ADVERTISING AND THE CHURCH

An Expert Discusses the Question in an Interesting Way at Atlantic City Convention.

“We should approach the problem of church advertising just as we approach any other advertising problem,” declared Carl Hunt, manager of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, in addressing the Church Advertising Department of the advertising convention at Atlantic City this week. “Why do you prefer to trade at a certain store? What took you there first and what has kept you going there? If you will give me such information concerning 500 customers of a store, I can tell you how to advertise that store, and I can also give you some valuable hints relative to the improvement of its service.”

“Apply that same method to an analysis of your church advertising problem. You will find that in nearly every case, a non-church-going family was first attracted to your church by some one thing and that it is quite likely that your first appeal impressed only one member of that family, and that other activities of the church eventually won the rest of the family over.”

“Perhaps it was the Sunday School. Father and mother believed it a good school and sent little Willie. In due time, they discovered that Willie was awake to the proposition that they needed religious instruction as much as he did, and they started to church because they were ashamed to send him and not go themselves. In one church with which I am thoroughly familiar, it was found that the Sunday School was indeed the most frequent instrument for bringing people into the church. A splendid, devoted man is giving the best of his life to that school. But that alone would not build the church. The ushers must be friendly, the sermons good, the music attractive. The activities of the men's club and the women's society must be attractive, and the young people must have a place in the special activities. In other words, re-fer the sort of service I ought to have, but the store must also render good service in every other particular to hold my trade. The deliverer must be prompt, the bookkeeper must not make mistakes in my account, buying and selling in all departments must be in the hands of intelligent people. Precisely so with the various activities of a church.”

Church Union

Will Be Resisted To The Utmost

Winnipeg, June 9.—Church union will be resisted to the utmost at law and in the Federal Parliament and Provincial Legislatures, should the Presbyterian General Assembly in session at Port Arthur, adopt the union motion, according to H. A. Robinson, K. C., Winnipeg, who is the recognized leader of Presbyterian anti-union forces in the western provinces.

Mr. Robinson declared his forces had the sort of service I ought to have, but the store must also render good service in every other particular to hold my trade. The deliverer must be prompt, the bookkeeper must not make mistakes in my account, buying and selling in all departments must be in the hands of intelligent people. Precisely so with the various activities of a church.”

It is an easy matter to get into the habit of meeting trouble half way.

Wisconsin this year had a crop of onions estimated at 407,000 bushels.
