ERUPTION OF MOUNT ETNA ALARMS SICILY

Present Disturbance Sequel Of The Serious Outbreak In April Of Last Year—Villages In Danger.

PROMPT MEASURES TAKEN FOR RELIEF

Catania, Sicily, March 25.—Etna still is angry. From the top of the old crater, volumes of white smoke are issuing tonight; while from the new craters which have formed, lava is gushing and large incandescent masses are exploding with loud detonations and emissions of black smoke.

From Catania and along the entire railway surrounding Etna, thousands of persons are watching the volcano, following with telescopes the progress of the eruption.

The eruption of Etna, which began in the early part of the afternoon, so that the members will be able to leave for their homes in the afternoon and evening trains.

It was also shown that there had been other manifestations from the volcano on unusual charges.

The Contingents Committee will have their final meeting tomorrow morning.

The legislation of the session has been fairly heavy and it has been a busy session that will have beneficial results on the future of the province.

My post is now there.

Frank A. Perret, of Brooklyn, New York, who is attached to the Royal Observatory at Mount Vesuvius, arrived here today and proceeded immediately to the scene of the eruption.

It has now been ascertained that the opening from which the lava is issuing is about 200 feet wide.

The progress down the mountain side, now averages 15 feet every seven minutes.

Late today it was considered most probable that the streams would pass between Borrelle and Nicolosi, without touching them.

The people are pleading for assistance, especially for carts in which to move their household effects from the volcanic region.

Mr. Perret arrived at Nicolosi this evening and immediately sent this telegram to Catania:

"The lava eruption continues with unabated violence. The craters are constantly throwing out liquid fire and rock to a height of 20 metres. It is a most magnificent, though terrifying spectacle."

"The lava has flowed ten kilometres (about seven miles) in two days. The lower end of the stream is two hundred metres broad and five metres high. The stream is advancing 60 metres an hour, destroying vineyards and houses."

"Enormous damage to property has been done. The Alpine Club's refuge has been destroyed."

"The lava will reach and partly destroy Borrelle and Nicolosi within three days if present conditions continue. Nicolosi is not in danger. There is now little smoke from the eruption. The central crater is inactive, but there are prolonged rumblings within it. The explosions from the side craters are very terrifying."

"I hope soon to visit the mouths which have not as yet been visited by anyone. The entire patch of the ascent of the volcano is covered with burning lava. In some places it is shallow and others deep. It is 600 metres broad."

"The final result of the eruption cannot be predicted, all depending upon the duration of the phenomenon. The latest observations show a slight reduction in the intensity of the eruption."

Chicago, Ill., March 25.—Twenty trinkets including an engagement ring. In the meantime the wind was acting as an incendiary throughout the district.

At the time the fire in the Adams house was discovered the house was empty. The origin of the fire tonight is still a mystery.

Simon Fish, a member of the furniture company, declares the firemen were slow in responding to the alarm and tardy in raising ladders to the upper stories.

Fire Marshal Horan says his men responded without the loss of a second man. He believes Mr. Fish will draw his charges after becoming calmer.

Search in the wreckage for the remains of bodies of those who lost their lives in the fire was discontinued in the afternoon owing to danger from tottering walls.

Sixteen Latest Estimates. While earlier estimates placed the number of victims trapped on the fourth and fifth floors of the building at 20, later and more complete investigations indicate there were but sixteen.

The search was abandoned for the day on the report of Chief Building Inspector Short that three of the walls were in a dangerous condition.
