference to the vacant senatorship reminded of it as there was not a representative of that august body present. He promised that the vacancy would be filled and in a vague manner rather hinted that the next senator might be from Westmorland. At least that inference was taken by some from his suggestion that there would be a representative present at any such meeting in that vicinity in future.

P. P. Melanson, M. P., proposed a toast to the Provincial Government, seconded by Reid McManus, M. P. The press was toasted by Hon. Fred Magee and responded to by several representatives.

JEKYLL AND HYDE CASE IN NEW YORK

Prosperous Farmer Is Arrested for Robbing Chain Store Proprietor.

Philadelphia, Aug. 20.—What police describe as a duplication of the strange dual personality of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde was revealed in the arrest of Nicholas Filpov, a prosperous farmer, owning a $20,000 140-acre tract of land at Nesheim, in New York state, was held for a hearing by Magistrate Renshaw on charges of robbing Francis Brocio, a chain store proprietor of Des Moines, Mo., of $6,000.

Police allege Filpov had been years a member of a robber gang operating in various parts of the country. A charge was made against him in St. Louis, where two of his alleged companions were shot in a running fight with police. From 1917 to 1919 he served a term in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for robbery, police say.

Less than two weeks ago Filpov was arrested on a charge of swindling Mary Matkowiak at Atlantic City out of $3,200 in selling her a "money-making machine." When the case came before Magistrate Renshaw in central police court it was found the statute of limitations had expired.

Edward Bryant, a private detective arrested Filpov at his farm. The detective was accompanied by Constables Boes and Brocio, of Des Moines, Mo. Filpov's neighbors, the detective said, knew he took frequent trips away from home, but had always supposed they were concerning his produce. "He is a respected man in his county in New York," said the detective.

Police here identified him as a man known to them as Adolph Muravski, Burkowski and other names. The constable declared the evidence on which the warrant for his arrest was obtained in Missouri indicated he had come to Des Moines for the robbery by a woman he had known years ago.

years, Hugh Thompson, and Joseph Sakell. In the other were the three girls who were drowned and William Karis. Karis, Trenhaile, his son and Thompson were saved by other picnickers, who left the shore in boats to go to their rescue.

Wife Tracks Husband
By Foot and by Auto

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—A four years' search, conducted by Mrs. Sadie Scobel of New York City for her husband, Benjamin Scobel, President of the Oblet Products Company of this city, has ended successfully. It became known that he had been arrested here on a charge of abandoning his wife and child. Mrs. Scobel arrived here from New York several days ago. She made the journey on foot and by occasional automobile lifts.

She told the police her home had been wrecked by her own cousin while she was nursing her sick child at a country resort near New York in 1918. She left her husband and worked to support herself and child, but her husband kidnapped their daughter. She later obtained legal custody of the girl, then 4 years old. Several months later her husband and the cousin disappeared. Ever since then she had been trying to locate him.

Through an official letter sent by the patent office of the Belgian government she found the first trace of him. Because of the lack of money she decided to hike to St. Louis, but automobile tourists permitted her to ride most of the way.

According to the attorneys representing Mrs. Scobel here, Scobel has been living in East St. Louis, Ill., since he established his business in St. Louis. Mrs. Scobel's cousin, the attorneys said, also had been found in East St. Louis. Scobel is held under bond until extradition formalities have been completed with.
