

Q. And what was the reason you surrendered yourself was it?

Well I figured I would get it over with some day, and the longer I was on the loose the worse it would be.

Q. You knew the Provost were looking for you?

Well I can say when I surrendered myself the Provost told me they didn't have no call for me.

Q. That is what the Provost told you, but is the reason you surrendered yourself you didn't think you could get away from the Provost?

No, sir.

Q. You wore civilian clothes all the time you were absent?

Yes, sir, all the time.

Q. You told the Defending Officer you left on furlough in civilian clothes?

Yes, sir.

Q. Are you swearing you left on furlough in civilian clothes?

Yes, sir.

Q. Did it show on your furlough form you were entitled to wear civilian clothes?

Yes, sir, it showed.

Q. None of the other personnel left on furlough in civilian clothes?

I seen plenty there.

Q. You saw plenty from Shilo that left in civilian clothes?

On furlough, yes.

Q. Were you able to get the armed forces rate on your ticket in civilian clothes?

Yes, the papers shows that.

Q. You left all your equipment there?

Everything but my rain coat and shaving kit, which I got right here.

Q. You have heard the list of articles laid out by S/Sgt Healey. You were issued with all those articles weren't you?

Yes, sir.

Q. You put them in your palliase did you and left them on your bed?

Yes, sir.
