BOWLING, BASEBALL
THE RING, FOOTBALL'TEX' RICKARD
THE MAN WHO
DOES THINGSMan Who Landed Jeff-Johnson
Different from Ordinary Run of Fight Promoters --- Tip
Wright Discusses Him.

By Tip Wright.

There's that "Tex" Rickard? Sure, that's what they all want to know, ever since he slipped that one across on Tom McCarrey at the Hoboken and grabbed the Jim-Jack show. Well, "Tex" or G. L. Rickard, as he signs his checks, is as different from the average fight promoter as hamburger cheese is from a star of roses. You expect to meet a big, round, bulging-cheeked individual in clothes verging on the loud; one of those well fed men who meet in the evening and who sleep until the sun is high.

And you run into a clean cut, thin-lipped, deep-chested, straight-backed chap with black hair, and keen eyes, with those little wrinkles which life in the sun and air bring. He gives the impression of having lived in large places; prairie, mountain and camp stick out, and as he speaks, with the soft drawl of the Texan, you are reminded of the lines:

"Slow of speech, but quick of hand
And keen and true of eye—"

In the Saddle.

You'd know without being told that "Tex" Rickard has spent days in the saddle and on the range, that fatigues and rope are as familiar to him as the clink of money, and that he is the cool, plunging gambler he is reputed to be.

Rickard is a gambler of the sort Bret Harte loved to describe. He has been gambling all his life—not necessarily with cards, but with fate, and he has played the odds well, because he dared take chances at which less nervy men faltered.

Born in a small town in Texas, Rickard at an early age was drawing his $45 and kept as cool as a cucumber. He followed the long horns in the days when Texas cattle were considered the best. But he was a drifter, this boy who was to become the biggest fight in history, and he worked north through Wyoming and Montana until the call of the north lured him to Alaska. It was in Nome, "Tex" began to accumulate money and a reputation.

He was one of the first men in Goldfield when dividend-paying quartz was discovered in that Nevada camp and he became identified with the big mining interests.

The world first heard of "Tex" Rickard when he staged the Gans-Nelson fight, offering $30,000 to the winner. The gold camp brought a laugh at first, but Rickard counted $69,000 in the box office and the scotch ceased smiling.

Who Does Things. It is because Rickard is known in the country for what he comes as a man who does things, that the rest of the country accepts him as capable. That he will stage the Jim-Jack show in good order and in a manner that will do him credit, is a fact that everything is on the level, may be accepted on sight, for it was Rickard who warned Gans and Nelson that an attempt to fake their fight in Goldfield would be the signal for the swiftest exhibition of snail shooting since El Caney.

Who is not a sport follower, but he's a student of men, and he knows how and likes to do big things. So when he decided he wanted the big fight, he went after it in a manner that left no doubt of his intention.

It was when Jack Johnson saw Rickard's $10,000 bills on the table that the fight went to him. The other bidders talked big money, but Johnson showed the goods. This and the clause in his bid that gave the fighters control of the picture privilege, settled the game, and thereafter the other bidders didn't have a look in.

You might conclude from this that "Tex" Rickard is a shrewd gent, and I don't think anyone will blame you.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, Dec. 8.—The Teachers' Institute, which meets at the Broadway school building on Thursday and Friday, of next week, promises to be one of the best ever held in this country. It will be attended by teachers from both Carleton and Victoria counties, and no pains have been spared to make the programme interesting.

The first session on Thursday morning will be held with addresses from President I. Draper, Inspector F. B. Meagher and others. In the afternoon Miss Beattie Frazer of Grand Falls will read a paper on "The Influence of Environment on the Pupils" and Rev. Thomas Hunter Boyd of Waweg, Charlotte County, will deliver an address on tuberculosis.

On Friday morning Miss M. Burt of Jacksonville will give a paper on "How to Prepare the Preparation of Home Lessons." Principal L. H. Baldwin of Centreville will read a paper on "Discipline," and Principal H. V. Bridges of the Provincial Normal School will address the teachers on "The Problem of Attention in the School Room," and in the afternoon Principal C. D. Richards, B.A., of the Grammar School, will give a paper entitled "Methods in Teaching," a few criticisms.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock a public meeting will be held in the assembly room of the Broadway building to be addressed by Chief Supt. W. B. Carter, T. B. Kidner, director of manual training, and others. This will be the first visit of the new chief superintendent to this town.

Two more charges of fraud have been laid against Rev. Mr. Atlas, the Bulgarian missionary, now in Europe. In 1908, he was born in this city in 1846.

In The Sporting Limelight

TOM MCCAREY, WILLIE HOPPE AND EDDIE GRANEY.

Tom McCarrey and Ed Graney are disappointed fight promoters, having failed to land the big battle, owing to Tex Rickard's move. Willie Hoppe, probably the greatest billiard player the world has ever produced, has been barred from competition by the leading players, on the pretense that his demands are unjust. Willie wants to play somebody for $10,000 a side, 2500 points, 500 points a night, and the other fellows don't like the sound of it—perhaps because the boy wonder plays too stiff a game.

JEFF TO TRY FOR EARLY KNOCKOUT

New York, N. Y., Dec. 9.—"Jeffries isn't sure whether he can go ten rounds or not," said James W. Corbett yesterday. "So he will try to knock Johnson on the jaw in the first round. Jeff will not stall not even for an hour or six rounds, for he knows that the longer he fights the less chance he has of stopping this dangerous negro. But if Jeffries rushes in at the start he is going to take desperate chances because Johnson likes to fight that way and will look for an opening for that right hand uppercut. There is too much at stake for the men to agree to stop the fight after the first round. Suppose one of them double crossed the other? Then suppose they did fake and the newspapers published the fact, how would the pictures be worth? There's a whole lot of talk about the pictures, but in the end you'll find that they will not cut much of a figure. The fight will be on the level and I think about Jeffries. It tends to win as quickly as possible."

If, as Corbett says, Jeffries isn't sure whether he can go ten rounds or not it is self-evident that he has made a serious error in agreeing to fight any man before he meets Johnson. That appears more evident El Caney.

Who is not a sport follower, but he's a student of men, and he knows how and likes to do big things. So when he decided he wanted the big fight, he went after it in a manner that left no doubt of his intention. It was when Jack Johnson saw Rickard's $10,000 bills on the table that the fight went to him. The other bidders talked big money, but Johnson showed the goods. WHITE NAMED
FOR REFEREE OF BIG MILL

New York, N. Y., Dec. 9.—Tex Rickard wants Jeffries and Johnson to agree upon Eddie Graney for referee of the big fight and Graney coyly says he is not a candidate. Rickard a week ago said he favored an eastern man for this job, but there seems to be several new wheels within wheels in connection with the match. Just why Rickard is anxious to let Graney in somewhere is a puzzle except to those very few persons who say that Graney is one of the new board of supervisors in Frisco may be able to assist Gleason and Rickard in securing a license to hold the mill within the limits of the Earthquake City. A former pugilist is one of the supervisors and is Graney's friend, Gleason and Graney have been enemies for some time, so that it is the belief that unless Graney gets a license to referee he may be in a position to block any attempt to pitch the ring in San Francisco.

But Rickard and Gleason, if they are compelled to take care of Graney, would do well to find some task for him, it is believed Graney has not been in California in several years, and it is not highly regarded on the coast because of some queer decisions he rendered in the days of the old fight trust. The big fight has caused the fighters to get their money and it is not likely that they will be the climax. The fact that Big Tim Sullivan has consented to act as final stakeholder is a guarantee that the fighters will get their money and that as far as Sullivan is concerned there will be no hanky panky business, but Sullivan's friends said yesterday they were sorry he had consented to mix up in this affair.

Recognized Ability. If the fighters and the promoters are anxious to remove ground for suspicion that everything is not "up and up" it is argued that they must agree upon a man of recognized ability and integrity to act as referee. Such a man is Charles White of this city, who has refereed many big fights to the entire satisfaction of the principles and the sporting public and who has never been accused of unfairness or sharp practice. White is the best referee, all things considered, in the business. That is the opinion of sportsmen in a position to know. He is honest and fearless, and above all he enjoys the confidence of the thousands of ring followers who know his record as third man. White, it is argued, is the only man who has made a formal application for the position. He has never had business relations with either pugilist and is regarded by Jeffries with some favor. Johnson has not shown preference for anybody so far except to say that Jack Welch of Frisco gave satisfaction in the negro's battle with Ketchell. If the fight takes place in California it has been stated that a "native son" will have to be the referee, but per man is charging this assertion evidently overlooks the important fact that the referee will be selected by the pugilists if they can agree and that if an eastern man is selected by them he will serve in the capacity regardless of the prejudice in California against so-called outsiders.

With an honest referee in the ring a man who can tell the difference between a real fight and a fake and who has nerve enough to expose a frame-up if there is one, the Jeffries-Johnson affair may be regarded with a degree of confidence that is not in evidence just at present. But if "sure thing" men, gun fighters, muckers, crooked gamblers and green goods swindlers are going to have something to say about the referee and a man of their choice is agreed upon, it is predicted that pugilism will get a black eye from which it will never recover.

SALT LAKE CITY GETS BIG FIGHT

New York, N. Y., Dec. 9.—"The Jeffries-Johnson bout will be held in Salt Lake City and it will be no fake," was Tex Rickard's positive declaration to the local sports today. "I am sick of this fake talk," said Rickard. "And I will give anyone $5,000 if they will show me anything crooked in the arrangements. I knew the day before the bids were opened that Johnson would stand by me, and that Jeffries would stand with Jack Gleason so we got together and talked the matter over and came to an understanding. Corbett told Gleason to go ahead and come in with me."

That left Corbett out of the whole affair and I want the public to know that unless Gleason and Jeffries understand Gleason and Rickard, it is that if the bout should be held in California he was to get the permit and if it should be held in Salt Lake, where I am satisfied it will, or in Elly, Nev., I was to look after the permit.

"I will not have to fix any official in Salt Lake in order to put the bout off there. The bankers, brokers and business men of the city want me to hold it there and have given me all the assurance necessary that it will not be interfered with. The Salt Palace where the bout will be held, with some alterations, hold about 20,000 people."

Moncton, N. B., Dec. 9.—The hockey war which is raging fiercely in Upper Canada between the Canadian Association and the National League, and the fight for the services of players, has cast a shadow over Maritime Province hockey. Two local players, Chester Gregory, the crack center of the champion Victorias, and Rolfe Norman, left wing of the same team, have had offers from Upper Canada and it is possible that both these players will not be seen on Maritime ice this year. Any team of the Eastern League may have Gregory's services if they come up with eight hundred dollars, which the local player demands for the season's work. Gregory had a reputation in that part of the Dominion, and he was submitted to the assay office for a test. These are Chester Gregory and Rolfe Norman.

Who is the New York sporting man who urged Jeffries to punch Johnson in the jaw while they were in a local hotel signing the first set of articles, whose artists finished the job in artistic style, the negro in a rough and tumble, mixup with Bol Fitzsimmons when the latter was trying to get a second fight with Jeffries.

Accountants Win.

The Accountants showed some of their old-time form by defeating the Electrics and rolling up a score of 1320 on Blacks Alleys last evening. They defeated their rivals by over a hundred. The score of the Electrics was also good, but the Accountants when they are in good trim can show any of the fast teams a clean pair of heels. The veteran warhorse, Mr. E. Cowan, was at his best and averaged 94. The scores follow:

Tip Wright's favorites once again demonstrated their right to be picked as winners when the Typo Bowling League, Frisco, defeated the Sun snowed under The Sun aggregation on the Victoria bowling alleys yesterday afternoon, taking all four points from the Canterbury street pin pickers. This places The Standard in the lead, and it would seem as though our friend "Tip" had certainly hit upon the right team.

THE BANK OF ENGLAND HAS LOWERED RATE

London, Dec. 9.—The governors of the Bank of England today reduced the minimum rate of discount from 5 to 4 1/2 per cent.

The governors apparently had some difficulty in reaching a decision as the meeting was longer than usual. That the bank maintained the five per cent. rate for some weeks against the open market rate of four per cent. or lower was attributed to a desire to ascertain the full effect of the political crisis, but no material change followed the throwing out of the budget so the directors concluded that the reserve, which is higher today than a year ago, when the rate was only 2 1/2 per cent., is sufficiently strong to justify them in relieving trade of the abnormal rate instituted to attract gold here after the depletion of the reserve last October.

The change in the rate had little effect on the stock exchange. The consols were steady, but the rate was declined 3/16 later.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following:—Total assets increased, £230,000; circulation decreased, £21,000; bullion decreased, £281,213; other securities decreased, £247,000; deposits decreased, £2,040,000; public deposits increased, £1,822,000; notes reserve increased, £2,288,000; government securities unchanged. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 67.1 per cent. last week it was 56 per cent.
