Of the remaining bodies at the morgue one was partially identified as that of Arman Alexis Tadeseo of New York, the fiancé of Miss Heisch, also one of the victims. One other body in an undertaking establishment is that of an old key peddler whose name no one seems to know.

The day has been one of unceasing activity, of gruesome scenes and pathetic incidents. Wrecking crews with derricks succeeded in bringing one of the two submerged cars to the surface and divers, working in relays, brought up bodies until their fearful task was completed and they reported that no more dead remained either inside the second car or in the water and mud beneath it in the vicinity. Interest now centres in the work of the coroner's jury, which today made a careful inspection of the scene of the wreck and the drawbridge at which the train left the rails. The jury sworn in by Coroner Gaskill is made up of the following citizens: State Senator Edward S. Lee, foreman; Isaac Eberbach, Samuel H. Headley, John P. Ashmad, Chas. P. Roesch and David R. Barrett. The jury met at one o'clock and, accompanied by the coroner, Prosecuting Attorney Abbot, City Solicitor Wootton and several other city officials, proceeded to the scene of the tragedy. At the bridge they were joined by Mayor Stoy and General Manager Atterbury of the Pennsylvania railroad.

After the forward car of the two submerged coaches had been hoisted to the surface and the divers who had been at work on the wreckage all day had made a final examination of the second car without finding any more bodies, Mr. Atterbury, who, with several of his assistants, had been on the scene since Sunday night, expressed his belief that the total number of dead would not exceed 53. "There is a bare possibility that one or two others may have been killed," he said, "but I feel confident that the number of victims will remain at 53. I cannot believe that any of the unfortunates were carried out to sea by the rebounding tide." On returning from the drawbridge, Mr. Atterbury discussed the accident freely, but when asked to give his theory as to the cause of it, he replied that it still is a mystery to him. "I still believe," he declared, "that there was nothing wrong with the rails on the bridge. I am inclined to think that the cause will be ascertained when the first coach is examined."

Mr. Atterbury himself showed the jurors how the bridge is operated and explained in detail the manner of opening and closing the draw. On their return to this city the jury decided to hold their first session of the inquiry Thursday.

Although reasonably certain that the narrow waterway into which the train fell had been relieved of all its dead, the divers continued their work late into the night and maintained a diligent search. The wrecking crew was also kept busy preparing for the hoisting of the second car and it is expected that this will be raised to the surface before morning. The debris of the last car which struck and was held fast by an abutment, has not yet been removed, an effort in that direction resulting in half the coach sliding into the stream.

The road has been sufficiently cleared to permit the resumption of traffic and the scheduled time table is again being followed.

The following 49 bodies had been identified last night: Emanuel Freed, New York, a vaudeville performer, known to the stage as "Manzie" Bernard, nephew of Sam Bernard.

GUILD HOT AFTER MORAN

Hurls Charges and Questions at Him

Campaign in Massachusetts is Getting Warmer as the Election Approaches

BOSTON, Oct. 29.--Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., made two political speeches in the suburbs this evening, one at Brookline and the other at Watertown. In each he propounded a number of questions to his opponent, and answered the affidavit of James M. Perkins, making charges against former Senator Wilson H. Fairbank, a state commissioner at the Lewis and Clark exposition, which affidavit was read by Mr. Moran in his speech on Saturday night.

Governor Guild spoke first in the town hall at Brookline, where he was introduced by former Congressman Samuel L. Bowers, and was followed by A. D. Hill, an attorney of this city. Governor Guild's remarks at both Brookline and Watertown were in part as follows: "Mr. Moran advertises himself as a law enforcer opposing graft and law breakers. He has convicted one small grafter. What has he done about the big fellows? "On December 28th last, an official report filed at City Hall showed apparent graft to the extent of $885,205.43. The investigation showed that the form of contract used is really adopted for use as a means of distributing political patronage at the expense of the city. The report further stated a belief that such contracts were in fact resorted to in these instances largely for that purpose.

"The statement was further made that 'names of men appeared upon the pay rolls who were paid but did not work at all.' This is no unsupported oral allegation which the man who made it refused to reduce to writing. This is no roorback, saved up for months to be flung into the heat and excitement of a campaign. This is an official report with serious and formal charges which you have had before you for nine months. You pledged yourself to action. "You have shown yourself to be the man who dares to talk. Are you the man who fears to act? "Why have you not pushed the Boston Ice Trust case, Mr. Moran, to a finish? Is it because you are afraid? Afraid to do so or because you haven't had time in the midst of your political campaigning and your trips to New York, or because you and your assistants are so inefficient that your indictments are worthless? "You dared to talk against the bribe givers in bucket shops. Do you fear to try that case at all? "You dared to release a swarm of little criminals from Charles street jail.

REDMOND DEMANDS IRISH REFORMS NOW

Scores Government for Weak Enforcement of Land Act--Secretary Bryce Making Promises

LONDON, Oct. 29.--John E. Redmond, the Irish leader, moved the adjournment of the House of Commons today in order to call attention to the lack of progress in the matter of reinstating evicted tenants in Ireland, owing, as the speaker alleged, to the landlords' hindering the operation of the land act by refusing to sell untenanted land. The land commissioners were consequently unable to provide farms for evicted tenants.

JOHN E. REDMOND, M. P.

Mr. Redmond said it was obvious that the government must resort to some system of compulsion. The patience of the Irish people was becoming exhausted, and although the Irish party desired to give opportunity for the greatest degree of fair play pending a declaration of the government's intention regarding Irish self-government, it thought that Chief Secretary for Ireland Bryce ought to grapple with the matter vigorously. Replying to Mr. Redmond, Mr. Bryce, after some debate, said the government had done its best to cope with the grave obstacles before it, and had won a certain measure of success. If the remedy is compulsion, the chief secretary said, the government might have to come to that.

Walter Hume Long, Conservative, then declared that Mr. Bryce's statement involved a complete triumph for the Nationalists, and the subject was dropped.

MURDER IN SHELburne

Man Found With Bullet Through Head

Was Either Shot From Behind in Cold Blood or Hit by Stray Bullet

(Special to the Sun.) LIVERPOOL, N. S., Oct. 29.--A special train from Shelburne tonight brought in the body of a man found beside the track near Granite Village, about 20 miles from here. The man was evidently deliberately murdered or struck by a stray bullet, which entered above the right ear and came out through the left jaw, completely shattering it.

The name of the murdered man is unknown here. His age is about 35. He has light brown hair and a sandy mustache, and is dressed in a blue sack coat, brown overalls and a heavy flannel shirt, with a red checked handkerchief around his neck, and a soft black hat on his head.

He had been dead less than twenty-four hours. The body was found alongside a small brook near the railway track, and it is surmised that he was in the act of drinking when struck by the bullet. At this point the track is three or four miles from the post road. There was nothing in the pockets by which he could be identified. There was a six-point star tattooed on the right forearm, with a dot in the center, as well as a small cross on the back of the right wrist.

Coroner H. R. Freeman of Motton was notified and immediately attended. An inquest will be held at nine o'clock Tuesday morning. Judging from the marks upon his body, Chief of Police Power believes him to be a sailor whom he believes he can identify. The body was viewed by Drs. Keddy and Tritts with the sheriff, who believes it to be a case of murder or a stray bullet. The following jury was empaneled by Chief Power: Chas. Macintosh, J. A. Kenney, John Wright, A. K. Mulhall, J. C. Nness, Arthur Drew, Ursin Dauphinee, Geo. A. Phalen, R. B. Hatt, W. F. West, J. S. Gardiner, J. S. More.

The body is now at the undertaking rooms of S. C. West. Chief Power leaves for the scene tomorrow morning.

LORDS DEFEAT GOVERNMENT

200 Majority on Amendment to the Education Bill--Conservative Peers Voted in a Body--Lord Rosebery Voted With Liberals.

LONDON, Oct. 29.--The first vote in committee of the house of lords on the education bill was taken tonight and resulted in the defeat of the government by a majority of 200. The vote came on an amendment to the first clause in the bill. The amendment, which was offered by Lord Heneagh, Liberal, makes religious instruction compulsory during a part of the daily school hours in all public elementary schools. Earl Crewe, speaking for the government, refused to accept the amendment, but after a most businesslike debate the amendment was carried by a vote of 256 to 56. The majority included the entire opposition in the house of lords with the exception of Lord Amphill, who voted with the majority. Among the majority were the Archbishop of Canterbury, twenty bishops and the Duke of Devonshire. Among the minority were all the peers who are members of the government and Lord Rosebery, the Duke of Devonshire, the Earl of Darnley, Earl Russell, the Marquis of Northampton, Lord Brassey, Lord Grimthorpe, Lord Westcliffe, Lord Haversham and Lord Roay.

NOVA SCOTIA POLICEMAN SHOT BY NEGRO OUTLAW

(Special to the Sun.) GUYSBORO, N. S., Oct. 29.--During the course of last week a mulatto who gives his name as George Johnston of Boston, and who has been for some time past stopping with a woman named Rachel Carrigan at Sand Point, Strait of Canso, was making threats to shoot at some of the people of that place. Captain Christopher Carrigan came to Manchester on Friday and gave information against Johnston. William J. Simpson, J. P. issued a warrant and gave it to William McKough, a constable, to execute. J. Gordon Peart of Boylston went also to assist the constable, and on Saturday morning about sunrise they arrived at the house where Johnston was stopping and demanded admittance. When the door was opened Johnston jumped out and made an effort to run away. On the officers attempting to catch him he threatened to shoot if they persisted. Accordingly he fired at Officer Peart, who was about seven feet distant, the load of shot entering about his knee cap. A doctor was summoned as soon as possible from Mulgrave and the wounded man was attended to. In the afternoon, when the steamer Malcolm Cann was passing on her way to Guysboro, Mr. Peart was taken on board and thence to his home at Boylston. The Carrigan woman was brought to jail on Saturday night. Johnston is still at large and constables are on the lookout for him. The wounded man's leg is in a bad condition and it is likely that amputation will be resorted to. Isaac Dorrington of Guysboro is in jail for threatening to shoot a man named Lewis Dorrington.

Stanley and Minto Will Run Again This Winter--Lady Grey Considered Unsuitable

(Special to the Sun.) OTTAWA, Oct. 29.--It is understood that the winter service to Prince Edward Island will be performed this winter by the steamers Stanley and Minto, the boats which have been doing the work for some years. It was at one time thought the new steamer Lady Grey would be put on the route, but as she is particularly designed for the work of sweeping the St. Lawrence channel it is believed the ice work in Northumberland Strait will be better performed by the Minto.
