NATIONAL NICKNAMES.
Like individuals, the nations of the earth have nicknames. The appropriateness of some is quite evident. But to explain the origin of others would be difficult.
Englishmen have submitted to the name of John Bull as suited to the national character. A Scotchman is Sandy. The Irishman gets his nickname from his national patron saint, while an ancient nursery rhyme records the fact that Terry was a Welshman. In England the Frenchman is sometimes rather contemptuously alluded to as John Crepuscul. But in France he is Jacques Bonhomme or, as a bourgeois, Monsieur Truismome.
Cousin Michel is the nickname by which the German is known to the continental nations. Myneer Cloob, an abbreviation of Nicholas, is the name applied to Hollanders, and the Swiss rejoices in the name of Collie Tampon.

Synopsis of Canadian North-west Land Regulations

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.
Duties.—Six month's residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.
In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may prevent a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $100 per acre. Duties.—Must reside six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.
A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $100 per acre. Duties.—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $200.

J. J. HILL PREDICTS GREAT PROSPERITY

Just Waiting Until the Tariff is Out of the Way, He Says.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—"As soon as the tariff is out of the way," said James J. Hill, the railroad magnate who yesterday was one of President Taft's callers, "this country will enjoy a prosperity which will at least equal if it does not surpass that which it knew under the McKinley administration."
"Last month I travelled extensively through the West and I never saw such activity among the farmers. Everywhere I made inquiries and learned and saw that the crops were abundant and that the farmers were satisfied. Signs of the financial depression of 1907 are fast fading."
"Freight cars will be at a premium within a few weeks. We of the railroad world judge the prosperity of the nation as much by the number of idle cars as anything else. Throughout the past year there have been thousands idle, but they will soon be rolling about the country filled with freight."
Mr. Hill says he expects to return to the St. Lawrence later in the summer and resume fishing.

PLAYING "INDIANS"

FATAL TO A CHILD
Gleeful Companions. Blind Rope Around Apparent Development.
FATCHEGUE, L. L. July 14.—Appendicitis brought on by a rope which was tied tightly about his body by other boys with whom he was frolicking, caused the death this afternoon of Geo. Tracy, nine years old, son of C. J. Tracy, a contractor, living in Melford, five miles north of this place.
Tracy was playing "Indians" with half a dozen lads of his own age near his home Friday afternoon, when his playmates seized him and bound him to a tree, winding the rope around him. It was so tight he could scarcely breathe. The boys cried out to be released, but the others paid no attention to his shouts and graced around him, yelling gleefully in a war dance until his mother ran from the house.
It was so tight he could scarcely breathe. The boys cried out to be released, but the others paid no attention to his shouts and graced around him, yelling gleefully in a war dance until his mother ran from the house.
Mrs. Tracy scattered the little fellows, released her son and carried him to the house. There was no sign that he was suffering from the condition he had been in. He was taken to the hospital at that time, but on Friday night he complained of violent pains and died this morning. Dr. M. D. Davis, of Patocheque, was sent for. He found the boy in a state of collapse and carried him in an automobile to the Prospect Hospital.
There an examination disclosed that the boy was suffering from appendicitis, undoubtedly provoked by the tying of the rope about his body. Within an hour an operation was performed, but he did not rally, and at four o'clock he died. His father, who was in Hastings, N. Y., was called home by telegram when the boy's condition became grave. No action will be taken against the other lads, whose names were not disclosed.

CHATHAM CHILD BADLY BURNED

Baby Cripples Lies in Critical Condition

WOMAN ALSO BURNED

Mayor Snowball Urges Early Construction of I. C. R. Line

CHATHAM, N. B., July 15.—Mayor Snowball returned today from Moncton, where he has been in consultation with Chief Engineer Mackenzie of the I. C. R. regarding the new route for the railway entrance into Chatham. The mayor urged upon Mr. Mackenzie the quick construction of the road and pointed out that the Town Council has done everything it can do to further the work, giving a free right of way through its properties in an endeavor to reduce the cost of diversion as much as possible. W. S. Loggie, M. P., has been working vigorously to this end, and now that the authorities are showing the need of the new branch it is hoped that the construction will proceed without delay.

The six-month old child of Daniel Cripps narrowly escaped death by fire this afternoon, and is now in a very critical condition. In attempting to trip burning clothing from her child, Mrs. Cripps was also burned about the hands. The child was in its crib in the hall when one of the older children playing around accidentally set fire to the clothes. Mrs. Cripps heard the children's screams and rushed in just in time to prevent the child's death. Mrs. Duffy and Marven were called in, and last reports state the child's recovery is doubtful. The fire department was also called out, but had little to do.

Had it not been for the promptness of Tom Gouchie a lad named Hickey would have met death on Tuesday in the boom yard of Snowball's mill. The youngster was jerked off a punt into eight feet of water when Gouchie attempted to attract the boy's attention. He at once dove and succeeded in bringing up the lad. The latter was so fatigued, however, that he could scarcely move and was taken to the hospital. He was difficult to take several minutes.

GIRL DEAD IN LAKE; ESCORT MISSING

Death of Miss Mamie Davey, Recalls That of "Billy" Brown

Friends of Young Farmer, With Whom She Went for Row, Believe He Also Perished

CHICAGO, Ill., July 15.—In some of its aspects the finding of the body of Miss Mamie Davey, of this city, floating in the waters of Klinger Lake, near Sturgis, Mich., suggests there may be a Western parallel to the tragic fate of "Billy" Brown in Big Moose Lake in the Adirondacks. Claude Hunt, a young farmer, who had gone for a row with Miss Davey in a small boat has not been found, dead or alive. Did he die with the girl or did he escape to the shore and hide himself? Upon the final answer to these questions much depends in the solution of a case which at present bears many elements of mystery.

Physicians who examined the body of the girl shortly after it was taken from the water say that she died of extreme fright. That would seem to indicate that she had died in the boat. Granting that was the place of death, what was the cause and how did the girl's escort leave the boat? He might have jumped into the water to have the girl from suicide, but the absence of water in the lungs seems to combat that theory.

Physicians who examined the body declare there was neither bruise nor wound of any kind on it. If Miss Davey was frightened to death, why was she frightened when, according to the statements of persons at the hotel where she was staying, she herself had asked the young man to take her for a ride? There was no water in the boat and no sign of a struggle. Young Hunt had not the girl, according to her friends, only the day before. There was nothing to indicate that she had been frightened when, according to the statements of persons at the hotel where she was staying, she herself had asked the young man to take her for a ride?
